Last Sunday, MHS resumed its radio programs on station KYCZ. Each year the station allots 15 minutes weekly to the Medford public schools.

The 1961 Scholastic-Ansoco photography contest for junior and senior high school students has been announced by its joint sponsors, Scholastic Magazine and Ansoco.

All students in junior and senior high schools may enter. The competition has three divisions with a total of 15 classifications in both black and white and color photography.

Cash prizes will be awarded in each classification. Those seeking more information may inquire of the Shutterbug club at MHS or write to Scholastic-Ansoco Photography Awards, 33 West 42nd st., New York 36, N. Y.

Again this year the Medford growth study tests are being held in the boys' gym of Medford High.

Supervisors for the tests come from Southern Oregon college and Oregon State college. The tests are administered within two months of each youth's birthday.

According to Lee Ragsdale, Medford physical education supervisor, the Medford growth study test is the only one of its kind in the country.

These tests will determine if inter-school athletics and other programs affect the physical and social growth of the youth.

Last Tuesday and Wednesday, the California Maturity exams were given to all juniors at MHS and to all seniors who had not previously taken them.

For the past two weeks, the senior graduation list has been posted in the main hall. Seniors were to check the list and see that their name was spelled correctly because the names for diplomas will be taken from this list.
