

They'll Do It Every Time

ABSOLUTELY ACCURATE. BUT WHICH ONE? NONE OF 'EM AGREE... THANK AND TIP OF THE HAT TO HANFORD WESLEY, 125 W. DOTY, MADISON, WIS.

16 High School Seniors Receive Merit Letters

Sixteen Medford High school seniors will receive letters of commendation for their outstanding performance on the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying test, which was given last spring. They are Ann E. Barker, Margaret A. Childers, Stan L. Dowson, Carol L. Lynch, Jerry E. Gastineau, Carlos D. Hiser, Donna L. Hussong, Dale W. Peterson, Michael V. Phillips, Marilyn L. Shepero, Judith L. Sims, Dayle Ann Stratton, Suzanna M. Thompson, Jack L. Winchester, Kenneth R. Wise and John K. James.

Letters of commendation will be signed by Lester Harris, Medford High school principal, and John M. Stalnaker, president of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation.

The students were singled out for their records on the qualifying tests, Stalnaker said. Such letters went to about 28,000 students in the country.

Students who reached the semi-finalist stage, and those who were commended constitute less than 3 per cent of all high school seniors. Commended students and semifinalists who do not win Merit Scholarships are considered for certain other scholarships offered through the facilities of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation, Stalnaker said. Awards are made from resources of the corporation, and through sponsoring corporations, foundations, associations and individuals.

Medford City Council Fill Dirt Sale Causes Some Controversy Among Officials

(Continued from Page 1)

The only one of the three matters on last night's council agenda that caused any controversy was the sale of fill dirt from a site near the airport. It was finally approved by the council by a 6 to 2 vote with Councilman Ed Hall and R. L. Van Sickle voting against it.

Under the agreement the city would permit the state to take a maximum of 300,000 cubic yards of fill dirt from city land along Bullock rd. near the airport. In turn the state would pay the city $15,000, or five cents per cubic yard, and level the area when excavation is completed.

Several members of the chamber of commerce, headed by Chet Hubbard, chairman of the chamber's highway committee, were at the meeting to urge the council to approve the agreement.

Stan Jones, Medford lawyer and ex-city councilman, spoke in opposition. He said the five cents per cubic yard of dirt that the state will pay the city is not enough.

This same dirt, he contended, would sell for from 15 to 20 cents per yard in the spring when there is a demand for it. "Whether or not the council sells them (the state) a gravel pit in a multi-million dollar project will make no difference," he said. Jones added that the highway would be built on schedule with or without the gravel pit.

He also contended that the land has some value as a park site or as a subdivision site. The possibility that the land might have value as a park site had prompted several councilmen at a meeting two weeks ago to vote to further study the matter.

It was pointed out at that meeting that use of the area as a "barrow-pit" will require the removal of from 70 to 100 trees, mostly oak trees. The site had also been designated by the city's planning commission as a potential park site.

Employment Need Cited Bert Thierolf, representing the chamber, said that with the completion of the Talent project and curtailment of the lumber industry, there is a need for additional sources of employment in the area.

Thierolf said the freeway construction would provide these jobs and added "if there was ever a time in the history of the community that we should do something to lift up employment in the community - now is the time."

Frank Bash, also representing the chamber, said several new industries that would like to locate here are waiting for construction of the freeway. Chamber President Gerald T. Latham added that "the benefits we could derive would far outweigh the differences be-

Pulitzer Prize Winner Succumbs

San Antonio, Tex. — (UPI)—Harold Lenoir Davis, 63-year-old Oregon-born author who won the Pulitzer prize with his first novel, died Monday of a heart attack.

Davis won the Pulitzer Prize in 1936 for his novel "Honey in the Horn," about the Pacific Northwest frontier.

Davis was born in Yoncalita, in northern Douglas county, Ore., on Oct. 18, 1896. His father, James and his mother, the former Ruth Bridges, both came from pioneer families who had settled there.

Davis spent much of his early life in The Dalles area, where his father was a school teacher and lived many years near the town of Antelope.

Portland — (UPI)—The campaign chairman of Democratic senatorial candidate Maurine Neuberger said Monday that Mrs. Neuberger's political campaign has been one of the lowest in cost of any recent Oregon election.

Allan Hart made the statement in answer to a demand by representatives of Elmo Smith's Republican senatorial campaign committee that his rival open her campaign books to the public.

Hart, making public figures from a financial report filed two days ago with the secretary of the Senate in Washington, D. C., said expenditures on behalf of Mrs. Neuberger's election totaled $72,108.56.

He compared it to Republican senatorial campaign expenditures of $266,431 listed by the Douglas McKay committee in 1956 and $141,263 listed by the Guy Gordon committee in 1954.

Hart reported receipts of $78,669 including a balance of $8,209 left over from the May primary election campaign.

Smith earlier reported receipts of $61,347 in contributions.

A cerebral hemorrhage felled the veteran financial warrior five days short of his 87th birthday and ended 18 months' convalescence after surgery for a malignant tumor.

Avery, son of a wealthy Saginaw, Mich., lumberman, took over the depression-rocked mail order house in 1936 and defended his conservative policies against wartime government seizure in 1944 and later beat financier Louis Wolfson in a bitter proxy battle shortly before he gave up absolute control of the firm in 1955.

Avery remained a director of the nation's second largest mail order house until last year. A former president of U.S. Gypsum before assuming control of Montgomery Ward, Avery was reported to be a multimillionaire.

Mrs. Neuberger's Costs Said Low

Portland — (UPI)—The campaign chairman of Democratic senatorial candidate Maurine Neuberger said Monday that Mrs. Neuberger's political campaign has been one of the lowest in cost of any recent Oregon election.

Allan Hart made the statement in answer to a demand by representatives of Elmo Smith's Republican senatorial campaign committee that his rival open her campaign books to the public.

Hart, making public figures from a financial report filed two days ago with the secretary of the Senate in Washington, D. C., said expenditures on behalf of Mrs. Neuberger's election totaled $72,108.56.

He compared it to Republican senatorial campaign expenditures of $266,431 listed by the Douglas McKay committee in 1956 and $141,263 listed by the Guy Gordon committee in 1954.

Hart reported receipts of $78,669 including a balance of $8,209 left over from the May primary election campaign.

Smith earlier reported receipts of $61,347 in contributions.

A cerebral hemorrhage felled the veteran financial warrior five days short of his 87th birthday and ended 18 months' convalescence after surgery for a malignant tumor.

Avery, son of a wealthy Saginaw, Mich., lumberman, took over the depression-rocked mail order house in 1936 and defended his conservative policies against wartime government seizure in 1944 and later beat financier Louis Wolfson in a bitter proxy battle shortly before he gave up absolute control of the firm in 1955.

Avery remained a director of the nation's second largest mail order house until last year. A former president of U.S. Gypsum before assuming control of Montgomery Ward, Avery was reported to be a multimillionaire.

Girl's Attacker Sought by Police Portland — (UPI)—A 13-year-old girl told police a gray-haired man abducted and raped her while she was trick-or-treating Monday night.

The girl who was hospitalized told officers the man accosted her and ordered her into a car. She said he told her he was a "police officer" and wanted to question her.

The girl said the man then drove her to another part of town and assaulted her.

Derailment Causes Damage at Portland

Portland — (UPI)—Two cars of a Spokane, Portland and Seattle Railway freight train careened off tracks here today causing considerable damage.

The cars struck a truck and a boxcar on a siding and dragged them nearly a block. Two power poles were snapped off.

No one was injured in the accident. Railroad officials said cause of the derailment was not immediately known.

Portland General Electric repair crews were summoned to the scene to disconnect hot wires.

A Chaney Produce Co. truck was hooked by the cars and shoved into the boxcar on the siding. Deep furrows were left in the asphalt paving by the wheels of the derailed cars.

Nixon Sees Foe's Program Leading To Higher Deficits

En Route With Nixon — (UPI)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon made his final campaign swing through Pennsylvania today charging Sen. John F. Kennedy with "never-never" economics leading to new taxes or staggering federal deficits.

Nixon campaigned in two Pennsylvania cities, Lancaster and Erie, before heading into upstate New York for late afternoon and evening meetings in Syracuse and Rochester.

Would Liberalize Law Before leaving Philadelphia this morning, the Republican candidate issued a statement calling for liberalization of the immigration laws, saying the Democratic-controlled Congress failed to act on urgent recommendation of President Eisenhower.

Nixon renewed his annual admission of 308,000 immigrants, double the present quota; pooling of national quotas to permit reassignment of unused quotas; abandonment of the 1920 census as the immigration quota base, and special attention to immigration of relatives of American citizens.

Attacks Spending Plans Nixon renewed his attack on the economic ideas and government spending plans of his Democratic opponent in remarks prepared for Lancaster.

"Of all Mr. Kennedy's never-never economic ideas," the vice president said, "none is more fuzzy than his claim that everything he proposes can be paid for by new revenues derived from expanding the economy and increasing efficiency in government, and not by new and heavier taxes or by deficit spending and inflation."

Cost Claim Repeated Nixon repeated his claim that Kennedy's programs would cost the taxpayers an additional $15 billion annually.

"The plain truth is that there are only two ways to pay for this huge spending program of his - new taxes or new and ever larger deficits," Nixon said. "I challenge him to say which it will be."

ent recommendation of President Eisenhower.

Nixon renewed his annual admission of 308,000 immigrants, double the present quota; pooling of national quotas to permit reassignment of unused quotas; abandonment of the 1920 census as the immigration quota base, and special attention to immigration of relatives of American citizens.

Attacks Spending Plans Nixon renewed his attack on the economic ideas and government spending plans of his Democratic opponent in remarks prepared for Lancaster.

"Of all Mr. Kennedy's never-never economic ideas," the vice president said, "none is more fuzzy than his claim that everything he proposes can be paid for by new revenues derived from expanding the economy and increasing efficiency in government, and not by new and heavier taxes or by deficit spending and inflation."

Cost Claim Repeated Nixon repeated his claim that Kennedy's programs would cost the taxpayers an additional $15 billion annually.

"The plain truth is that there are only two ways to pay for this huge spending program of his - new taxes or new and ever larger deficits," Nixon said. "I challenge him to say which it will be."

Quotes From the News

BY UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL Los Angeles—Defense Attorney Grant Cooper, as the jury deliberating the fate of Dr. R. Bernard Finch and Carole Tregoff passed the 40-hour mark without reaching a verdict: "If no decision is reached by midafternoon I'm going to request that the jury be polled."

Hollywood—Mrs. Florence Adland, 53, at the reception following her surprise marriage to William B. Rau, 31: "The cake is full of rum. It's wonderful!"

United Nations — Canadian Nobel Peace Prize-winner Lester B. Pearson, in calling for a committee of smaller nations to end the disarmament deadlock: "It would smoke out—for all the world to see—the real intentions of the great powers."

New York—Bruce L. Felkner, executive director of the Fair Campaign Practices Committee, on anti-Catholic literature in the current presidential campaign: "Some of the worst offenders are freethinkers, fundamentalist Protestants, some Jehovah's Witnesses, and certain unofficial Masonic groups."

"A little off the top." That's all it takes to build a savings account... trim a little off the top of each pay check. Then pay yourself first by saving those trimmings at our Insured Savings and Loan Association—where your money is safe and earns excellent returns.

CURRENT DIVIDEND RATE 4% PER ANNUM Investment Made by the 10th Earns From the First

FIRST FEDERAL Savings & Loan Assn. of Medford 29 North Ivy Street Robert F. Kyle, Manager

Best-of-all Gifts

Doll Wardrobe FOR DOLL 10"-20" TALL 9391

by Marian Martin

Give hours of fun! Delight a little mother with this baby-doll wardrobe. Includes dress, coat, hat, playsuit, pinafore, robe, nightie, slip, sacque, panties.

Printed Pattern 9391: For dolls 10, 12, 14, 16, 18, 20 inches. Yardages in pattern. Please state desired size. Send FIFTY CENTS (coins) for this pattern—add 10 cents for each pattern for first-class mailing. Send to Marian Martin, Medford Mail Tribune, Pattern Dept., 232 West 18th St., New York 11, N.Y. Print plainly NAME, ADDRESS with SIZE and STYLE NUMBER.

New! Send now for our 1960 Fall and Winter Pattern Catalog—every page in exciting color! Over 100 styles for all sizes, all occasions plus school... 35c.

Sewell Avery of Mail Firm Dies

Chicago — (UPI)—Sewell L. Avery, unyielding champion of conservative business management through 24 stormy years at the head of Montgomery Ward and Co., died Monday at 86.

A cerebral hemorrhage felled the veteran financial warrior five days short of his 87th birthday and ended 18 months' convalescence after surgery for a malignant tumor.

Avery, son of a wealthy Saginaw, Mich., lumberman, took over the depression-rocked mail order house in 1936 and defended his conservative policies against wartime government seizure in 1944 and later beat financier Louis Wolfson in a bitter proxy battle shortly before he gave up absolute control of the firm in 1955.

Avery remained a director of the nation's second largest mail order house until last year. A former president of U.S. Gypsum before assuming control of Montgomery Ward, Avery was reported to be a multimillionaire.

Girl's Attacker Sought by Police

Portland — (UPI)—A 13-year-old girl told police a gray-haired man abducted and raped her while she was trick-or-treating Monday night.

The girl who was hospitalized told officers the man accosted her and ordered her into a car. She said he told her he was a "police officer" and wanted to question her.

The girl said the man then drove her to another part of town and assaulted her.

VOTE! As a Good Citizen it is your responsibility to cast your ballot. Your vote counts — single votes have won elections. Maintain your heritage! Your Park & Shop member merchants say vote Tuesday, Nov. 8. But remember to use Park & Shop throughout the year!

TRY FOR TWO! TWO appliances most wanted by every modern homemaker... absolutely free! Last month, Cal/Ore Electrical League dealers offered you a chance to win an automatic ELECTRIC CLOTHES DRYER simply by visiting the store of any cooperating dealer and signing your name... Now, the same simple procedure will make you eligible to win another modern electric servant -- an ELECTRIC DISHWASHER absolutely free! VISIT ONE OF THE COOPERATING LEAGUE DEALERS LISTED HERE AND GET COMPLETE DETAILS...

Funeral Questions We Are Often Asked PRESENTED FOR YOUR ENLIGHTENMENT BY MEMORY GARDENS FUNERAL HOME "The Chapel of Memories" 1395 Arnold Lane SP 3-7338