Polls Reveal Big Trend Toward Fresh Cranberries

Cranberries are back and everybody's got them. And at the lowest prices ever noted by this reporter. That's because nature went to work in the interests of cranberry growers; rolled up a majority of sunshine and rain; grew berries bigger and better.

West coasters have been growing and eating cranberries ever since Lewis and Clark thoughtfully transplanted them to the marshy coastal regions of our Pacific Northwest.

We pictured our vote-getting fresh cranberry and raisin cake and give recipe elsewhere in our columns today. Here are other ways with these red, ripe, fresh, dark beauties.

Cranberry sauce and cranberry jelly are such old standbys that we're not even going to mention them. Cranberries are prize winners as an ingredient for turkey stuffings. They make a distinctive cocktail when juiced and spiced with cloves and cinnamon.

They give zest to a meal in relishes, ices, fruit salads, fruit molds and in many combinations with apples, oranges and other fruits. Fresh cranberry nut bread is highly regarded. They go into pies, puddings, tarts; combine with apple in a cobbler.

Relish Repeat

We remind you of the all-time popularity of this recipe for Cranberry Relish:

Recipe requires only one pound of fresh cranberries, one orange and one cup of sugar. Quarter the orange and take out the seeds but use both pulp and skin. Grind the raw berries and orange peel; add the sugar, mix and place in covered jar in refrigerator. This will keep for two or three weeks but it is unthinkable that it won't be consumed long before that.

Spiced Tomato Bouillon

This spiced tomato bouillon is a zesty refresher as snack or mealtime first course. Serve with saltines or other favored crackers.

Dissolve two beef bouillon cubes in two cups boiling water; stir in one cup tomato juice and dash of ground cloves. Heat to boiling point; serve with lemon slices for garnish.

Vote-Getters Friend: Tuna and Corn Soup

Here's a tuna and corn soup recipe to have ready and waiting for a slight simmer while you finish up your precinct work or to have at hand for late voters or election return watchers. Eight servings.

- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 1 cup chopped onions
- 1¼ cups chopped celery
- 4 cups tomato juice
- 2 cups stock or bouillon
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ¼ teaspoon pepper
- 2 teaspoons sugar
- 1 teaspoon basil
- 1 10 ounce package frozen whole kernel corn
- 2 7-ounce cans tuna

Melt butter or margarine. Add onions and celery and cook over low heat, 10 minutes. Add tomato juice, stock or bouillon, salt, pepper, sugar, basil and corn; mix. Cover and cook over medium heat 20 minutes, stirring occasionally. Add tuna and return to simmer..

Dairy Sour Cream Tops Lamp Chops

Put this combination of broiled lamb chops with dairy sour cream sauce on your mealtime ballot for enjoying now, repeating later. There's plenty of lamb, plenty of dairy sour cream; both enjoy tremendous popularity; make a fine twosome. Six servings.

- 6 lamb loin chops, cut 1-inch thick
- Salt and pepper
- ½ pint dairy sour cream
- ⅓ cup chopped parsley
- 2 tablespoons chopped chives
- 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
- Salt and pepper to taste

Sprinkle lamb with salt and pepper. Broil lamb three to four inches from source of heat, five to seven minutes on each side or to desired degree of doneness.

Meanwhile, combine remaining ingredients; cook over low heat, stirring constantly–not more than three minutes. Serve sauce with lamb chops. A spot of curry if family likes curry.

Go-Togethers for Election Day Blues or Rejoicing

As "Returns" Indicate

Chances are that more people will drink more coffee, more tea and other beverages during the next few days and nights than at any other time throughout the year. So put in plentiful supplies of both along with other favored beverages of family and friends–and some carbonated beverages for the children and teenagers.

Instant coffee is a good buy and a great convenience when you're likely to be stirring it up any time of day or night. It can be made in the cup if you're grabbing a fast one, but actually is far superior when made in quantity in a pot.

Remember to have plenty of coffee cream for coffee drinkers, lemons for tea drinkers. Patriotic designs and appropriate red, white and blue paper napkins are readily available at stationers. Make a fancy desert or two or three or buy coffee cakes, cupcakes, petit fours, assorted cakes or cookies. Thin slices of fruit cake served with cheese cut in party motifs, elephants and donkeys, are a good idea.

Best Buys

Meat. Good supplies of lamb at reasonable prices. Stock up now on lamb if you have a home freezer. Bargains in stewing beef and pot roasting cuts as well as in minute steaks and hamburger. Veal is at its best and a trifle lower in cost. Ham, bacon, sausage and processed meat are good pork buys.

Fish and Shellfish. Vary menus. Take good look at local displays of fish and shellfish. They reveal Dungeness crabs, fish sticks, flounder, halibut, rockfish, salmon, scallops and shrimp with more varieties over in the frozen and canned foods sections.

Vegetables, Fruit. Abundance of broccoli, green cabbage, carrots, cauliflower, celery, corn, cucumbers, onions, eggplant, peppers, winter squash varieties, tomatoes, sweet potatoes. Fruit displays offer fine apple variety, bananas, cranberries, grapes, pears, some melons, persimmons, pomegranates.

Frohnmayer Named To U of O Fund

Eugene-Otto Frhonmayer, Medford attorney and University of Oregon alumni, has been named second vice president of the University development fund.

Both the reorganization of the fund and election of officers took place here at the recent Homecoming celebrations. President of the Fund is Donald Slocum, Eugene orthopedist.

The reorganizing of the fund, a non-profit corporation organized by alumni and friends of the university for the purpose of chaneling gifts to the school, is the result of a study made by nation-wide experts in the field.

Reconstitution of the fund's board of directors was suggested to incorporate on it all constituents, such as faculty, students, alumni, and non-alumni.
