

VOLUNTEERS—Members of the Medford 50-Plus club are shown above as they stuffed and sealed envelopes recently for the forthcoming Tuberculosis and Health association Christmas seal campaign that will start Nov. 14. Helping them, and overseeing the operation at the Senior Activity

Center is Mrs. Charles Kyer, executive secretary of the association. About 25 members of the 50-Plus club volunteered their services, handling about 75 per cent of the 7,000 envelopes that will be sent out. The job entailed five mornings' work.

Opposition Asked To United Arab's Bid for UN Seat

Washington — (UPI) — Four Republican senators said they have asked the state department to oppose the United Arab Republic's bid for a seat on the United Nations Security Council.

The request was made in a letter to Secretary of State Christian A. Herter by Senators Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, Clifford P. Case of New Jersey, and Jacob K. Javits and Kenneth B. Keating of New York.

Power Grab Charged
The four said U.A.R. President Gamal Abdel Nasser is attempting a "power-grab" in the Middle East and Africa with the aid of his Communist allies.

Nasser, the Senators said, "has persisted in the Suez blockade and in boycotting Israel in violation of the United Nations' decisions, international conventions and the pledged word of the U.A.R. itself."

The four noted that the U.S. government has opposed "Nasser's tactics" in the past and they asked Herter to oppose a council seat for the U.A.R. so that other nations "are made fully aware of the intensity of feeling in the United States against President Nasser's illegal actions so dangerous to peace and international order."

Stand Made Known
Such action, the Senators said, would deprive the U.A.R. of "power and prestige that it has no moral right to receive . . ."

The four Senators had written Herter separately in September. The joint letter followed a reply by the Secretary of State in which he said the United States had made known "its opposition to the policies and practices" of the U.A.R. on numerous occasions.

Kennedy Has Close Squeak in Hawaii

Honolulu — (UPI) — Sen. John F. Kennedy came from behind in the final precinct today to defeat Vice President Richard M. Nixon by 102 votes and claim Hawaii's three electoral votes.

The final unofficial count in Hawaii's 240 precincts gave Kennedy 92,193 votes to 92,091 for Nixon. The vice president held the lead throughout the counting, and had a 98 vote margin going into the final precinct.

The people of the newest state in the union were voting in their first presidential election, and made it one of the closest in U.S. history.

Wall Street Chatter

New York — (UPI) — Edmund W. Tabell of Wall & Co. believes that while the election outcome may have some short term repercussions in the stock market, results over the longer term will have no great effect no matter who is elected.

Other influences and forces over the next four years will be of far greater importance than the result of the election, Tabell says.

Standard & Poor's Corp. calls Mead Johnson a "stock for action." Based on the current high rate of earnings, S & P estimates that profits in 1961 will exceed $12 a share. Coupled with a strong likelihood of a stock split and higher dividends, the stock is believed to be under-valued, the advisory service says.

Capital Gains Research Bureau reports that Fundamental Investors, Inc., made brand new holdings in AMF, Brunswick, General Foods, Gimbel's, W.T. Grant and Woolworth during the September quarter. The fund eliminated Lily-Tulip Cup and National Steel.

Walter Mintz of Shearson, Hammill & Co., says that at least so far as the near term is concerned, the outlook for producers of capital goods other than farm machinery, construction machinery and vending machines will continue to be cloudy no matter who wins the election, and the same applies to most of the companies dependent on the rate of auto production.

Regardless of the outcome of the election, Spear & Staff, Inc., believes the Dow-Jones industrial stock average, for the rest of the year, will hold above its recent lows and that a breakthrough of the 600 level is probable.

UN Troops Killed In Katanga Ambush

Elisabethville, Katanga, The Congo — (UPI) — Four Irish soldiers with the United Nations command were killed in a rebel ambush in northeast Katanga Province and seven others are missing, a U.N. spokesman announced today.

The spokesman said the 11-man patrol was ambushed Tuesday night near Niemba where they were patrolling in two vehicles.

Niemba, about 400 miles northeast of Elisabethville, is on the river of the same name and on the railway line from Kabalo to Albertville.

The bodies of four Irish soldiers were found this morning and there was no trace of the seven other Irish soldiers and the two vehicles, the spokesman said.
