

Oregon Cow Belles Elect Officers; Luncheon Held

Mrs. Lee Williams, Canyon City, Ore., was elected president of Oregon Cow Belles at a business meeting of the group yesterday afternoon at the Jackson county courthouse. She succeeds Miss Berniz Blann, Mitchell, Ore.

Mrs. Ewing Hind, Hermiston, Ore., was named first vice president and Mrs. Earl Smith, Mitchell, Mrs. Cameron Cliff, Burns and Mrs. John Richardson, Madras, were elected second vice presidents. Mrs. Lawrence Mascall, Dayville, is the new secretary-treasurer.

Committee and officers' reports were heard yesterday morning, and a luncheon and style show were held at Rogue Valley Country club during the early afternoon. Introduced during the luncheon were Mrs. Robert Field, Central Point, president of Jackson County Cow Belles, and members of her convention committee. Mrs. John Bohner was mistress of ceremonies.

Guests at the luncheon were Virgil Piquet, Long Creek, Ore., the Oregon Cow Belles 1960 Father of the Year, and Mrs. Piquet. The Piquets have four sons, V. John Piquet, and triplets, David, Tebeau and Allen, 16 years of age.

Judge Tippetts, Enterprise, thanked the Cow Belles for the support which the organization gives to the Oregon Cattleman's association.

The style show was staged by Jean Hart's store, under the direction of Mrs. Carl Wimberly Jr. Modeling were Mrs. Lester Adams, Applegate; Mrs. John Reid, Lake Creek; Mrs. C. H. Buffington, Mrs. Frank Preston, Mrs. John S. Day, Medford, and Mrs. Edward Bolt, Gold Hill.

The Cow Belles will attend a banquet tonight at the Armory given by the Cattleman's association, and Saturday morning a meeting of the General council will be held at the Medford hotel. This is made up of the presidents of 16 county and regional groups.

Educators To Meet

An open meeting of the Southern Oregon Association for Kindergarten and Nursery Education will be held at the Rogue River Community Kindergarten Monday evening, November 14, at 7:30 p.m.

Dr. Leon Mulling, director of the Speech and Hearing center at Southern Oregon college, will speak on the topic, "What every parent and teacher should know about speech problems." At the conclusion of the address, he will be moderator of a panel that will include Mrs. Eva Lorenzen, supervisor of the kindergarten at Southern Oregon college, and Mrs. Gladys Durrand, elementary supervisor of the Medford City schools.

Teachers of nursery schools and kindergartens in Southern Oregon, parents, educators and others interested in kindergarten or pre-school education are invited to attend. The coffee hour will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Among this latter group you'll have to count Mrs. Martha Shapp, a woman who has spent 25 years in child education and has written several books for children.

"The youngsters are reading more than ever before," said Mrs. Shapp in an interview. "But I'm not sure they are reading all the same things we did."

Mrs. Shapp, mother of two teenagers, said that many of today's parents and teachers fret that the children aren't absorbing the classics THEY grew up on.

"I don't think this is what matters so much," said Mrs. Shapp. "I do think the thing that counts is having the books available for the children and letting them choose what they want."

"After all, times keep changing. I for one never had a horror of children reading the comics or what's on the label of the ketchup bottle."

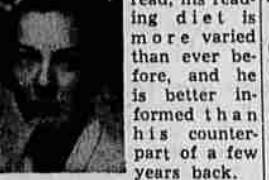

Mrs. Shapp, who is editor of the children's encyclopedia, "The Book of Knowledge," made her observations on the eve of the annual National Children's Book Week, Nov. 13-19.

To parents worried about the children's hours in front of a television set, she would say, don't worry. Television is one of the media which broadens their knowledge. But make sure there are plenty of books in reach so that a child has "a chance to learn the pure joy of reading."

Johnny Can Read, Says Author

By GAY PAULEY

New York - (UPI) - Some educators charge that Johnny can't read. Others reply that Johnny can read, his reading diet is more varied than ever before, and he is better informed than his counterparts of a few years back.

Among this latter group you'll have to count Mrs. Martha Shapp, a woman who has spent 25 years in child education and has written several books for children.

"The youngsters are reading more than ever before," said Mrs. Shapp in an interview. "But I'm not sure they are reading all the same things we did."

Ottoman, the heavy ribbed silk, made a comeback in both New York and Paris fall and winter fashion collections.

Paris designers loved the knitted look for fall and winter. The house of Christian Dior showed hand-knit sleeves on wool suits. Turtleneck collars looked like knits but actually were the result of a shirring process of the fabric itself. One short coat in mink came with wool knit sleeves - perfect for the woman who already possesses all sorts of mink coats.

The trousered look for daytime is moving into nightwear also. Several lingerie manufacturers included divided skirts, dress length, in nylon tricot sleepwear.

Fashion long has decked women in the cocktail dress. Now it is giving men the cocktail suit. An Italian manufacturer, Petrocchi, said the suit can "effectively carry a man through the business day and into the evening."

The suits, called "just this side of black tie," are made in black, gray and olive, worsted or mohair, in both single and double-breasted styles. Edges are finished with narrow braid.

Mrs. Kennedy Breezes Through News Conference

By PAT HERMAN
United Press International

Hyannis Port, Mass. - (UPI) - Mrs. John F. Kennedy, youthful, chic and sophisticated, may have a high society facade, but behind it there must be a strong streak of American pioneer hardness.

In the space of not much more than a month, she faces the prospect of having a baby and moving into the White House as first lady of the land. Along with these rather formidable problems, she breezed over another hurdle that always confronts the wife of a president-elect, the news conference.

Because of the many chores connected with the forthcoming birth of her second child and the inauguration of her husband, President-elect John F. Kennedy, she decided to stop off in Washington today instead of accompanying him southward for a Florida vacation. She told about her plans Thursday at the news conference here, where most persons present agreed that she handled herself superbly.

Mrs. Kennedy, who at 31 will be one of the youngest first ladies in history, handled a half an hour of free wheeling questions with humor and wit.

She made it clear that her primary consideration was to care for Jack "so that he would be a good president." She said that she was sure that he would be "magnificent."

At this point she sounded like any pretty but poised young woman deeply in love, rather than a first lady.

"A wife's happiness comes if her husband is happy," she said.

Mrs. Loj Utterback, Fresno, Calif., will sing the second soprano solo part in Rossini's "Stabat Mater" to be presented by the Philharmonic Society of Southern Oregon November 13, Sunday, at Medford High school auditorium. Mrs. Utterback will sing a cavatina solo, and also in a duet and a quartet. She has had extensive experience in solo work, appearing in opera, oratorio and symphony concerts in California. Mrs. Utterback has also been engaged to sing in the production of "Hansel and Gretel" which the Philharmonic will produce later this winter. (Takahashi photo)

Potluck Dinner Held in Tiller

Tiller - A potluck dinner held recently at the South Umpqua Community church was well attended. After dinner in the parsonage, the group moved into the church for a song-fest.

A trio was composed of Frances Stone, Frances Newman, and Sandra Izler, and a duet number was sung by Mrs. Earl Tibbets and Mrs. George Stone.

Masons to Hold Unusual Event

The super excellent master degree will be conferred Saturday, Nov. 12, at 8 p.m. in the Medford Masonic temple by Table Rock council, Royal and Select Masters.

This degree has not been conferred in Medford since 1955, as it requires an exceptionally large cast which is difficult to assemble.

The degree consists of three scenes of ancient Jewish history, with many characters. Directing the cast will be Most Illustrious Vernon Turpin, past grand illustrious master of the Royal and Select Masters in Oregon. He will be assisted by Most Illustrious Elton Waldron, another past grand illustrious master in Oregon; Carl Oestreich and Charles Gould, past illustrious masters.

Excellent Companion Aubrey Norris, a past high priest of Crater Lake chapter, Royal Arch Masons, will take charge of make-up of characters.

About 55 members of Table Rock council have not received this degree, and a large class is anticipated. All sojourning Companions are welcome to attend, as well as members of Table Rock council.

Council Elects Medford Man; Dinner Planned

F. Ronald Warner, 796 Ellen avenue, is the newly elected president of Oregon Council of the Blind. The young man, president of Jackson Council of the Blind, is now in San Lorenzo, Calif., where he is working as a student teacher under a blind teacher employed in the San Lorenzo public school system.

Mr. Warner, partially sighted, has been a student at Southern Oregon college. He makes his home with his mother, Mrs. Fred Warner.

Election of the Medford man to the state office took place during the recent state convention held in Portland.

Jackson council plans the annual Thanksgiving dinner Sunday, November 13 in the Red Cross chapter house, Hawthorne street. Members may invite a friend, and are asked to take their own table service, including cup and plate.

Guests will include Past President Harold Baxter, Roseburg, and Mrs. Frank Christian, Talent, president of the Oregon Lions auxiliary. The Lions and auxiliary members in Oregon have aid to the blind as their main project.

Altar Society To Hold Show

Yreka - St. Joseph Altar society of Yreka plans a fashion show in the St. Joseph Parish hall November 12 at 8 p.m. It is to be called "Premier Fashion Show". Mrs. Gary DeRosa and Mrs. Albert Favero are co-chairman.

Fashions from the Style shop, Barklow's Dress shop, Sears, Montgomery Wards, J. C. Penney, Elsie's Infant and Children's Wear, and shoes from Handley's, will be modeled by Mrs. Albert Bryan, Mrs. James Biggane, Mrs. Gene Cunningham, Mr. J. W. Reese, Mrs. Bryan Boyce, Mrs. Louis Fasoletti, Mrs. Charles Burgess, Mrs. Lorraine MacKinnon, Mrs. Pat Gonzales, the Misses Jane Mathews, Judy Schoellerman, Terry Lynn Clayton and Carol Morgan, and Jerry Dunlap.

Background music will be furnished by Audrey Tyler and Mrs. Paul Reichman.

Narrator will be Mrs. George Wacker.

Taking part in the entertainment during the show will be Miss Mary Jo Lenz, Miss Jan Smith, Miss Peggy and Miss Betty See, Miss Ruth Wilson, Miss Veneta Schuck, Miss Barbara Stewart, Mrs. Maurice Dittner, Mrs. R. J. See, Miss Charlene Cordes, Miss Sally Thompson, and Miss Joyce Sanderson, pianist.

Refreshments will be served; tickets are now on sale by members.

Bethel Members To Attend Church

Miss Rebecca Ferrell, honored queen of Bethel 38, International Order of Job's Daughters, has announced that Sunday, November 13, will be "Go to Church Sunday". All members of the Bethel are expected to attend the 11 o'clock services at First Presbyterian church in Medford.

Fathers of the daughters are invited to attend with them.

Turkey Supper Planned by Club

Coming events were announced at the monthly business meeting of Hilltoppers Square Dance club held Monday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Cooper.

President Arthur Aas said plans were completed for a turkey supper and square dance on Saturday, November 19.

Theme of the dance will be Charlie Brown's "The Great Pumpkin".

Use sherry as the liquid next time you mash sweet potatoes or yams. Any of the sherries will do nicely - dry, medium or sweet - then add sugar to taste. Dashes of cinnamon and nutmeg are good, too, especially if you're serving the potatoes with ham or roast pork.

Duplicate Play Slated

Master point play of the American Contract Bridge league is scheduled for Saturday night, November 12, by Medford Duplicate club.

A special Thanksgiving dinner party also is on the club calendar. Reservations for the November 22 dinner should be made with the group's director or secretary.

North-south winners at the regular session November 8 were Jack Barr and Ray Wise, first, 95; Mrs. Barr and John Shortridge, second, 90 1/2; Roy Pruitt and Leland Clark, third, 90.

East-west winners were Mrs. Lloyd Johnson and John Solheim, first, 94; Mrs. Maude Coddling, Mrs. Jack Mitchell, Mrs. Richard Milestone and Mrs. C. L. Howard, tied for second and third, 92.

Make a duplicate measuring cup by marking a glass tumbler with nail polish.

Orientation Is Held For Speakers' Club

Medford Toastmistress club's meeting November 9 was preceded by a special orientation class for new members under the direction of Mrs. Roy Rolls, educational chairman. A series of these is planned for the benefit of new members.

Guests were Mrs. Hilton Griffiths and Mrs. Ray A. Garnier, Mrs. Richard L. Williams presided.

Mrs. William E. Acord opened the meeting with thoughts for meditation. The lexicologist was Miss Voda Brower. Mrs. Bernice Kunzman, educational speaker, gave a demonstration dealing with the stirring of words and phrases and poor enunciation. This lesson in which the entire club participated was entitled "Oral Gymnastics."

The topic mistress, Mrs. J. D. Brummond, requested several members to talk concerning the blessing for which she was thankful.

Toastmistress of the evening was Mrs. Ethel McIntyre. Mrs. Leland L. Ostrander gave her autobiography. Mrs. J. W. Ponge's speech was entitled, "Spark of Identity," which emphasized the importance of enthusiasm in developing personality. "Bear Facts" was the subject of a speech by Mrs. Elmer Ness which related incidents concerning bears, tourists, and rangers of Glacier National park and stressed the importance of refraining from feeding these wild animals.

The grammarian was Mrs. Roy Rolls, time Mrs. James L. Beams, speech evaluator Mrs. Amy True, and program evaluator Mrs. George Watson.

A meeting of Toastmistress Council 4 was announced for November 13 in the Sequin Club room at the Del Rogue hotel in Grants Pass. Registration starts at 10 a.m. Nine Medford Toastmistress club members expect to attend this council session which will last until mid-afternoon.

Pizza Porter

Now they've come up with a "pizza porter" to keep a pizza hot. It is an insulated carrying case of circular design large enough to accommodate pizza pies up to 18 inches in diameter. A zipper slightly more than half-way around the warmer makes the insertion or removal of pies easy. The case is of washable quilted plastic. It also can be used for carrying other hot foods - corn, baked potatoes, or hot rolls.

Apple butter looks prettier and tastes livelier when port is substituted for half the water in which the apples, sugar and spices are simmered. It's a good idea to use some of the fall apples this way for gift-giving later in the year.

Crepes filled with cheese and scrambled eggs can be served with chilled fruit and bacon for a special "company" breakfast.

Cheese Crepes Said Good Dish For Breakfast

A "company" breakfast of crepes filled with cheese scrambled eggs can be served with chilled mixed fruit, Canadian bacon and beverage for something special.

For the crepes, sift 1 1/2 cups flour with 1/2 teaspoon salt. Blend three eggs ad 1 1/2 cups milk and add to dry ingredients. Beat until smooth. Bake on lightly buttered 6 or 7-inch skillet, one at a time. As each crepe is baked on both sides, remove from skillet and stack in pile. Keep hot.

Fill crepes with cheese scrambled eggs made by combining 8 eggs, 1/2 cup milk (or half and half), 3/4 cup shredded sharp American cheese, 1 tablespoon finely chopped parsley, salt and pepper to taste. Melt 1 tablespoon butter in moderately hot skillet. Pour in egg mixture and reduce heat to low. When mixture starts to set on bottom and sides, lift cooked portions with a spatula, and turn gently until eggs are cooked, but still moist and glossy.

When crepes are filled, return to warm oven until serving time. Makes enough for four servings.

Kiwanian Dames To Meet Tuesday

Mrs. Curt Butterfield, 813 Minnesota avenue, will be hostess for a meeting of Kiwanian Dames Tuesday, November 15, at 12 o'clock noon.

On the luncheon committee are Mrs. Frank Benesch, Mrs. Thomas Anderson, Mrs. William Clark and Mrs. Anthony Manno.

Women Resume Coffee Parties

Eagle Point - Twenty-three women and 15 youngsters, many of them new to the community, attended the first fall coffee party Tuesday morning. Mrs. Robert Ticer was hostess for the event.

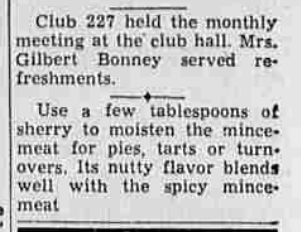

The next coffee will be held November 29 with Mrs. Edward Kimmel to be hostess at her home on the end of South B street.

Tiller-Sophomores of Days Creek school climaxed their freshman initiation with a party in the school auditorium. Freshmen winning prizes were Cheryl Whetzel, best actress; Dennis Lent, best actor; Gayla Gardner and Jerry DeWald, best "sports"; Jack Hughes and Bonnie McNeil, best costumes.

Club 227 held the monthly meeting at the club hall. Mrs. Gilbert Bonney served refreshments.

Use a few tablespoons of sherry to moisten the mince-meat for pies, tarts or turnovers. Its nutty flavor blends well with the spicy mince-meat.
