Mrs. Neuberger Named Delegate To NATO Talks

Portland - (UPI) - U. S. Sen. Maurine Neuberger has been appointed an American dele-gate to next week's North At-lantic Treaty organization par-liamentary conference meet-ing in Paris, France.

Mrs. Neuberger, elected Tuesday to the Senate seat once held by her late hus-band, will be accompanied by Vice President-elect Lyndon John-son who will attend as Presi-dent-elect John F. Kennedy's personal representative and as majority leader of the Sen-ate.

Mrs. Neuberger received a phone call from Johnson Thursday afternoon urging her to accept the invitation to be in the Senate dele-gation to the conference. Mrs. Neuberger was an official U. S. delegate last year to the Atlantic congress of NATO in London.

Sen. Neuberger said, "I am honored and pleased to accept the appointment as American delegate to this important con-ference of NATO nations in Paris. This conference is a direct outgrowth of last year's London conference which I was also privileged to attend as an American delegate. Rep-resentatives from each mem-ber nation of NATO will be present to discuss positive ef-forts to spread the philosophy of democracy in order to com-bat Communist ideology and strengthen free world alli-ances."

Pioneer Society Told of Need For Conservation

Jacksonville - Need for con-servation of natural and his-torical resources are impor-tant for the state and south-ern Oregon, Dr. E. C. McGill, assistant to the president of Southern Oregon college, told 45 members of the Southern Oregon Pioneer society Sat-urday noon in Jacksonville.

"I'm a strong believer in conservation," Dr. McGill told the descendants of southern Oregon pioneers in the Jack-sonville Masonic lodge. "I can see great possibilities in rec-reation development and the possibility of additional water power development."

"We need to preserve our heritage in every way we can. New ideas spring from care-fully preserved traditions," the educator said. "We should all cooperate in the continued development of the Jack-sonville museum. It has an im-portance and significance to al-l of us."

Spotted Alfalfa Aphids Observed Near Table Rock

Spotted alfalfa aphids have been observed in alfalfa stands in the Table Rock area, according to Gene Winters, county extension agent.

Specimens taken last week from that area have been verified by Bob Every, Ore-gon State college, extension entomologist, as the insect damaging alfalfa in the south-western states the past six years, Winters noted.

The spotted alfalfa aphid is pale yellow with six or more rows of black spots along its back and is about half the size of a match head. Adults and young aphids look alike except for size, although some of the adult females are winged.

Farmers To Receive ASC Ballots Soon

Ballots for election of agri-cultural stabilization and conservation service commu-nity and county committees for 1961 will be mailed to all farmers Nov. 21, Eugene P. Winters, chairman of the Jackson county ASC election board, has announced.

Petitions signed by 10 or more eligible voters favoring nominations of additional per-sons will be received by com-munity election board chair-men tomorrow.

The names of additional nominations will appear with the regular list of nominees submitted by the chairmen of individual community elec-tion boards, Winters said.

Ballots will be counted Dec. 6, and the elected chairmen from each of the seven com-munities will meet Dec. 20 to elect an ASC county com-tee.

The county election board, which is composed of mem-bers prescribed by law, selected committees in each of the seven communities, who in turn nominated 10 men from each community to be listed on a ballot for election to ASC community committees.

Farmers failing to receive a ballot may secure one at the county ASC office.

Lists of candidates sub-mitted by community chair-men are:

Ashland community, W. Bagley, Talent, acting chair-man; W. R. Bagley, John Bil-lings, Joe Dugan, Don Grimes, Richard Ireland, Delbert Johnson, Rodney Keating, Donald Nichols, Harry Pas-ckhe, and Paul Reneau.

Central Point community, Victor Birdseye, Medford, chairman; Donald oBhart, Homer Conger, Edwin Geb-hard, Lloyd Hammond, W. C. Higginbotham, Carl Hover, Homer Jeffries, Charles Tay-lor, Robert Wolff, and Everett Young.

Eagle Point Community, W. E. Davies, Eagle Point, chairman; Donald Ullman, Jack Caldwell, Dale Bigham, Frank Hopewell, Dick Cham-berlain, Lyle Greenwood, George Jess Jr., William Hub-bard, Robert Fisher and Garth Flint.
