The Ladies' auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Department of Oregon, will sponsor a dance in the Camp White theater Monday, November 21, from 8 to 10 p.m. Those wishing transportation may board a bus at the Trailway station at 7:30 p.m.

Music will be provided by the Musicians' Union of Medford. Refreshments will be served by auxiliary members.

Mrs. Frank C. Preston (at left), Medford, and Mrs. E. F. Bolt, Gold Hill, were among the women who modeled for a style show given by Jean Hart's shop for a luncheon of Oregon Cow Belles during the recent convention of the group in Medford. Mrs. Preston is pictured wearing a vivid red cotton brocade two-piece frock which was accented with pearls having a red stone clasp. Mrs. Bolt is modeling a blue silk brocade frock with which she wore a multiple strand necklace of blue stones. The event was held at Rogue Valley Country club.

Eastern Star Luncheon Is Large Event of Week

Seventy three members of the Order of the Eastern Star were present at the monthly luncheon and meeting of Reames Social club Wednesday, at the Medford Masonic Temple.

Members of the Oregon grand chapter present were Mrs. Jens Herman, Seaside, worthy grand matron; W. Morris Boughner, Medford, worthy grand patron; Mrs. William R. Hutcheson, Gates, grand Esther and Mrs. Boughner, grand Electa.

Also in attendance were Mrs. Hal McNair, Ashland, past worthy grand matron and present member of the Estar Committee of the grand chapter; Mrs. Mary Harsh, Central Point, member of the Estar committee; Mrs. E. G. Randolph, grand representative of the District of Columbia in Oregon; Donald Shores, Jacksonville, member of the home endowment committee of the grand chapter and John Eddy, master of Medford Masonic lodge and present associate patron of Reames chapter.

Mrs. Roy V. Nordwick and E. G. Randolph, worthy matron and worthy patron of Reames chapter were present as well as worthy matrons Mrs. William Webber, Ashland; Mrs. Homer Snider, Kerby; Mrs. William Snook, Central Point; Mrs. Eldon L. Roubush, Grants Pass; Mrs. Russell McCollum, Manzanita chapter in Klamath Falls and Mrs. Fred Gardner, Jacksonville. Mrs. Donald Shores, Jacksonville, president of the Southern Oregon association was also present.

Mrs. Donald Ashpole, president of the Social club, presented Mrs. Herman, Mrs. Hutcheson and Mrs. Snider at the close of the business meeting rather than at the luncheon as planned, their arrival having been delayed by road conditions. Following the business meeting those present enjoyed slides shown by Miss De Anne Taylor.

Classes are taught in English at MCC, which is a fully accredited member of the Southern Association of U.S. colleges. Many of the anthropology classes take place at actual archeological ruins, and the Spanish department provides students with conversation practice that may be put into immediate use in the Mexican homes in which many students live.

Mexico City is the second largest metropolis in the Western Hemisphere, and the visiting student has a choice of a wide variety of cultural and social events. Museums, art galleries, and concerts offer constant cultural stimulation, and for those who enjoy sports, there are bull fights, jal alai, and soccer. Swimming, water skiing, and skin diving are popular on both coasts.

Living in Mexico is an invaluable experience for American students. Their daily contacts with people of another culture and language offer a new perspective on their own country.

Children's Play Date Announced

Ashland - "Many Moons," a three-act play adapted from James Thurber's story by Charlotte Chorprenning, has been selected for the Children's Theater performance during winter term according to Dr. Dorothy Stolp, director of the SOC Players in this production.

The tale of "Many Moons" is a story of a princess who fell ill of a surfeit of raspberry tarts, and could be cured only if someone gave her the moon. First, the Lord High Chamberlain (who looked twice as wise as he really was) attempted the feat. Next came the Royal Wizard and the Royal Mathematician. None, however, could help the king get the moon for his daughter. The play concludes when the Jester adds his happy philosophy and is able to obtain the moon for the princess.

Two matinee performances of the play will be given in Medford Craterian Theater February 7. These will be sponsored by the Medford branch of the American Association of University Women.

Two other matinee appearances are scheduled in Ashland to be sponsored by the AAUW, Ashland chapter. However, dates and places for these are as yet unannounced. There will also be two campus performances late in January or early February.

This is the fifth consecutive year that the SOC Players have prepared a full-length children's production and the last four of these have been presented in Medford as well as in Ashland and on the SOC campus.

Tryouts for students will be held Monday and Tuesday, November 21 and 22 at 4 and 7 p.m. in Studio A of the college library building. The books for the reading are available in Dr. Stolp's office.
