New Storm Heading For Battered Oregon

Coastal Region Gets Drenching; Flooding Results West Washington Receives Snowfall

By United Press International
A new storm headed inland today on the heels of a week end blast that brought heavy rain to Oregon, snow to western Washington and resulted in flooding, power outages and other damage.

The storm, worst of the season so far, dropped between 5 and 6 inches of snow in the Olympia-Tacoma area and about 4 inches in Seattle. It brought drenching rain to lowland areas in western Oregon. Seaside reported 4.19 inches in the 24 hours ending at 4 p.m. Sunday.

Winds of more than 100 miles an hour were recorded at Mt. Hebo near Tillamook. The storm today was in Southern Alberta, but the weather man said another "strong" blow was offshore and would bring more rain to the region. The five-day outlook calls for recurring rainy periods in northwest Oregon and along the coast.

Distressed Yawl Safe
A Coast Guard boat from Coos Bay Sunday night reached a disabled yawl off the Oregon coast and reported its crew of five all right. The crew, of the Newport area, included retired Rear Adm. Ruben Wagstaff. Both masts of the newly-built yawl were broken by high winds Sunday.

The snow in the Puget Sound area began melting Sunday after rain started to fall. Eight University of Oregon coeds from the school's musical and speech honorary stayed overnight at Fort Lewis Saturday night after snow forced the C-47 plane in which they were traveling to remain on the ground. They were there to put on a variety show at the Army base.

The rainfall in the period ending late Sunday totaled 2.78 inches at Astoria, 1.5 at Newport, 1.3 at Portland. Timberline Lodge on Mt. Hood reported about three feet of snow.

Coast Battered
The Oregon coastal area took a real battering.

Waves wrecked a portion of a dock at Newport where fishing vessels and houseboats were set adrift; some 10 inches of water covered Highway 101 north of Tillamook for a time; winds near Taft blew over a 40-foot house trailer; logs washed over some roads in the Nelscott area; blown-down trees temporarily blocked Highway 42 inland from Coquille; two large windows were blown out of a motel and restaurant in Oceanlake where the two-story brick front of the M&N Plumbing company was knocked out and bricks scattered about the street and sidewalk.

Damage by Wind In Prineville Reported

Prineville - UPI - Gusts of wind up to 65 miles an hour Sunday caused an estimated $7,500 worth of damage at the Hudspeith Pine Inc. sawmill.

Winds blew down two 200-foot pipes which run from the planer mill to the burner. Wiring to the dry kiln also was torn down. Operation at the planer mill will not be resumed for the rest of the week but the dry kiln is expected to operate by Tuesday.

Russia Expels Assistant U. S. Air Attache

Moscow - UPI - The Soviet Union today ordered Assistant U. S. Embassy Attache Irving T. McDonald expelled from the country on charges of "activities incompatible with his diplomatic status."

McDonald, 34, an Air Force captain, was the third U. S. embassy official ousted from the Soviet Union in recent months.

Embassy First Secretary George Winters and Air Attache Col. Edward Kirton were expelled last August with the accusation they had engaged in espionage.

At the time Kirton was accused of photographing military objects, McDonald received a reprimand from the Kremlin for alleged involvement in the incident.

McDonald was given until midnight Friday to clear out. Formal notification was sent to the embassy by the Soviet Foreign Ministry.

McDonald, a Bostonian, was nearing the end of his two-year tour of duty in Moscow. His wife and two children live with him in Moscow.

McDonald currently is on a trip away from the Soviet capital. Friends said he would return to get his family and fly to Washington for reassignment.

WASHINGTON - UPI - State Department officials said today that Russia's expulsion of a U. S. air attache appeared to be a "propaganda retaliation" for the recent espionage case.

VALE GRANGE WINS

Winston-Salem, N.C. - UPI - A Grange in Oregon received one of the top annual community service contest awards Saturday during the National Grange's 1960 convention.

First prize of $10,000 went to Vale, Ore. Grange and was accepted by Grange Master Blaine Girvin of Vale. The Grange was cited for raising funds and presenting the county with an ambulance, improving a migratory labor camp and putting on an education program for migrant workers.

Oregon Art Alliance Closes 2-Day Meeting in Medford

Delegates from throughout the state representing the more than 75 organizations of the Oregon Art Alliance met in Medford Friday and Saturday. The Rogue Valley Art association was host for the event.

The Alliance is an association of organizations interested in the development of art in Oregon.

Among the items discussed were plans for organizing several new traveling art exhibits to be circulated throughout the state by the group. Sidney D. White, with the art department at Oregon State college and Alliance exhibition chairman, encouraged delegates to contribute exhibits from their areas for the 1961 shows.

Jack Eyerly, Salem Art association, announced that a Members exhibit will be held in Portland during the meeting in May. Robert Colescott,

Gold Hill Youth Killed Sunday In Hunting Accident

Monty Ray Call, 14, of route 1, box 542 1/2, Gold Hill, was killed instantly Sunday while hunting deer near the Gold Hill Ideal Cement company plant, state police said.

Monty, a son of Mr. and Mrs. DeMont Call, was hunting with his brother and Johnnie Marshall Rains, 21, of route 1, box 542, Gold Hill. Rains told officers he saw a deer to his left while sitting in an open area about 60 yards below Monty. Looking up the hill he saw a brown and white object, thinking it was a deer, he fired.

The bullet apparently hit the stock of the gun the Call boy was carrying at an upward angle police said. It went through the stock, entered the lower right rib area at an upward angle and lodged in the lower part of the shoulder blade in the left side.

The bullet was a solid military bullet fired from a 7.35 caliber Tami bolt-action rifle. This is illegal for deer hunting, state police said. The matter will be referred to the district attorney.

Rains told police he thought the boy and his brother were below him instead of above him.

The Call family was ready to move to the Coos Bay area when the incident occurred, state police said.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday at 3 p.m. at the Conger-Morris Funeral home, downtown chapel.

Duncan Claims 30 Democratic Votes as Speaker

Hood River Man Still Uncommitted

Salem - UPI - State Rep. Robert Duncan (D-Medford) Sunday claimed 30 Democratic votes for speaker of the House in the 1961 Oregon Legislature.

The number was only one pledge short of assuring his election to an unprecedented second term as speaker.

Duncan had 29 of the 31 Democratic votes Saturday night following the breakup of a 4 1/2 hour Democratic House caucus with George Annala of Hood River and Juanita Orr of Lake Grove uncommitted.

But Sunday Rep. Orr threw her vote to Duncan leaving Annala as the lone uncommitted Democratic representative. Duncan said he could not claim the speakership.

Democrats have a 31-29 majority in the House and want to make sure of a united front in selecting the speaker when the legislature meets Jan. 9.

Twenty-eight House members attended Saturday's caucus but Duncan had proxy votes from the other two missing representatives, Katherine Musa of The Dalles and Grace Peck of Portland.

Democratic senators had planned a caucus of their own but only nine of the 20 turned up and the session was merely an informal discussion period.

Sen. Robert Straub, Eugene, Oregon Democratic chairman, said a caucus of Democratic senators would be scheduled later. A struggle for Senate president is going on between Sens. Harry Boivin, Klamath Falls, and Alfred Corbett, Portland.

Ashland City Council To Continue Hearing

Ashland - The Ashland city council will have a continuation of a hearing on the paving of an alley between Palm and Mountain aves. at its meeting Tuesday at 7:30 p.m.

The alley paving has developed into a controversy among property owners along the alley. A hearing on the paving was originally held Oct. 17. At that time the council voted to continue the hearing at its Nov. 1 meeting.

The council heard arguments for and against the project at the Nov. 1 meeting. Following the arguments, the council voted the paving project down. However, they recommended that the hearing be continued at the next meeting.

In other action, the council is scheduled to hear committee reports on Jackson st., Lakeview dr., and a report of recommended property purchases by the realty committee.

Senate Appointee To Be Considered

County Judge Earl Miller said this morning that the court will request three recommendations from the Jackson County Republican Central committee for state senator. From the three the county court will make the appointment.

The person appointed will replace Dr. Edwin R. Durno, Medford, who was elected fourth district representative to Congress. He has not as yet resigned the state post.

A total of six persons so far have either been recommended for or publicly stated they would accept an appointment as state senator.

The six are Ed Branchfield, Al Littrell, Mrs. Evelyn Nye, Don Stathos, Frank Bash, all Medford, and L. W. (Lynn) Newbury, Ashland.

A letter to the county court from M. B. Winslow, superintendent of Coos Bay public schools, recommended the appointment of Bash, a California Oregon Power company vice president.

The Jackson County Republican Central committee will meet tonight at 7 o'clock at the Medford hotel to consider and make recommendations.

Works for Area Art Show Juried Nov. 19

The First Annual Area Art exhibit was juried Saturday morning by three members of the Oregon Art Alliance which was holding its fall convention in Medford.

The jury picked 48 of the 127 entries for the show which will be held Dec. 4 to 23 at the Rogue Gallery, 220 West Main st. Awards will be announced Dec. 4.

Jack Teeters, chairman for the exhibit, said that works from 17 communities in northern California and southern Oregon were received. Judges for the competition were Ruth Grover, director of the Cascade Artists and instructor in Lincoln County Art center; Sid W. White, professor of art education, Oregon State college, and James Robertson, curator, Museum of Art, University of Oregon.

Teeters said that notices of accepted and rejected work will be mailed to all artists entering the competition by Wednesday. Unaccepted work should be picked up at the Rogue Gallery by Nov. 26, he said.

Guinea Threatens To Quit UN Good Offices Commission

United Nations, N. Y. - UPI - Guinea served notice that it would withdraw from a U.N. Good Offices Commission established to seek reconciliation among the Congo's warring political factions if the General Assembly decided to seat a delegation appointed by pro-Western President Joseph Kasavubu.

The assembly appeared certain to seat the Kasavubu delegation in preference to a rival group appointed by ousted Premier Patrice Lumumba, thus dooming a campaign by the Soviet Union and its friends to return the leftist Congolese leader to power.

Widely Speculated
Guinea's threat was no surprise. It was widely speculated among western diplomats that the 15-nation committee, scheduled to start work in Leopoldville next Saturday, would never get started if the assembly seated the Kasavubu delegation.

Toure launched an outspoken attack on the United States, paralleling earlier Soviet charges that Washington sought to suppress the Congolese nationalist movement and set up a "puppet, anti-democratic regime" in Leopoldville.

Three Injured In Sunday Accident

Ashland - Three people were injured in a one car accident Sunday at 11:45 p.m. All three were taken to Ashland General hospital where they were listed as in fair condition this morning.

According to Ashland police, a car driven by William Richard Snyder, 21, of 343 B st., Ashland, hit a city utility pole at the corner of North Main and Helman sts. Police said the car turned north on Main st. off Church st. While completing the turn, the car ran against a safety island, causing the drive to lose control of the vehicle and crash into the steel utility pole.

Snyder and two passengers were taken to the hospital by ambulance.

In addition to Snyder, those injured were his two brothers, Harvey Snyder, 23, Los Angeles, Calif., and Robert Snyder, 18, of 299 Scenic dr., Ashland. Police are still investigating the accident.

Bodies of Five Recovered From Dexter Reservoir

Search Continues For Two Children

Eugene - UPI - A car carrying seven members of a prominent lumber family, including five children, plunged into Dexter reservoir during a heavy rain Saturday night and five bodies were recovered today.

The bodies of Howard Lemons, 40, manager of the Hines Lumber Co. at nearby Westfir; his wife, Gloria, and three of their children were recovered before noon.

The car, a 1955 sedan, also was pulled from the chilly waters. Search continued for the bodies of the other two children. State police identified the children's bodies recovered as Virginia Lemons, 7; Howard Jr., 6, and Michael, 3. Missing were Robin, 8, and John, 17 months.

Traced by License Plate
Officers said a license plate of the car was found on the bank and the registration was traced that way. Also recovered on the bank were a hubcap and taillight.

Marks on the guardrail indicated that the car may have entered the water at that point.

State police said the Lemons apparently had brought Lemons' father-in-law to Eugene and were returning home.

Lemons, 40, is a graduate of the University of Oregon and formerly was employed by the school.

Worked at University
Lemons, after graduation, became athletic business manager at Oregon in 1948 and held that position until Dec. 1, 1950 when he became acting assistant to the president. He returned to his position in the athletic department on July 1, 1951 and remained there until April 30, 1953, when he resigned to go into the lumber business.

His wife is the former Gloria Adair of Eugene.

Tools Stolen From Company Tool Shed

Ashland - Ashland city police and Jackson county sheriff's deputies are investigating the theft of about $500 in tools from a tool house owned by Graff and James, Ashland contractors. Authorities estimate the theft occurred between Saturday afternoon and early this morning.

The tool house was located at the city sewage disposal treatment plant, about 200 feet north of the city limits on Oak st. Graff and James are doing some construction for the city at this location.

Melvin Morgan, project superintendent, said the thieves had gained entry by prying the padlock off the tool shed door.

Tidal Waves Hit Peru Coast Sunday

Lima, Peru - UPI - Tidal waves up to 75 feet high smashed into the northern coast of Peru Sunday, hurling fishing boats ashore and destroying port installations and homes.

Communications were knocked out but first fragmentary reports said at least two persons were killed and nine missing.

Hardest hit were the ports of Pimentel and Eten and the fishing village of Santa Rosa in Lambayeque province.

Three Oregonians Die In Week End Accidents

By United Press International
At least three Oregonians were killed during the week end as a result of traffic accidents.

The victims were identified as Larry J. Miller, 21, Salem; Mrs. Sylvia J. Bousman, 28, Klamath Falls, and Michael Talbott, 21, Milton-Freewater. Car Goes Over Bank
Miller was killed early Sunday in a one-car accident on the Baldock Freeway one mile south of the Tualatin Junction. State police said the accident occurred when his car went over a bank.

Mrs. Bousman and Talbott were killed in separate Saturday night accidents. Mrs. Bousman was injured fatally when the car in which she was riding struck a parked truck on Highway 97, south of Klamath Falls. Two-Car Crash
Talbott died Saturday night from injuries suffered in a two-car collision about 17 miles east of The Dalles on Highway 30. Talbott's car collided with a west-bound auto driven by Bernard Wink, 46, The Dalles. Wink was taken to a hospital with possible chest injuries along with face and head lacerations.
