

Angered Feelings Aroused As Eagles Overcome Giants

By NORMAN MILLER
United Press International

There is some bad blood between the Philadelphia Eagles and the New York Giants which is bound to spill over in their return battle next Sunday in the National Football league.

The angered feelings grew out of a savage jolt by Philadelphia linebacker Chuck Bednarik, who sent halfback Frank Gifford of the Giants to the hospital with a concussion following the Eagles' 17-10 come-from-behind victory on Sunday.

Philadelphia won the key game and widened its Eastern division lead to 1 1/2 games when defensive back Jim Carr plucked Giant fullback Mel Triplett's fumble out of the air and raced 28 yards to a touchdown with only 2:37 left to play.

A minute later as the Giants struck back, Gifford caught a pass from George Shaw on the Eagles' 30-yard line and was hit from the blind side by Bednarik. Gifford hit the ground so hard he was knocked unconscious and fumbled the ball. Eagles linebacker Chuck Weber recovered to cause the Giants' last threat.

Insists Play Clean - Although Bednarik insisted the play was "clean all the way" and that the movies would bear him out, several Giants, particularly Charlie Conerly, felt the burly Eagles defender had taken a "cheap shot" at Gifford.

The Giants also were angered in the manner in which the Eagles sent two and three blockers upfield to rough up placekicker Pat Summerall each time he kicked off.

Coach Buck Shaw of Philadelphia called it a "psycho logical weapon." Coach Jim Lee Howell didn't think much of the stunt, although he said that Summerall "is big enough to take care of himself." But the trick may have had its effect. Summerall missed three field goals.

And so the Giants probably will be weaker in manpower but stronger in desire to get even when the teams play again next Sunday. Another win will put them within easy distance of their first division title since 1949.

In the Western division of the NFL, the idle Baltimore Colts took a one-game lead as the runner-up Green Bay Packers were upset by the Los Angeles Rams, 33-31. The Pittsburgh Steelers also sprang a big upset by defeating the Cleveland Browns, 14-10.

The Chicago Bears trounced the Detroit Lions, 28-7; the San Francisco Forty-Niners sent the winless Dallas Cowboys down to their ninth straight defeat, 26-14; and the St. Louis Cardinals whipped the Washington Redskins, 26-14.

In two American Football league games, the Houston Oilers beat the Denver Broncos, 20-10, and the Buffalo Bills upset the Los Angeles Chargers, 32-3.

The Eagles experienced a wretched first half as they managed to net only 31 yards and fell behind, 10-0, before a crowd of 63,571 at Yankee stadium. Quarterback Norm Van Brocklin solved the riddle of the Giants' tough defense in the second half, however, and passed Philadelphia back into the ball game.

Sparks Scoring Drives - Van Brocklin hit Tommy McDonald with three passes during an 80-yard third-period march, the last two sailing 35 yards for a touchdown. "The Dutchman" then completed five more passes in a fourth-period drive that was culminated by Bobby Watson's 12-yard game-tying field goal.

Immediately after the ensuing kickoff, Triplett took a handoff and bucked into the line at the New York 38. He was hit by Bednarik, the ball popped into the air and Carr was there to grab it and run for the winning touchdown.

Danny Villanueva's 9-yard field goal with 22 seconds remaining gave the Rams an upset victory over the Packers before 35,763 fans at Milwaukee. This was Villanueva's fourth field goal in the game. His earlier three kicks and two TD passes from Bill Wade to Jim Phillips had enabled the Rams to overcome a 10-point deficit and move ahead, 30-10.

Paul Hornung and rookie

Tom Moore then sparked a rally which put Green Bay in front, 31-30, with 5:05 remaining.

However, a missed field goal try and a fumble by Hornung gave the Rams an opportunity to strike back for the winning score.

Dallas led San Francisco, 14-9, in the final quarter before C. R. Roberts dashed the Cowboys' hopes for their first victory by racing 20 yards for a touchdown. Tommy Davis kicked four San Francisco field goals before approximately 10,000 fans at Dallas.

Ron Hansen Top Rookie

Boston - (UP) - Ron Hansen, the slick-fielding shortstop who led the colorful Baltimore Orioles to second place, today was named the 1960 American league rookie of the year.

The 23-year-old Hansen received 22 first place votes out of the 24 ballots cast by a committee of the Baseball Writers Association of America. The two other votes went to two other members of the Baltimore "Kiddie Corps" - pitcher Chuck Estrada and first baseman Jim Gentile.
