

Sale of Abandoned, Unclaimed Property Planned by Police

Abandoned and unclaimed property, including automobiles and bicycles, will be sold at a public auction by the Medford police department Friday, Dec. 9.

The auction will be held in the police department storage building at the municipal airport, just south of the main terminal. Selling will start at 10 a.m., and will continue until all of the property is sold.

Police Chief Charles P. Champlin said the public may inspect the property Thursday, Dec. 8, from 1 to 4 p.m., at the police storage building. Lt. Rollie Peane, of the police department, will be at the building to assist in showing people the items to be sold.

Items For Sale
For sale at the auction will be 20 bicycles, four automobiles, a powermower, three rifles, a shotgun, clothing, small tools, toys, sporting goods, and a number of other miscellaneous articles. The chief said this will be a good opportunity for persons to pick up second-hand bicycles for Christmas presents.

All of the property to be sold, Chief Champlin said, has been picked up by the department as unclaimed or abandoned during the past year. The four cars, for instance, were all found apparently abandoned on Medford streets.

Chief Champlin said that every effort has been made to contact owners of the property. One advantage in persons coming to the building to look at the items Dec. 8, he said, will be to see if some of the property might possibly belong to them.

Identify Property
If anyone can adequately identify any of the property as being theirs prior to the auction, he said, it will be turned over to them without cost.

One of the items that should have been claimed long ago, Champlin said, is a power mower which "is practically as good as new." The mower was found on a Medford resident's lawn several months ago, he pointed out, but no one has ever come to claim it.

Champlin said police officers themselves will serve as the auctioneers. All proceeds from the auction will be turned into the city's general fund.

Police Chief Urges Safety by Pedestrians

Playing peek-a-boo with motorists is a deadly game, Medford Chief of Police Charles P. Champlin said today in urging walkers not to obscure their vision with parcels or umbrellas as they cross streets.

"These and other careless walking habits have cost many pedestrians their lives," he said.

Walking becomes especially dangerous at this time of the year when rain and snow can make visibility poor and footing precarious. These weather conditions, he added, also make it difficult for motorists to both see pedestrians and control their vehicles.

Champlin said that during last December, eight pedestrians were killed in Oregon traffic. All but two of these met death during hours of darkness or semi-darkness. In addition, 104 pedestrians were injured during the same month.

Chief Champlin reminded pedestrians to do everything they can to make themselves visible to motorists when walking at night. He advised them to wear light colored clothing when possible and to carry a flashlight. He also recommended the wearing of the new reflectorized garments which make a pedestrian visible in the path of a car's headlights from a distance of several hundred feet.

"Above all, be alert," he urged walkers. "You risk your life every time you take a chance in traffic."

Top Honors Given In 4-H Categories

Chicago—UPI—Young outdoorsmen and domestic experts took top honors today in categories ranging from forestry to bread baking in competition at the 39th annual 4-H club congress.

The 38 young men and women were named national winners in six 4-H club project classifications and received $400 scholarships.

The winners, announced Tuesday night and today, will join other 4-Hers at the group's congress today for their annual visit to the International Livestock Exposition, the biggest livestock show in the world.

SAFE FROM TYPHOON

Tokyo—UPI—Weathermen today reported that Typhoon Ophelia was moving in a safe course away from the island of Guam. The typhoon was reported 230 miles south of the island and moving westward. Warnings were out to all shipping in its path.

Radioactive Truck Object of Search

Las Vegas—UPI—The FBI, police and sheriff's deputies today searched for a dangerously radioactive pickup truck that was stolen from the Atomic Energy commission test site.

An AEC spokesman said thieves apparently were unaware the small truck was contaminated in a 1957 nuclear safety experiment. The theft was discovered Tuesday at the site north of here.

It was tested two months ago and found to be radioactive, a spokesman said. "Particularly the undercarriage is above the safe exposure for any length of time," said the spokesman.

Aumsville Railroad Crossing Signal Due

Portland—UPI—Southern Pacific railroad officials said today a flashing signal at the Highway 22 crossing near Aumsville will be installed "as soon as possible" after the equipment is received from the distributor.

The equipment has been delayed because of a strike against General Electric Co., the SP said.

'COME LIVE WITH US'—Mrs. LeRoy Ward watches as her youngsters pen letters to Miss Eileen Weiss and her two children, Michael, 9, and Maria, 4, inviting them to come and "stay with us." The Ward family read about Miss Weiss abandoning her children in New York because she had no money. The Wards would provide a home for the children and a job for their mother. Ward is manager of the meat department in a supermarket. The children are, from left, Corrine, 5; Jimmie, 6; Doug, 3, and Terry, 1½. (UPI Telephoto)

Rockefeller Plans To Have GOP Voice

Albany, N.Y.—UPI—Nelson Rockefeller wants a major voice in drafting Republican Party policy for the next four years.

The New York governor, who withdrew from the White House race this year because leaders were determined to nominate Vice President Richard M. Nixon, took the first step in getting ready for "the next time" when he announced Tuesday he would seek reelection as governor in 1962.

Rockefeller said his decision to run again should not be interpreted as meaning he personally would look for the presidential designation, but he left no doubt he intends to take part in making the selection. He described himself as "one of the party leaders" who will guide GOP fortunes during the next four years.

Gasoline Tank Truck Flames Extinguished

Newberg—UPI—A tank truck loaded with 6,000 gallons of gasoline burst into flames on Highway 99 six miles north of here Tuesday night but Newberg firemen put out the blaze quickly, preventing an explosion.

Firemen said overheated brake drums set the tires on fire and then the trailer. No one was hurt.

Corvallis Packing Firm To Be Sold

Salem—UPI—Blue Lake Packers, Inc., a Salem cooperative, said Tuesday it is purchasing the Western Oregon Packing Corp., Corvallis.

Norman Merrill, general manager of Blue Lake, said options are expected to be exercised within two weeks. The Corvallis firm has a yearly payroll of some $400,000. Purchase price was not disclosed.

Oregon Gets $10,391 In Heart Fund Grants

Portland—Research and fellowship grants totaling $10,391 have been awarded to scientists at the University of Oregon medical school by the Oregon Heart association, according to Robert Cameron, OHA president.

Largest single grant was $4,000 to give research training to Dr. Hossein Vakili in contrast cardiovascular visualization under the direction of Dr. Charles T. Dotter. Dr. Vakili is in the school's department of radiology.

A $3,000 grant to Dr. Roy L. Swank will be used in the study of the effect of fat and oil meals on the fatty acid content of red blood cells, serum and plasma.

Other OHA grants went to: Integrative Study

Dr. Eugene A. Lentini, instructor in physiology, for integrative study of the metabolism and functional characteristics of heart muscle, $1,215.

Dr. Robert H. Rigley for a research project, "A Study of the Morphologic Changes Occurring with Time in Arterial and Venous Thrombi in Dogs," $1,000.

Some $576 for the services of Dr. Toshio Fujikura in the project, "Studies of the Etiology and Pathogenesis of Pulmonary Hyaline Membranes," and $600 to Dr. Zaven A. Adronou as part of his stipend for the 1960-61 Raymond R. Brown memorial fellowship.

Cameron stressed that funds for such projects come from support of the association's annual Heart Fund campaign in February, and memorial bequests.

Safeguards Asked On Property Grab

Washington—UPI—Sen. Alexander Wiley, (R-Wis.), called today for United Nations safeguards against seizure of foreign property such as has occurred in Cuba and elsewhere.

Without "vigorous" N.A.T.O. action, Wiley said, private investors would shy away from business activities in newly developing nations.

Wiley, senior Republican on the Senate Foreign Relations committee, said there were a great many areas of the world in which investments could be made only at great risk.

Butte Falls Unit To Meet Thursday

Butte Falls—The Butte Falls Home Extension unit will meet Thursday, December 1 at the home of Mrs. Harry Dalton at 10:30 a.m.

The demonstration for the month is on Christmas ideas, from fancy recipes to decorations that may be used throughout the house. Demonstrating the ideas will be Mrs. Donald Joffice, Mrs. Krelloff, Mrs. C. Thompson and Mrs. Randall Perkins. Anyone interested is invited to attend.

ELECTION TROUBLES

Taipei, Formosa—UPI—Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's Kuomintang party is having internal election troubles, according to Taipei newspapers. The reports said a number of party members challenged the results of an election held by the party for candidates to the Taipei city council.

Geisha Girl Ring Broken in Japan

Atami, Japan—UPI—Nine men and one woman were held today on charges of selling 161 wives and daughters of poor Kyushu coal miners to Geisha house owners who forced the women into prostitution.

Police also arrested 16 Geisha house owners in this hot-spring resort city.

The police roundup of the "slave trade ring" Tuesday was touched off by the suicide of a young Geisha girl who left a note saying she could not get out of prostitution because she could never pay off her debt to the ring.
