Farewell Party Is Held Sunday In Hornbrook

Hornbrook - A farewell dinner was held here Sunday afternoon honoring Mr. and Mrs. Glen Robertson, and her mother, Mrs. Myrtle (Collie) Fairbanks. The family is leaving about December 10 to make their home in Happy Camp where Mr. Robertson will be foreman of Dr. George Chambers' cattle ranch.

Mrs. Robertson has been operating the beauty shop at Happy Camp for the past six months, and plan to continue to do so. The Robertsons came to Hornbrook more than two years ago from Hemet, Calif., after purchasing the ranch formerly owned for many years by the Greive family, and have made many improvements on the land and the buildings.

All three of them have been active in the affairs of the local Methodist church where Mr. Robertson is a member of the official board, and Mrs. Robertson of the choir. She has missed only one choir practice since the choir was formed in February of 1958. Since she has been in Happy Camp she has driven to Hornbrook every Saturday morning to be present for choir practice at 10 a.m. They have also taken part in many civic affairs and are considered by many friends as prime examples of the "good neighbors" policy. The new occupants of their ranch expect to arrive about the middle of December from Mendocino county.

About 45 friends attended Sunday's event which was held in the Fireside room at the church. A gift was presented to the Robertson family from the choir and other friends in the church. Present at the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Walsh, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Chapman, Mr. and
