64 Dogs Picked Before Election

Chris Hagler, Jackson county dog control officer, in his November report to the county court, reported that 64 dogs were picked up by the department from Oct. 29 to Nov. 8, when the county dog control ordinance was voted out.

The total number of dogs picked up from Aug. 31 through Nov. 8 was 397, he added. On Nov. 23, Hagler said he turned in a list of 11 names of persons liable for $10 fines for allowing their dogs to run at large.

For the month, dogs picked up totalled 81 and 72 dogs were brought in to the dog pound. New homes were found for 15 dogs, dog owners picked up 21 and 99 dogs were destroyed. Cats destroyed totalled 47. Lost dogs reported totalled 27.

Hagler reported the department answered 182 complaints for the month.

The pound fees totalled $168.65 for the month. Total money included in the dog control fund from dog licenses and pound fees totalled $312.85. Balance in the dog control fund as of Dec. 2 was $2,884.10.

Spider-Eating Fly Getting Attention

Washington (Science Service) — A spider that eats flies is no news, but a fly that eats spiders is worth attention and is getting lots of it, a book-full, from the Smithsonian Institution here.

The attention-getting insects are the acrocerids, two-winged flies with very small heads, that pass the larval stage of their lives inside spiders, devouring the tissues of their hosts, without any obvious awareness on the part of the doomed spiders, which keep spinning webs to catch flies. How the fly gets into the spider is not known. But once a fly eats its way out, it leads a normal adult existence, presumably even getting caught by spiders.

A book revising the largest genus of these odd insects, the Ogcodes, has been written by Dr. Evert L. Schlinger of the University of California, published by the Institution. It contains descriptions of 78 species of these creatures, 14 of them new. The

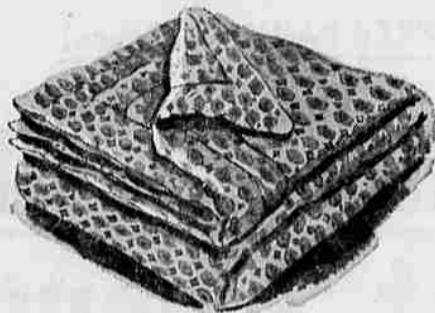

GUARD, FURS MISSING

Chicago (AP) — Police today wondered where oh where could $10,000 worth of furs and a little dog have gone. The dog—a Scottish terrier named "Scotty"—had been assigned to guard a parked truck containing the furs. Both dog and furs were stolen Wednesday.

Spider-eating flies are essentially world-wide in distribution, although little known, and rarely a collector's item except for spiders.

Many of our customers have told us it's almost as heart-warming to give as to receive Pendleton sportswear. They know the Pendleton label means quality, and they know how men feel about receiving a new Pendleton shirt or jacket, or even a muffler. The Pendleton label has become synonymous with quality because every Pendleton is dyed, spun and woven of pure virgin wool to an Oregon formula that goes back over 90 years.

This year, bring your gift list in to our Pendleton department and guarantee that those favorite names on your list have a truly "Merry Christmas".
