

Newlyweds in California

Mr. and Mrs. James Drew Coleman, whose wedding was an event of November 26 in Portland, are making their home in Walnut Creek, Calif. The bride is the former Miss Verdel Sue Schwedler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Schwedler, Portland, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Coleman, 112 Greenway circle, Medford.

The wedding took place at Mt. Tabor Presbyterian church, with Dr. Robert Kirkwood Russell officiating. A reception followed at the Columbia-Edgewood Country club.

Escorted down the aisle by her father for the double ring ceremony, the bride wore a gown of silk organza fashioned with a basque waist and full skirt. Bodice details included a scooped neckline, embroidered with lace and seed pearls. A large tailored bow, and small satin covered buttons from neckline to waist accented the back of the dress. A circle of orange blossoms and small pearls held her elbow-length veil.

The bride carried a spray of white orchids and stephanotis, on a white prayer book. The ivy in her bouquet was symbolic of her sorority, Alpha Phi.

The maid of honor, Miss Sandra Lovett, Eugene, Ore., and the bridesmaids, Misses Marian Harris, Coquille, Ore., Patricia Curry, Portland, Sandra Greves, Seattle, Wash., cousin of the bride, and Ann Roehm, Portland, all sorority sisters of the bride, wore sheath gowns of moss dew green satin. They carried bouquets of white spider chrysanthemums.

Miss Judy Littlehales, also a sorority sister, sang before the ceremony.

The best man was Gordon Smith, Medford. Seating the guests were Norbert Gleason, Portland, Arthur Monroe, brother-in-law of the bridegroom from Palo Alto, Calif., David Lundquist, Portland, and Alexander Fraser, Eugene.

For the wedding and reception the bride's mother wore a gown of cocoa brown with leaf green hat and green orchid corsage. The bridegroom's mother wore a Dior blue jacket dress with matching feather hat and white orchid.

The couple came up from the San Francisco bay area for the ceremony. Mrs. Coleman teaches in the Antioch, Calif., school system and Mr. Coleman is a salesman for the Standard Register company of Oakland, Calif. During the Christmas holidays the newlyweds plan to spend a delayed honeymoon in Carmel, Calif.

The bridegroom's parents were dinner hosts for the wedding party at the Aero Club Friday evening following the rehearsal.

Both the bride and bridegroom were graduated from the University of Oregon in June, where she was a member of Alpha Phi and he was affiliated with Phi Delta Theta fraternity.

Going from Medford for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Coleman, uncle and aunt of the bridegroom, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Watson and Mr. and Mrs. Mark Goldy. Also present was the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Arthur Monroe, Palo Alto, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bryan, Etna, Calif.

Guild Elects Two Officers

Two vice-presidents were elected at a luncheon meeting of the Philharmonic Society guild December 14 at Rogue Valley Country club. Mrs. J. J. McHugh was elected first vice-president, and Mrs. Royal E. Bebb, second vice-president.

Plans were made for advertising and ticket selling for the forthcoming production of "Hansel and Gretel" January 14-15. It was decided to sell large gingerbread men cookies at the "Variations on a Gift Theme" table as well as the other items.

Coffee and refreshments will be available during intermission at the Saturday night performance. Since the Sunday matinee will be attended primarily by children, it was decided to forego the serving of a beverage and have only free cookies for their enjoyment. Co-chairmen for the intermission activities are Mrs. J. J. McHugh and Mrs. H. H. Bresee.

OMEGA

For a lifetime of proud possession

SELF-WINDING Seamaster

Sportsmen, scientists, aviators, explorers, captains of industry and successful men in every walk of life wear the world-renowned Omega Seamaster. In freezing arctic cold, steaming tropic heat, in dust and rainstorms . . . the Seamaster shrugs off hazards that make other watches flinch. It is completely waterproof; impervious to shock, magnetism, climate and altitude changes.

The secret lies in its submarine-like shield of armour, which protects its high-precision jeweled movement. Crystal is unbreakable, steel-rimmed and pressurized in place; back is hydro-sealed; and at the most exposed point in a watch . . . where stem enters case . . . there is an ingenious hermetic crown. The Seamaster never needs to be wound. It winds itself by the natural motions of the wrist. The man who wears a Seamaster always knows the precise time . . . automatically.

Model shown above, 14K gold top, stainless steel back, with matching bracelet of exclusive design: $180, Federal tax included. Every Seamaster has 18K gold, raised hour figures, with luminous markings; choice of silver-white or ebony-black dials.
