Appeal Made for Donations of Blood

Eagle Point–Relatives of John P. Sinsel, 29, Eagle Point, have made an appeal to Rogue valley residents for blood donations to be used in replacing blood Sinsel has required during an illness in the Veteran's Administration hospital in Portland.

The Red Cross bloodmobile will be in Medford Dec. 21. Anyone wishing to donate blood in Sinsel's name may notify his relatives by writing post office box 298, Eagle Point.

Will Female Hormone Cause Cancer of the Breast?

In spite of the fact that several times a year I say in this column that I don't believe that the giving of the usual tiny doses of female hormone to a menopausal woman will ever produce cancer, I get many requests for information on this point. It is sad that so many thousands of us physicians still fear the use of female hormone. We got the idea into our heads years ago when someone gave enormous doses of female hormone to tiny mice, and gave it to them for practically the whole length of their short lives. As a result, a few of them developed cancer. Obviously, there is a tremendous difference between the conditions in this experiment and those present when a menopausal woman who weighs perhaps 130 pounds, is given half a milligram (a tiny amount) a day of stilbestrol for six months or so.

Dr. Alvarez

I, personally, have treated hundreds of women with stilbestrol or other ovarian hormones, and so far, I have never seen anything to make me think that the drug has produced cancer. I have talked to a number of the leading gynecologists of the United States, and they tell me they have lost their fear of giving ovarian extracts. I have talked to men who have treated many elderly women with huge doses of female hormone to stop their spine from caving in, and I have talked to men who are doing research on cancer, and they all tell me that the chances of our producing the disease in women by giving tiny doses of female hormone are practically nonexistent.

The Person With Two Dozen Questions

Often I feel unhappy about it, but I just cannot attempt to answer a six-or seven-page letter containing perhaps a dozen questions. Sometimes, in order to answer these questions, I'd have to go to the library and spend a day reading. For instance, here comes a letter from a woman who, after giving birth to a child, got some phlebitis in one of her thigh veins, such as is ordinarily called a "milk leg." Now she wants to know; (1) what caused the painful spot to come in her thigh? (2) is it phlebitis? (3) can it be removed with an operation? (4) should it be removed by an operation? (5) will it spread to other parts of her body? (6) how soon will it start "making tumors" all over her body? (7) if an operation is performed, will it be successful? (8) will she get cancer from this thing? (9) how long should she have remained in bed after the vein became inflamed?

(10) Will walking be bad for it? (11) if she has another child, will she be likely to get a flare-up of the phlebitis? (12) if she has another spell will it be worse than this one? (13) was the doctor's treatment of the disease correct? (14) if not, what should he have done? (15) should she be wearing an elastic bandage? (16) if she should be wearing an elastic bandage how long should she keep on wearing it? (17) would it be wise to raise the foot of her bed at night? (18) would x-ray treatment help? (19) when her daughter has a baby, is she likely to inherit this tendency? (20) if so, is there any way of preventing it? (21) my correspondent's doctor suggests her taking a drug which will keep her blood from clotting; should she do this? (22) how large then should the dose be? (23) is the drug likely to do any harm? (24) will an electric pad be likely to help dissolve the clot in the vein? (25) would it help, as the doctor says, for her to take off some of her excess weight? (26) does this trouble have any relation to the fact that her mother had a milk-leg with her first baby?

And while the woman was asking questions, she went on and told me about the curious little tumor her son has on the lower end of his spine. (1) Should it be removed? (2) would that be the best treatment? (3) would it be safe? (4) if left untouched, would it turn into a cancer?

These are all good questions, and I think the woman should have answers to them; but I'm very sorry, when 50 letters like that arrive in one day, how can I possibly read all of them, let alone answer them? I imagine my correspondent tried to get answers to these 30 questions out of her doctor, but he, poor fellow, with perhaps another six calls to make before he had to hurry to his office, or try to get home for a late dinner, just grabbed his hat and ran!

Conceive?

Many women write to ask if, while they are nursing their baby and perhaps not menstruating, are they perfectly safe so far as conceiving is concerned. I put this question to Professor Jack Greenhill, one of America's great teachers of obstetrics, and he said that woman is safe for only the first two months. After that, she cannot be sure. She can ovulate, which means that a little tiny egg can come out of an ovary, and then she might conceive.

Dr. Alvarez' booklet on menopause and hysterectomy may be obtained by sending 25 cents and a large, stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Dr. Walter C. Alvarez, Dept. MMT, The Register and Tribune Syndicate, Box 957, Des Moines 4, Iowa.

Irrigation District Office To Be Closed

The Rogue River Valley Irrigation district office will be closed from Dec. 19 through Jan. 2 for the bookkeeper's vacation, according to district Manager Harold Sexton.

During week days from 4 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. somebody will be in the office to take care of urgent business, Sexton said. Regular maintenance crews will continue to work during that period.
