Christmas Decorating And Lighting Contest

Talent—The Talent Lions club is sponsoring an outside Christmas lighting and decorating contest in the Talent area. Judging will be Dec. 23.

Persons wishing to enter the contest must notify the Lions no later than Dec. 20. First prize will be $10, second $5 and third $2.50. Those wishing to enter should call W. M. Young at KEystone 5-1253, Al Graber at KEystone 5-1193 or Mae Lowe at KEystone 5-1421.

Anyone inside the Talent city limits is eligible to enter, and anyone residing on Route 1, Talent, may also enter. This is the first time an outside lighting and decorating contest has been held in Talent.

Young People Holding Progressive Dinner

Murphy—The King's Teens, young people's group of the Murphy chapel, are ushering in the Christmas season with a progressive dinner to be held tonight starting at 7 p.m.

The group will start with the soup course at the home of Mrs. Rudy Twete of Washington blvd., Grants Pass. They will then proceed to Mrs. Clarence Rosa's home in Murphy where the salad will be served. Mrs. John White will serve the main course and then the young people will return to the fireplace room of the chapel where dessert will be served and games played for the remainder of the evening.

CHORUS LINE—A chorus line that could have challenged the Ziegfeld Follies performed at the Phoenix-Talent PTA variety show held recently at the Phoenix High school. The chorus line was made up of male PTA members. They were featured doing a can-can number. An estimated 550 people attended the event.

Spirit of Christmas Is Revived in Happy Camp

By HAZEL DAVIS

Happy Camp Correspondent

Happy Camp—The Christmas Concert, presented by the music department of the Happy Camp schools, Tuesday evening, Dec. 13, revived the spirit of Christmas in the hearts of more than 400 people who attended.

According to James Tristram, music director of the schools, Christmas is for giving and in this way the students taking part, give the free concert annually to the people and merchants of the area who have supported his department so generously.

Under the direction of Tristram approximately 100 elementary and high school students took part in the entertainment. The 34-piece high school band started the program with four new arrangements of Christmas music.

The Glee club followed the band with 32 girls singing some of the newer Christmas songs. A 34-voice mixed chorus from the elementary school sang some unusual songs of the season.

Debbie Meinert and Shirley Swearingen played piano solos. Two little girls from the Horse Creek Elementary school, Phyllis and Janet Charity, sang a duet.

A combo made up of Peter Swearingen, Lanny Nevens, Rosanna Porter, Virginia Harnden, Diane Westby, Elliott Steele, and Tristram played a Christmas medley of songs.

The high school glee club and the band returned to close the program with the better known Christmas carols, joining together for the first time, singing and playing Christmas Fantasy.

The stage was decorated with a model Santa Claus riding a sleigh with Rudolf leading the reindeer across the set. A huge parachute was hung over the stage to cover the overhead lights and was decorated to resemble clouds in the sky. According to Tristram, decorations were by the girls of the glee club under the direction of Virginia Coffield.

Lights on for Education Panel Named in Murphy

Murphy—Selection of the panel to be featured in the "Lights on for Education" meeting, Jan. 5, at Murphy school was completed at an afternoon meeting Thursday, Dec. 15 at the school.

Mrs. Carl Haynes, chairman of the program, announced that the panel will consist of William Gilmore, county school board chairman, who will speak on matters among proposed legislation pertaining to school finances, authority of school boards and the like; Dave Branson, Murphy school principal, whose topic will be school standards; Warren Cook, of the District 7 school office, who will discuss school administration, education for the exceptional child, and Saturday schools; Capt. John Smith of the Grants Pass city police department, who will speak on safety measures to come before the legislature, particularly those affecting school buses; "Rusty" Snider, on the staff of Grants Pass Daily Courier, whose subject will be the proposed measures on regulating obscene literature, and Mrs. R. J. Millemann, legislative chairman of the Murphy PTA, who will report on the recommendations of the governor's conference on youth and education which have been incorporated in the legislative measures to be discussed.

Moderator for the discussion will be Mrs. Phyllis Michaels, eighth grade teacher at Murphy. The meeting, part of a state-wide campaign to focus attention on pending legislation affecting schools, will start at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Jan. 5, and will be preceded by a "short" PTA business meeting which will make it possible to skip January's regular PTA meeting night.

Eagle Point—The Eagle Point Brownies and Girl Scouts will hold their Christmas party in the music room right after school Tuesday evening and will not meet during the vacation. The first day of school, Jan. 3, the Scouts will hold their investiture ceremonies right after school with all parents being invited to attend.

Butte Falls PTA Plans Projects

Butte Falls—The Butte Falls Parent-Teacher association met Dec. 12 at the Butte Falls High school gym.

A short business meeting was held and the association voted to pass several motions.

First decision was to have the Jan. 5 Lights on for Education program be the January meeting of the association.

Second motion passed was to pay $10 for the purchase of Christmas candy to be given out by Santa Claus at the Christmas program. The Butte Falls Lions club also is participating in this project.

The association voted to have as their first major money making project of the year a basketball game scheduled for Wednesday, Jan. 11 at the high school gym. The preliminary game will be between the grade school boys, the second game will be between high school boys and their fathers. A food concession booth will be in operation and possibly a cake auction will follow both games. Refreshments were served by the sixth and seventh grade room mothers, Mrs. Charles Capello and Mrs. Oliver Boyd.

School Board Sets Election for April

Happy Camp—The Happy Camp elementary school board met Dec. 14 and signed a notice for the school election to be held in April, 1961.

The terms of Robert Haskell, Roy Curtis, and Hugh Wright will expire June 30, 1961. Haskell and Curtis were elected at a special recall election in June to replace Fred Kline and Leon Higley, respectively, whose terms were to expire in 1961. The other two board members, Hazel Davis and William Simmons, have until 1962 before their terms expire.

The board also voted to have Wright, clerk of the board, send a letter of gratitude to eight grade teacher T. A. Reed for his efforts in starting a radio communications class in a small vacant building on the school grounds after school is dismissed. His class is made up of students qualifying from the upper grades. The class plans to build their own sets and will broadcast and receive after they have passed their ham operators tests.

Happy Camp May Get Additional TV

Happy Camp—Siskiyou Video, Yreka, was in Happy Camp Dec. 16 repairing the television cable entering the community. According to employees of the company, amplifiers were rechecked and tubes replaced.

According to Bill Magannis and his employees, they plan to bring in Channel 6 from Eureka which is an NBC station as soon as weather permits equipment to be installed at the present antenna site. One employee said a picture had been received from the station at the same location as the present antenna for the only station available here, Channel 3, also from Eureka. Channel 6 boosted its power Dec. 15 to reach fringe areas which it has not been able to serve. This channel is a sister station of Channel 7 in Redding both being owned by Carl McConnell.

Eagle Point—The Eagle Point Grade school will present their Christmas program at 2 p.m. Tuesday in the school gymnasium. "The Meaning of Christmas" is the theme selected and this will take the place of the regular December Parent-Teacher association meeting. All parents and members of the community are invited to attend. The grade school will have their room Christmas parties on Friday and school will close until the 3rd of January for the holidays.

Santa Claus Welcomed By Hornbrook Children

Hornbrook—Santa Claus made his first appearance of the 1960 season in Hornbrook Thursday evening at the schoolhouse at the close of the school program.

He was a busy man as he handed out 160 bags of candy and fruit to the grammar school children and their preschool age brothers and sisters. Apples and oranges for the sacks were donated to the school by the Morrison-Knudson Construction Co., contractors on Copco's Iron Gate dam project on the Klamath river. The Christmas program was divided into four parts, with each of the four rooms presenting a skit appropriate to the season. Miss Phyllis Bird's first and second graders, dressed in white choir robes with huge red bows at their chins, presented "A Story of Christmas in Song," featuring a tableau of the Manger scene with Sharon Shinar as Mary, Grant Burket as Joseph, Eddy Sanders and Mike Slavens as the shepherds. Bill Dickison, Jimmy Clyburn and Kenny Fisher were the three wise men.

Jimmy Lynn Liskey portrayed a pint-sized Santa Claus. "The Christmas Story" in song and verse was given by Mrs. Ruth Cummins' third and fourth graders, while Ronald Rhodes' fifth and sixth grade classes enacted the classic poem "Twas the Night Before Christmas" with Elaine Eckert and Linda Greene as narrators, and Penny Farnsworth and Steve Eckert as "Ma and Pa." "Some Well-Known Christmas Carols" by "The Carolers" composed of Harley Baker's entire seventh and eighth grade classes concluded the program. Linda and Lydia Greene provided the piano accompaniment for the program, and also played a piano duet. Enrollment at the Hornbrook school is at an all-time high of 114 students, 18 above any previous year in the nearly 90 year history of the school.
