Feeding the Family

By ZOLA VINCENT

Family Fun Centers Around Soup Combos

Pot luck! What luck! Bring on a steaming fragrant, flavorful tureen or pot of soup or chowder. Perfect for any holiday or holinight. Terrific with teenagers; popular with all agers whether it's a planned party or an impromptu feeding of the multitude.

A sturdy way to start the day. Best liked luncheon item. Superlative supper specialty. And nothing beats soup when it comes to "one for the road." Well, coffee is pretty good for that too.

If you've a tureen, use it of course. Otherwise any huge bowl or pitcher or the soup pot itself can come to table or buffet. Sipping soups are easiest to serve and handle at table or while wandering around. Serve them in any kind or size beverage cups of finest china, pottery and/or those paper cups with handles that are designed especially for hot beverages. The latter are ideal for the younger generation at all times.

It's easily done and quickly too, when there's an assortment of canned soups on the pantry shelf. Or, as in days of old, keep a soup pot ready for simmering. Garnish servings with toasted almonds, parsley and/or paprika. Plenty of crackers of assorted shapes, sizes and flavors.

Holiday Special

Our holiday special soup combines cream of chicken and toasted almonds for eight gala servings. In saucepan, combine three 1½-ounce cans condensed cream of chicken soup, three soup cans milk, six tablespoons chopped toasted almonds and three tablespoons chopped parsley. Heat, stirring now and then. Garnish with paprika.

Souper Special

A cold soup of distinction certain to merit praise combines two cans of condensed cream of celery soup, two 3-ounce packages of chived cream cheese; whip to blend with beater. Add two soup cans childed milk and curry powder to taste. A sipping soup for six generous servings.

Ham Spread

Actually this is ideal for either dipping or spreading on any cracker, chip or on buffet rye slices. Combine two 4½-ounce cans deviled ham, six tablespoons dairy sour cream and one teaspoon prepared mustard. Makes about 1 1/3 cups spread-dip.

Twin Cheese Dip

Blend one three-ounce package blue cheese and one three-ounce package cream cheese with a fork; gradually add one cup dairy sour cream and few drops of Tobasco for about two cups of dip.

Chicken Salad Puffs

Here is a handsome party specialty that is easy to do. Prepare one stick of cream puff mix according to package directions to make about 50 miniature puffs; bake as directed; cool.

Combine two five-ounce cans of boned chicken, minced with one-half cup chopped celery, one-half cup chopped dill pickle, three tablespoons mayonnaise, two tablespoons lemon juice, one-half teaspoon salt, dash of pepper. Fill cream puffs.

Sandwich Rounds

The French sandwich rounds pictured are also very easy to do. Cut one unsliced loaf of whole wheat bread (at least one day old) lengthwise and trim crusts.

In skillet, saute one-fourth pound bacon until crisp; crumble in small pieces. Combine one eight-ounce package cream cheese with enough milk to soften. Add bacon pieces and three tablespoons grated orange rind. Spread this mixture on bread slices. Roll up each slice and wrap tightly in waxed paper or saran wrap. Refrigerate at least two hours before slicing. Makes about 35 sandwich rounds.

Prized Recipes for the Twelve Days of Christmas

For the 12 days of Christmas, we've carefully chosen 12 recipes that happen to be replete with California raisins, the little fruit with the big taste surprise. If you're tempted as we were to do any group of these on any day, go right ahead and have fun with all your true loves.

Fruit Cake. The first day of Christmas is the time to start slicing one of those handsome fruit cakes made weeks ago, bought or gifted, and carefully stored to mellow the flavors of dark and golden raisins, candied fruits and exotic spices. Thin slices!

Star Cookies. On the second day of Christmas, bake some star shaped cookies. These sweet butter-raisin shortbread cookies stay fragrantly fresh; will disappear quickly. Plump one-half cup raisins in hot water five minutes; drain and chop fine. Combine with two sticks soft butter, one-half cup plus two tablespoons sugar and 2½ cups sifted flour. Mix together and shape into ball with hands. Chill dough; roll to one-fourth inch thickness on floured board. Cut into stars, bells or other shapes and bake on ungreased baking sheet in 325 degree oven about 15 minutes.

Curried Turkey. Last bits of turkey become very festive when done up in a curry sauce on the third day of Christmas. For one of the accompaniments serve dark raisins which have been marinated overnight in port wine. At serving time, sprinkle with freshly grated orange peel.

Ham Sauce. An entree for fourth day of Christmas might be a holiday ham with spicy raisins and pineapple sauce. Simmer two-thirds cups raisins in two cups pineapple juice about five minutes. Thicken with one tablespoon cornstarch mixed with one-quarter cup brown sugar and one-quarter teaspoon cloves. Stir in one tablespoon butter.

Brandy Balls. The fifth day of Christmas calls for brandy balls. Chop together finely one cup raisins and walnuts. Mix with one 7½-ounce package vanilla wafers rolled into fine crumbs. Add two cups powdered sugar, one teaspoon instant coffee, two tablespoons light corn syrup and three ounces brandy. Mix well and shape into one-inch balls. Roll in powdered sugar and store in airtight container for keeping—but who wants to keep them?

Salad Molds. On the sixth day of Christmas, add sparkle to your table with jewel-toned salad molds. Soften one envelope unflavored gelatine in the juice of a lemon. Add one-half cup dark or golden raisins to 1¾ cups apple cider and heat to boiling. Dissolve gelatine in it and cool until slightly thickened. Fold-in three-quarter cup diced celery, one-quarter cup chopped walnuts and one large red apple, cored and diced. Spoon into individual molds and chill until firm. Top with dairy sour cream to serve.

Festive Hot Bread. For breakfast on the seventh day of Christmas, surprise the family with this festive tree shaped bread. Combine two cups biscuit mix, two tablespoons sugar, one-half cup raisins, one-quarter cup chopped candied cherries, one-half cup milk and one-quarter cup melted butter. Stir together, then knead lightly on floured board. Roll to one-half inch thickness and cut 28 rounds with a one-inch cutter. Place close together on greased baking sheet in shape of tree, starting top row with one biscuit and ending with seven in bottom row. Use scraps for tree trunk. Bake in hot oven, 450 degrees, 10 to 12 minutes.

Raisin Rice. Elegance for the eighth day of Christmas—New Year's Day! Raisin saffron rice goes well with rare roast beef. Brown dice in butter; add a pinch of saffon and cook as usual unsing chicken broth for liquid. When steamed, stir in a generous handful of raisins and some sliced roasted almonds.

Eggnogg French Toast. On the ninth day of Christmas, make Eggnog French Toast. Dip slices of raisin bread in dairy eggnog which comes from dairy section or milkman. Brown on both sides in hot butter. Serve with a sprinkling of cinnamon and powdered sugar and some whipped butter.

Frosted Sweet Potatoes. Frosted sweet potato cups appear with golden crowns on the tenth day of Christmas. Combine fluffy mashed sweet potatoes with butter, grated orange peel and plump sweet raisins. Place in hollowed-out orange or grapefruit shells and top each with marshmallow. Bake in moderate oven about 20 minutes.

Raisin - Cranberry Muffin. On the eleventh day of Christmas, piping hot raisin and cranberry muffins bring glamour to a salad luncheon. Grind together three-quarter cup each raisins and cranberries and mix with one-quarter cup sugar. Fold into muffin batter from mix or from scratch.

Steamed Brown Bread. On the twelth day of Christmas, old fashioned baked beans and steamed brown bread will please everyone. Serve bread hot with plenty of butter.
