Leader Training Course Offered At Central Point

Central Point—A course in rural and urban leadership training will be among adult classes offered this winter at Crater High school in Central Point. It will be conducted by the Crater High school agriculture department.

Edward Griggs, agriculture instructor at the high school said the course is designed to give those enrolled an opportunity to study parliamentary procedure and public speaking.

He said those in the class will receive instruction as well as practice in conducting business meetings. People who are engaged in business, clubs, or activities requiring a knowledge of Roberts' rules of order will find this course helpful, Griggs said.

The course will be taught each Wednesday night at 8 o'clock for 10 weeks in the speech room at the high school. The first lesson is slated for Jan. 18.

Fees for the entire ten weeks course will be $5. Persons who plan to register for this class are asked to contact Edward Griggs at the Crater agriculture department.

Griggs said two other 10-week courses will be offered for adult classes. They are livestock production and beginning welding. Both will be held in agricultural department at Crater High school.

Monday, Jan. 16 at 8 p.m. has been set as date and time for the first livestock production class. The first lesson on beginning welding is slated for Wednesday, Jan. 18 at 8 p.m. Registration for either of these courses may be made by phoning the Crater agriculture department.

Griggs said that the adult courses will be presented by the Crater agriculture department with cooperation and administration of school District 6, the advisory council for agriculture adult classes and the state department of agriculture.

Lions Club Makes School Donations

Shady Cove — It was announced at a recent meeting of the Shady Cove-Tiller Lions club that eight benches have been furnished for the Shady Cove school.

The civic organization also installed lights in the parking lot and playgrounds at the school, according to President Earl Sheppard.

Club officials said that there would be a "zone social" Feb. 11 at the Rogue River lodge with Lion clubs in Prospect, Butte Falls, Central Point, and Gold Hill invited. Ladies night is scheduled for March 8, officers report.

Brewer talked of the construction of the hall, and said it is constructed so that further expansion to the present facilities could be added at an economical cost. Other dormitories could be added without having to alter the showers or plumbing.

Brewer also said he hoped to have four cells or detention units built onto the building in the future, as this building does not have facilities for youths needing detention.

Efforts have been made for the past 10 years to have a hall constructed, but plans were rejected. The children who have come to the probation office in the past have been sent to foster homes on a temporary basis.
