

NCAA Measure Aims at End To Practice of Red-Shirting

By DICK FONTANA
Pittsburgh—(UPI)—A relative calm pervaded the windup session of the 55th annual convention of the National Collegiate Athletic Association today as the 18-member council met to knot loose ends before the spotlight shifts to Miami, Fla.

The NCAA's rules committee meets in Miami Friday to consider changes recommended by the American Football Coaches Association.

At a hectic meeting Wednesday, the NCAA approved a constitutional amendment aimed at ending "red shirting," a practice where an athlete is held back for one or more seasons while gaining maturity.

The NCAA ruled that a student must complete his athletic competition within five years after matriculating for a four-year course.

Judge Rules Against Ex-Piston

New York—(UPI)—Jack Molinas' seven-year battle to get back into the National Basketball Association ended in apparent failure today.

Federal Judge Irving R. Kaufman dismissed Molinas' $3 million damage suit against the NBA Wednesday and upheld the league's lifetime ban against the former Fort Wayne Pistons star, who was suspended on Jan. 10, 1954, after admitting he had bet on his own team.

The 28-year-old Molinas, an attorney who also serves as player-coach with Hazleton of the Eastern Basketball league, may now appeal the federal court's decision but did not say whether or not he would.

"The league NBA was justified in determining that it was absolutely necessary to avoid even the slightest connection with gambling, gamblers, or those who had done business with gamblers, in the future," Kaufman said, in reaching his decision.

Molinas had sued for reinstatement, charging that a lifetime suspension for mere "technical violations" of the league rule against gambling was unreasonable. He also charged the league had blackballed him by refusing to allow NBA players to appear in exhibition games against him.

The charges, Molinas claimed, added up to restraint of trade in violation of federal anti-trust laws.

Kaufman, who heard the case without a jury, ruled against Molinas on all counts, however.

Gambee Helps Syracuse Cause

United Press International
The St. Louis Hawks lost Wednesday night, 133-128, to Syracuse but have little to fear from the other three members of the National Basketball Association's Western division.

The Hawks have only 13 losses, compared to 26 for the Cincinnati Royals, 27 for Los Angeles and 25 for Detroit.

But tonight, Coach Paul Seymour's team faces the Eastern division's runner-up Philadelphia at Philadelphia.

While St. Louis was losing in Syracuse, the New York Knickerbockers beat Los Angeles on the Lakers' home floor, 100-104, and Detroit pleased 5,437 hometown fans by downing Cincinnati 126-122.

The Nationals got tremendous scoring to beat the Hawks, as dauntless and ageless Dolph Schayes hit 35, Dave Gambee, the Oregon State alumnus, poured in 25 and Dick Barnett scored 24. Speed-demon guard Hal Greer hit 23.

Clyde Lovellette had 31 for the Hawks and Bob Pettit scored 29.

Schoepner Has Title Chance

New York—(UPI)—Erich Schoepner of Germany became the "big man" in the light heavyweight division today, assured of a shot at either Archie Moore's chunk of the split crown or the National Boxing Association's vacant version.

Schoepner, champion of Europe, agreed Tuesday night to fight Harold Johnson of Philadelphia for the vacant NBA diadem in case he can't get a quick crack at ancient Archie's laurels.

Moore, 45, is negotiating frantically through Manager Jack (Doc) Kearns to close before Friday for a profitable defense against Schoepner. Otherwise the New York state athletic commission may vacate his title at Friday's meeting.

The NBA vacated his title in September for his long delay in defending. He hasn't risked the crown since Oct. 12, 1952.

Name Outstanding Coaches

At the coaches' annual banquet Wednesday night, Murray Warmath of Minnesota and Warren Woodson of New Mexico State University were named the outstanding coaches of 1960 by their fellow mentors.

Warmath, whose Gophers were UPI national champions and Big Ten titlists, was honored as the top major college coach while Woodson, whose Aggies were unbeaten in 11 games, was named top small college coach.

Atty. Gen.-designate Robert F. Kennedy addressed the coaches' banquet, challenging the group to lead the way in a physical fitness program which he said his brother, President-elect John F. Kennedy, will introduce within the next three months.

In Critical Situation
Kennedy said the U.S. is in a critical situation which

Basketball Loop Organized With 5 Squads

Happy Camp—Men's basketball league has been started in Happy Camp with five teams competing. A 10-game schedule has been drawn up for the teams consisting of forest service, firemen, school faculty, community church, and Seiad Valley. All games will be played Wednesday evenings.

Nine men make up the Seiad team, Ernie Roberts, Jim Allen, Sam Becker, Bill Cadola, Orval Gust, Hank Jennings, Mac MacAdo, Ken Ramey, and Lou Williams.

Community church has combined with the Ukiah non-ranger district to make up its squad of Sid Griffin, George Coombes, Virgil Terry, Pete Goodwin, Dick Everest, Bill Marriot, Lyle Davis, Bob Martin, Lonnie Louchie, Dennis Hanon, E. J. Hiler.

Firemen have Charles Russell, Dave Hutton, Frank Coulens, Clem White, Allen Brown, Ben Atchery, Harold Gault, Leon Higley, Earl Sakota, Bucky Titus, Dave Titus, and Donald Sutcliffe.

Forest service crew is made up of Larry Rodick, Joe Raggsdale, Gordon Glain, Rueben Sullivan, Fred Roberson, Ted Falkner, Jess Hanon, Glenn Hiett, Ed Melroy, George Bailey and Ralph Ramsey.

Faculty team consists of Bob Hokenson, Gilbert Woolwebber, James Foote, Carl Hamilton, David Maxon, Robert Schaeffer, Herbert Sonnenborn, Charles Suellette and Bill Perske.

Grid Injuries Cause 12 Deaths

Pittsburgh—(UPI)—Football injuries were directly responsible for 12 deaths during the 1960 gridiron season, the smallest number of fatalities since 1955.

The death toll was submitted in a report by Dr. Floyd R. Eastwood, chairman of the American Football Coaches Association committee on injuries and fatalities at the coaches' annual meeting.

Dr. Eastwood, a member of the committee since its inception in 1931, said four additional deaths last year could be attributed indirectly to football.

Dr. Eastwood, of Los Angeles State College, said 10 deaths were reported in high school competition and one each in college and professional football. He said there were no sandlot fatalities in 1960 although six were recorded for 1959.

Broncos Bounce Hawaii 61-49

United Press International
Keeping the other team from scoring is just as effective in basketball as putting the ball through the hoop yourself.

The Santa Clara Broncos, leading defensive team in the nation, convincingly demonstrated this Wednesday night in Honolulu when they downed the host Hawaii Rainbows, 61-49.

The score is misleading as the Broncos forced the Islanders to shoot from the outside all through the first half. Hawaii could hit only 6 of 29 in the first half as the Broncos grabbed an impressive 34-17 halftime lead. The Rainbows made the score respectable again in the second half, but

BPA Meet Will Open On Friday

San Bernardino, Calif.—(UPI)—Just about all of the United States' best men and women bowlers are here today for the start of the $68,150 Bowling Proprietors association All-Star tournament at the National Orange Show Exhibit hall.

The 20th annual All-Star tournament proper doesn't get going until Friday but the schedule for today is cramped.

Today's festivities included a motor parade through the streets of San Bernardino, a celebrity luncheon with close to 300 guests and opening ceremonies at 8 p.m.

A two-game preview was to start at 4 p.m. at the hall, which was converted into a bowling palace at a cost of more than $200,000 by the Brunswick Co.

Harry Smith, who won the top award of $10,000 last year, was called back to Cleveland Wednesday because of the death of his father, but he will be back Friday night to start upending pins on schedule.

Sports Award Dinner Tickets Now Being Sold

Portland—Tickets for the annual Bill Hayward Banquet of Champions, Oregon's statewide banquet to honor its finest athletes, went on sale this week, it was announced by the sponsoring Oregon Sports Writers and Broadcasters association.

Only 700 tickets will be available for the Feb. 16 awards dinner at the University of Portland Commons, according to Bill Mulflur, ticket chairman. He urged those desiring tickets make early reservations since a sell-out is predicted for the 12th annual event.

One of the outstanding features of the banquet this year will be the appearance of Norm Van Brocklin, former University of Oregon All-American and the NFL's most valuable player this past season. Van directed the world champion Philadelphia Eagles to the professional title over the Green Bay Packers and enjoyed his 12-year professional career. He will be the principal speaker.

Tickets may be secured from any member of the sponsoring organization, at Morris Rogoway Jewelers, Broadway at Taylor in Portland, or by writing to Bill Mulflur at 3313 N.E. Holladay ave., Portland.

Nomination for the Hayward award closed today.

NCAA Approves Bowl Tussles

Pittsburgh—(UPI)—The NCAA today approved four new college football bowl games for next season, including one called the Mercy Bowl.

The Mercy Bowl will be played in Los Angeles Thanksgiving Day for the benefit of families of 16 California Poly football players killed in a plane crash last fall near Toledo, Ohio. It was approved by the NCAA as a one-shot endeavor with proceeds to go to the Cal Poly memorial fund.

Other bowls receiving the NCAA stamp included: The Aviation Bowl at Dayton, Ohio, Sept. 9, the Presidential Bowl at Washington, Dec. 9, and the Gotham Bowl in New York City, Dec. 9.

HOPE AGAINST PELS—Monte Jones, in black trunks, is one of the chief Medford hopes for individual triumphs when Black Tornado grapplers go to Klamath Falls on Friday.

Jones, a heavyweight, unbeaten this season, is shown here on his way to a decision over Grants Pass high's Ken Bastian last week end.

Medford High school's wrestling team, undefeated and victor over three Southern Oregon conference rivals, matches its prowess against a fourth member of the loop this week.

The Black Tornado opposes Klamath Falls there on Friday. Bouts get underway at 7 p.m.

Klamath also is unbeaten. Comparison of the relative strengths of the two aggregations is available through matches with just one common foe. Medford defeated Crater 39 to 15 and Klamath won from the Comets 41 to 12.

Tied for Fourth
The Klamath Pelicans have many of the boys back who helped take the 1959-1960 club to a fourth place tie in the state championship meet. The

Sprains Hobble SOC For Wolves' Series On Raiders' Court

Ashland—Oregon College of Education provides the competition for Southern Oregon's Red Raider basketball team this week end, but the Raiders are having to cope with the injury jinx at the same time.

Three front line cagers—All-Conference guard Gordy Carrigan, senior forward Don Vannice, and frosh guard Jerry Shults, sprained ankles in drills Tuesday and at least one, Carrigan, will be watching from the sidelines this week end.

"We can only hope Jerry and Don will be able to start," commented a disheartened Ted Schopf, Raider coach. "These injuries have fouled up our whole plan of attack and I don't know, as yet, just what adjustments will be made."

Out for Season
Earlier this week Schopf received news that freshman guard Dave Sharp is out for the season upon doctor's orders. Sharp injured a knee early in the season in the NAIA Tip Off tourney but the knee still hasn't come around, prompting the doctor to sideline the fine prospect from Central Point.

Junior John Payne seems to be recovered from his recent bout with a virus infection and came through with a herculean job in the rebounding department against Eastern Oregon last week end—snagging 31 stray shots in the series.

Payne is slated for starting duty at the pivot and will be flanked by Vannice, if he is ready, and sophomore Dave Hughes, another tough man on the boards.

Shults, who has shown good scoring potential the past two weeks, will start at one guard, if he is able, and his running mate will be Dave Gardner, the slick junior from Prospect.

OCE mentor Bob McCullough guided his Wolves to a 10-14 season last year, his first at the Wolf helm, but this season his squad has won only one game in eight starts.

Ron Jones, All-Conference last year and team high scorer this season, and freshman standout Roy Reeves were dropped from the squad in December because of not enough passing hours the term previous. Their loss was a big

Egan Leads Hawk Five To Upset

United Press International
They call Jack Egan "the horse" at St. Joseph's (Pa.)—but if the rugged 6-5, 195-pounder played baseball instead of basketball, they'd call him an "Old Oriole."

Whatever they call the Bethlehem, Pa., cager, it doesn't match the praise of St. Joseph's Coach Jack Ramsay, who saw Egan, playing despite an injured knee, lead the Hawks to an upset victory over fifth-ranked St. John's, 74-71, Wednesday night.

In other top games, Duke saved face by edging Virginia, 92-90; Army surprised Villanova, 64-49; Georgia Tech defeated Georgia, 89-80, and New York University stopped Temple, 70-67.

Clutch Three-Pointer
Egan scored 20 points, including a clutch three-pointer with two minutes to go to pull out the triumph for St. Joe's. The Hawks led 40-30 at the intermission but had to withstand a St. John's rally to win.

Art Heyman, sophomore sensation for Duke, scored a basket with 12 seconds to go to give the Blue Devils their overtime triumph over lowly Virginia.

The victory kept Duke's Atlantic Coast conference record intact at 4-0 and made its overall mark, 12-1. The loss was the sixth in seven AAC starts this year for Virginia and its 11th defeat in 12 games.

Coach Wants 3 Points for Field Goals

New York—(UPI)—The basketball coaches who have stressed the importance of accurate foul shooting to their eager charges will have a tough time explaining this one.

Dartmouth Coach Doggy Julian feels that free throws are playing too great a role in determining games and to counteract this he has proposed that the value of a field goal in college ball be increased to three points.

Speaking at the weekly meeting of the Metropolitan Basketball Writers Association on Monday, the 59-year-old coach said:

"I don't think this game was meant to be won by fouls."

Value Increased
He told the gathering that the value of the free shot had been further increased by the one-and-one rule and said that in about 50 per cent of the collegiate games a team would outscore but still get beat.

"Sometimes the losing team will score as many as 10 more field goals and lose the game on free throws," Julian said.

The veteran of 24 coaching seasons said he would propose the three-point field goal at the annual meeting of the College Basketball Coaches association in March.

Julian said the adoption of his rule would eliminate stalling and would promote better defense.

Palmer Has Favorite Role at SD

By HAL WOOD
San Diego, Calif.—(UPI)—Arnold Palmer, the man with the golden touch in 1960 and the "finesse" of Babe Ruth in his opening outing in 1961, starts the long road back to bring in the $20,000 San Diego Open golf tournament.

The brilliant National Open and Masters champion, unshaken by what happened last week in the rich Los Angeles Open, rates as one of the favorites in the sun-kissed show here on the Mission Valley course.

Even the sharp showings of Bob Goalby in winning the last two PGA events—at Coral Gables, Fla., in December, and at Los Angeles this week, failed to dampen the enthusiasm here for Palmer.

It was at Los Angeles that the Latrobe, Pa., ace came to the last hole needing a par five for a one-under-par 70 for the first round. Then he hit two "home runs" over the right field fence followed by two more over the left field barrier, taking eight penalty strokes. He finally stomped off the green with a seven-over-par and sickening 12.

While Palmer and Goalby rated the favorites' roles, a couple of home town professionals named Billy Casper and Gene Littler drew considerable attention. Only once in the brilliant careers of these two great pros has either man won on the home course.

AFL Topic May Be Club Shift

By KYLE THOMPSON
Houston, Tex.—(UPI)—The American Football League opened its annual meeting in Houston today amid speculation that the league office would be shifted from Dallas to New York.

None of the eight owners present for the young league's second annual session would comment on the report, but speculation was strong that the headquarters would be brought up at the two-day session which opened today.

Other than the office shift—if it is brought up—the gathering is expected to be relatively quiet and orderly, in contrast with last January's session when owners were getting ready to play in their first season and when they awarded the eighth franchise to Oakland.

Another topic which might come up is the possibility of shifting the Los Angeles Chargers to San Diego. Such reports have been prevalent recently, but commissioner Joe Foss said, "As far as I know, there is nothing definite."

Any franchise transfer requires approval of seven of the eight AFL members.

CORYELL NAMED
San Diego—(UPI)—San Diego State college's football team has a new coach today, Don Coryell, a University of Washington graduate who served as a backfield coach last season at the University of Southern California. Coryell, 36, replaces Paul Gorenvald, who resigned last November after

Honolulu's Entry In Coast League Finally Announced

By KENNETH GALE
Honolulu—(UPI)—Professional baseball came to this sunny land today with the long-awaited announcement that Honolulu will be in the Pacific Coast league this season.

Nick E. Morgan Jr., Salt Lake City businessman who owns the new franchise, planned to name the field manager late today. He said the name of the club will be decided in a contest among the islanders.

The entrance of Honolulu into the Triple-A Pacific Coast league could turn into a break for Kansas City, whose fiery new general manager Frank Lane is always on the lookout for any new source of talent. Morgan has announced that he plans to bring top-flight players from the Philippines and the Far East to stock the club in order "to give the team an international flavor."

Prolonged
The A's will undoubtedly supply plenty of players to the new club, but also naturally will skim off any talented players from the baseball-happy Far East who may perform here.

The official announcement bringing baseball here has been prolonged for days while negotiations were carried on to guarantee the new club will be able to perform in the local ballpark. That agreement was finally arrived at Wednesday night.

The final arrangements were much different than the many proposals discussed in recent weeks.

Morgan will rent Honolulu Stadium from the Honolulu Stadium Corp., of which the university is majority stockholder. He will pay $11,000 per year for five years.

Other teams in the Pacific Coast league are San Diego, Portland, Seattle, Salt Lake City, Vancouver, B.C., and Tacoma and Spokane, Wash.

The eighth team last season was Sacramento, but the franchise folded after almost 50 years, opening the way for Honolulu to join the league.

Montgomery, Ala.—(UPI)—Two cars collided at an intersection here Wednesday, skidded into a third car and stopped directly in front of Air Force Sgt. Roderick Barfoot, 44, a pedestrian. Barfoot collapsed and died of a heart attack.

The Ever-Dangerous Mountain Goat

JIM BOND IN PERSON

THE GREATEST JIM BOND SHOW EVER
"TRAPPING and TRANSPLAINING MOUNTAIN GOATS"
Beauty, drama and suspense are all in this picture-story of the ever-dangerous mountain goats. Photographed on the very "roof tops" in magnificent alpine splendor these cagy veterans of the Montana Rockies give one the feeling, "This is something out of the past." This story is as revealing as it is interesting.

"THE SUN RIVER ELK"

Deep in the heart of the Bob Marshall Wilderness Area — along the Continental Divide, under the Chinese Wall, up the north and the west forks of the Sun River, in the green lush alpine meadows, in the yellow and gold aspen — this monumental color spectacle takes the audience into some of the finest elk country in the nation. Spending months in this majestic "back country," Jim Bond found the handsome elk and photographed them in all their glory. Bugling elk will be heard and once again you will have that grand wilderness feeling.

"YUKON-ALASKA WILDLIFE SPECTACULAR"

In the vast north country, under the spell of the Aurora, Jim Bond found the most fabulous big game country on the continent. Giant 2000-pound bull moose, unsuspecting of danger, come looking for a fight; huge grizzlies roam at will; captivating caribou with racks of antlers you will never, never forget parade before the color camera while white Dall Sheep play about in the rugged peaks and crags.
