Marriage Takes Place In Eugene

News of the wedding of Miss Jo Ann Shore to Michael Stewart Youngblood is of interest in Medford. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Garland Shore, Yakima, Wash., and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ross A. Youngblood, 3255 Hollywood avenue.

Wesley Foundation chapel at Eugene was the setting of the ceremony, held December 23. The Rev. Robert G. Kingsbury officiated at the double-ring candlelight ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of embroidered silk organza with a silk organza cabbage rose at the back of the waistline. Her silk illusion veil was held by a coronet of waxed orange blossoms and she carried a cascade of white gardenias.

Miss Louise Davis, Eugene, maid of honor, and Mrs. Nicholas Steffanoff, Eugene, brides matron, wore peacock blue velvet sheath dresses with velvet bow headpieces and carried crescent bouquets of red poinsettias.

The bride's mother wore beige lace and the mother of the bridegroom was dressed in steel gray silk. Their corsages were orchids.

Robert Youngblood, Medford, brother of the bridegroom, was best man and ushers were Mr. Steffanoff, Eugene, and Joseph Tripp, Portland.

The reception was held in the reception room of the chapel.

The couple visited in Portland, Yakima, Seattle and Olympia on their honeymoon.

The bride is a graduate of Yakima Valley Junior college and will receive her degree in June from the University of Oregon school of journalism.

She is a past president of Alpha Gamma Delta sorority and a member of Theta Sigma Phi, journalism honorary.

The bridegroom, who is assigned to Fort Lewis, Wash., with the United States Army, will complete his education at the University of Oregon school of architecture following his discharge from the service. He earlier attended Pacific university, Forest Grove, where he was affiliated with Alpha Zeta fraternity.

members in the contest. Assisting the hostess at the meeting were Mrs. Robert C. Vincent and Mrs. E. W. Ingram. Mrs. Harry Barker and Mrs. Truman A. Nelson were guests.

Mrs. Mark O. Hatfield, wife of Oregon's governor, will wear this gown at the inaugural ball Friday, January 20, in Washington, D.C. The floor length gown of a French inspired design, is of coupe de velour fashioned with string straps and matching stole. The floral pattern of red flowers and moss green leaves is on an ivory background. She will also wear long white kid gloves and a strand of pearls. Among other events the Hatfields will attend are the reception Thursday for governors of the states and the inaugural parade. For the latter event Mrs. Hatfield plans to wear a black wool suit with red hat. (UPI Telephoto)

Runyard-Kanelis Rites Held in Greek Church

A wedding of interest to valley residents was held January 7 in Portland when Miss Sophia Evangelina Kanelis of that city became the bride of Richard Lee Runyard, also Portland. Mr. Runyard is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Runyard, 2748 Jacksonville Highway, Medford. The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. John Kanelis, Portland.

The wedding was held at 7:30 p.m. in the Greek Orthodox church, and Father Angelo Gavallas officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Mr. Kanelis escorted his daughter to the altar and gave her in marriage. The bride wore a floor length wedding gown of white chantilly lace with chapel train and finger tip veil. She carried a bouquet of roses and stephanotis encircling a white orchid.

Honor attendant was Miss Barbara Eva, Portland. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Constantino Kanelis, sister-in-law of the bride and Mrs. Richard Frost, both of Portland, and Mrs. Donald Spangrud, Salem. They wore dresses of red satin with matching accessories and carried bouquets of red roses and white carnations.

Norman Halbrook, Portland, brother-in-law of the bride, served as best man and ushers were Charles A. Sams, Oswego, and William B. Barnum, Medford, both fraternity brothers of the bridegroom, and Peter J. Kanelis, brother of the bride.

Mrs. Donald Finley, vocal instructor for the bride, was soloist.

Constantino Kanelis, brother of the bride, took charge of wedding arrangements.

The mothers of both the bride and bridegroom wore silk jacket dresses. Mrs. Kanelis chose navy blue. Mrs. Runyard Dior blue with white accessories. Their corsages were white and red orchids.

The reception held at the church hall was attended by 250 guests. It was followed by a buffet supper at the home of the bride's parents for 75 relatives and friends.

The bride, a native of Portland, attended Jefferson High school. The bridegroom attended Medford High school and is a graduate of the University of Oregon.

They are traveling to Chicago, Ill., for their honeymoon. The bridegroom was formerly territory manager for Westinghouse appliance sales in Southern Oregon and Northern California. For the past three and a half years he has been district sales promotion and training manager for Westinghouse in Portland.

After January 16 the couple will reside in St. Joseph, Mich., where Mr. Runyard
