Phoenix Grade School

There are 23 students in Mrs. Jane Germer's first grade. We have two new students, Elizabeth Geary from Springfield, Ore., and La Nell Kendall from Medford.

We have been studying about weather, and how animals adjust to weather and changes in the season. We have made a weather chart and are learning about the thermometer. Many of the boys and girls have written stories about winter for our bulletin board.

We are reading in our new story book and enjoy it very much.

In Mrs. Annie Gertson's room the children are enjoying their Weekly Readers. They give information about different kinds of weather; animals in the far North and other data. They also include a page of phonics which correlates with our own reading program.

In Mrs. Alice Swingle's first grade room we are finding out about winter weather. We found out by looking out the window. We can tell how cold it is by looking at the thermometer outside. We can also listen to the weather report on the radio or watch the weather man on television. They tell us what the weather might be for the next several days. We are making a weather chart on our calendar. We made a bulletin board. We put snow-men on it because winter is cold.

Mrs. Fern Walker's second grade is studying the dairy industry. The students are learning how much is involved in milk processing from the dairy to the table. Both reading groups in Mrs. Gertrude Wooten's room have advanced to new books since the holidays. We are working on phonics booklets which will be taken home when they are completed.

The writing in Mrs. Nadine Ramirez's room has progressed so well that we are going to start cursive writing this week. We are studying about winter and how it affects people and animals. We hope to have a nice bulletin board about winter.

In the three third grade rooms we have a total of 45 boys and 28 girls. This makes it hard for them to play partner games because the boys are reluctant to be girls. Our new boy, Donald Kelley came from McDoel, Calif. Two of our third grade girls moved just before Christmas. Ruth Humphrey moved to California, and Katherine Moad moved to Jacksonville. Lanny Harris went on a trip to Disneyland during the holidays.

Mrs. Martha Brown's third grade has been studying about the many changes that take place around us. We have found that nothing ever stays the same and that the four seasons cause many of these changes. We have a fine collection of rocks and stones in our room which we have identified and classified.

Third grade students have begun rehearsing harmony band selections which will be presented at Open House.

Mrs. Ardis Praman's fourth grade class has begun writing doodle stories. For quite some time they have been making doodle drawings while listening to Standard School Broadcasts. From now on they will write stories to fit the doodles. Many times the stories are "out of this world."

Mrs. Zuba Stuck's pupils are making pictures of deserts and oases in black and white in connection with a social study unit on the Sahara desert. The room is also planning a mural on the same subject to be done in colors, using chalk.

Mrs. Shirley Kannasto's fourth grade group has just finished a unit in social stud-

St. Mary's School

By MICKEY FAD

To prepare for the first league game of this basketball season with Butte Falls on Jan. 10, the St. Mary's Pep club announced a contest. Each member of the student body was called upon to construct a hat or a placard for that day in the motif of the challenge of that evening, and 30 per cent responded to the call.

Lollipop prizes were given to Jim Durney for the cleverest sign, and to Jim Calhoun and Mike Read for the silliest. Honorable mention went to Annette Burich and Kerry O'Hara for hats, and to Arnold Kozmatka for his sign.

Students of the high school are looking forward to the trip to Klamath Falls today when St. Mary's plays Sacred Heart school there. It has been traditional for the schools to meet after the game for dinner and a dance. In February, Sacred Heart will journey to Medford and the treat will be returned.

This week has been the last full one of the first semester. Next Wednesday and Thursday will be the semester exams; Friday is the semester holiday.

Friday, Jan. 13, Coach Bill McKibbin and the basketball team demonstrated offensive patterns and the man to man and zone defenses to the student body at a pep rally held in the afternoon before the game with Prospect.

Members of Frank Koch's sixth grade have been studying about Mexico. The group has been reporting on various phases of Mexico and the people of that country. The class has invited members of the high school Spanish class who spent Christmas in Mexico to talk to them and show slides.

Mr. Bassett, a student teacher, joined Marvin Gettling's fifth grade class Jan. 5. He was in the Submarine Service for four years. He will teach until March.

Mr. Gettling's class has found that many things can be made with toothpicks by breaking and bending them. They made different designs such as stars, animals, people, houses, cars and boats.

Miss Alene Inlow's fifth grade class visited the Jacksonville Museum Jan. 13 to study the exhibits relating to their social studies unit "The Civil War."

Mary Lou Klann is a student teacher this term.

Mrs. Alta Lisonbee's third grade had their culminating activity for their Indian social studies unit. They wrote letters of invitation to their parents and decorated them with Indian symbols.

The program consisted of poems, an Indian legend, creative dramatics, songs, reports on the different groups of Indians in America, and dances. They accompanied their dancing with drums and rattles they had made in art. They also played an Indian game with a peach seed. At the end of the program some of the children did some Indian sign language.

The boys and girls in Mrs. Charlotte Hull's second grade have two new gold fish. One is black and one is gold. The children are learning how to care for them.

Two students, Seniors Liz King and Nancy Pettitt, achieved straight A's for the second six weeks.

Freshman class had 17 students with no grade lower than a B. They are Robert Barrentine, LeAnne Clupny, Daniel Cooper, Paulette Creel, Michele Dube, John Foster, Lorna Fowler, Pam Grove, Mike Langley, Teresa Mata, Nellie Morris, Linda Mullin, Lois Rasmussen, Sandra Roth, and Ron Tompkins. Seniors were second with 12 students receiving no grade lower than a B. They are Von Chesnut, Diane DeLuca, Pat Diederich, David Fisher, Jack Fowler, Barbara Gysin, Richard Hilliard, Frances Kievet, Rebecca McAlaster, Bill Oldham, Shearon Poole and Joyce Stockstill.

Seven juniors also received no grade lower than a B. They are Barbara Beer, Cheryl Bowman, Diane Carter, Bonnie Faytinger, James Schwietert, Frank Thorpe, and Wade Vanbebber.

Fresh placed second with five students having B averages. Judy Bagley, Betty Howell, Sandra Pape, Dale Sauer and Janie Sult.

The Graham family made preparations for the trip by studying the language and buying a car. They flew to Bolivia, and their belongings will be shipped to them later.

Dr. Graham is an exchange professor from Southern Oregon college and is expected to return in two years.

Paul and Jane Westbrook's National Assembly attraction appeared in the Phoenix gymnasium Tuesday, Jan. 3. The program was entitled "Songs with a Story." Broadway hit tunes, American folk songs, and semi-classical favorites were included in the program.

Bass Baritone Paul Westbrook sang a song of David and Goliath and told a story of Cinderella. All words were reversed to bring forth a comical effect, as "Rinderella" demonstrates.

Jane Westbrook, mezzo soprano, sang a selection from "The Sound of Music" along with "Shenandoah." She also sang a duet with Mr. Westbrook later in the program.

Penny Blacketer, Linda Sue Thompkins and Penny Simmonds were elected Junior Varsity cheerleaders recently by the members of the Student Council. They were elected from a field of 14 girls.

The girls were chosen for their appearance, reputation, poise, willingness to work, cheering ability, school spirit, and leadership. Other points that were checked were their dependability, scholastic average, co-ordination, pep, smile, and voice.

Beginning a dull typing class is being offered at PHS for the first time in an evening course. Class start Monday, Feb. 6, in the business education room at the high school.

Lessons will be held from 7:30 p.m. to 9 p.m. and a certificate of attainment will be awarded. No enrollment will be taken after the second session. Mrs. Mildred Hart, commercial course instructor, will conduct the lessons. For further information call Key-stone 5-1442.

The boys and girls in Mrs. Charlotte Hull's second grade have two new gold fish. One is black and one is gold. The children are learning how to care for them.

The children are also learning how the roots of plants grow by watching hyacinth bulbs develop roots under water.

The class is glad to have three new pupils added to the room. Jerry Mattack is from Grants Pass. Michael Murphy has transferred from Briscoe to Walker. The other pupil, Cindy Shipley, has returned after living in Bend for three months.

Mrs. Judith Paulson's second grade has been busy since vacation time. All the boys and girls worked on a mural for the hall bulletin board titled "Winter Wonderland."

The class also wrote a story about clothes for winter, and has started a display of materials. Some of the pieces of cloth are made from plants and animals. Other materials are made by people.

Miss Marlene Powell is a student teacher in Mrs. Clara Fader's first grade room.

The children having birthdays in January are Bruce Dickerson, Randy and Kevin Litwiller.

Jerry Montgomery and Jim Johnson returned to school this week after being ill.

CP Junior High Edited by Donna Bailey and Suzy Flynn

Thursday, Jan. 5, a program for parents of Central Point Elementary and Junior High students called, "Lights on for Education" sponsored by the Parent-Teacher association was held at Crater High school. This was part of a statewide effort to help parents understand their schools.

A football awards assembly was held for Central Point Junior High students Friday, Dec. 22. Letters and certificates were given to all seventh and eighth grade football players who earned awards during the season. Six special awards were given and are as follows: Steve Jorde, sportsmanship; Kelly Wilson and Jim Pitts, downfield blocking; Fred Marshall, most tackles; Danny Cesaro, most improved player, and Greg Faulkner, most valuable player.

Jerry Burns and Roy Bailey have both written poetry that has been published in the annual Anthology of High School Poetry. These students' poems were submitted to the National High School Poetry association and accepted for publication. Jerry Burns wrote "Me" and Roy Bailey wrote "The Advance."

Jane and Paul Westbrook presented a singing program for the National School Assembly, Jan. 3. They sang a whole" and "Make some specific suggestions for improvements" were asked and are being counted and discussed.

Ashland was host to a Pep Club-Yell Leader Conference for the first time. Schools that participated were Eagle Point, Grants Pass, Henley, Phoenix, and Ashland.

In a buzz session they discussed ways to create interest in pep clubs and ways to work closer together. Money-making projects, assemblies, ways to create pep throughout the school and ways to attract townspeople to the games were also discussed.

Forest Grove will be host the 16th annual Northwest High School Journalism Conference.

Members of the journalism class of PHS conducted an opinion poll Thursday, Jan. 12, in order to find what the students think should be done to improve the school paper.

Questions such as "What is your opinion of the paper as

CAB Increases Mail Pay Rate on Pacific

The Civil Aeronautics board has increased Pacific Air Lines' mail pay rate retroactively for the year ending Oct. 31, 1960.

The CAB has also established a new mail rate which is designed to cover the difference between the carrier's total commercial revenues received from passengers, freight and express, and total operating expenses, plus a fair rate of return on the company's investment.

The new rate became effective Nov. 1, 1960. It is based upon Pacific's expanded route system, which now provides scheduled service to 32 West Coast cities including Medford.
