

Kennedy Attends Gala Pre-Inaugural Parties in Capital

Washington - AP - President-elect John F. Kennedy hob-nobbed with the biggest stars of the entertainment and political worlds Tuesday night at two glittering pre-inaugural parties in his honor.

One was given by his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Smith, at their Georgetown home. The other was staged in a downtown hotel by Bart Lytton, a big money raiser for the Democrats.

Kennedy spent only about five hours in the capital between the time he landed here from Palm Beach, Fla., and took off again for New York City.

The President-elect was greeted by large crowds at the parties - both inside and outside.

Kennedy arrived at 8:50 p.m. (EST) - an hour late - at the Smiths' black tie party, first of a series of social festivities leading up to the President-elect's inauguration Friday.

Youngster Spends 60 Hours in Wreck With Dead Father

Hoquiam, Wash. - AP - "I slept a little, cried a little and hollered a little."

With those words, Michael Mason, 7, Tacoma, Wash., today described a 60-hour nightmare he spent pinned inside the wreckage of a car with the body of his father, Thomas, 30, beside him.

Michael was found Tuesday soaking wet and suffering from shock and exposure. Hospital sources today said the boy was in fair condition.

"Please get me a drink of water" were his first words to his rescuer, Paul Rowe.

As near as can be determined, the accident happened sometime late Saturday night. The state patrol theorized that Mason was travelling at an excessive rate of speed, went off the road and down a 20-foot embankment near Taholah, Wash., a small Indian village on the Quinalt Reservation about 30 miles from here in western Washington.

Putting up Signs
An earthslide occurred in the area over the week end. Rowe, a state highways department employee, was in the area putting up signs to caution motorists when he heard the boy yelling for help.

"I couldn't see a thing from the highway," Rowe said. "I had to walk over to the edge

Khrushchev Promises Continued Soviet Help To Armed Revolutions in World

Moscow - AP - Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev has pledged continued Soviet help to "inevitable" national armed revolutions throughout the world.

He also has renewed his threat to force Western withdrawal from Berlin, and has claimed the Soviet Union alone stopped England and France during their invasion with Israel of Egypt in 1956.

Khrushchev stated his views in a 20,000-word speech Jan. 6 to members of the Academy of Social Sciences and the Communist Party Central Committee in Moscow. The text was made public Tuesday in the magazine Kommunist.

Emphasizing that the Communists support national liberation wars "fully and without reservation," Khrushchev said "such wars are not only permissible but inevitable."

Will Support Rebellions
He said revolutionary wars should not be confused with local wars, such as the 1956 Suez crisis or wars between states.

Khrushchev has stated previously that the historical Marxist doctrine of the inevitability of wars between Communism and capitalism no longer is valid because of present-day conditions in the world.

The Soviet leader stressed in his Jan. 6 speech, however, that Russia will support national rebellions such as those carried out by the Algerian and Vietnamese rebels.

Turning to the Western powers, Khrushchev said that time had shown the positions of the United States, Britain and France to be "especially vulnerable in West Berlin."

"These powers cannot fail to realize that the occupation regime in that city will end sooner or later," he said.

Repeating past Soviet threats to sign a separate peace treaty with East Germany, Khrushchev said "it is necessary to continue step by step to bring the aggressive-minded imperialists to their senses, to compel them to reckon with the real situation."

"And if they balk, we shall take resolute measures, we shall sign a peace treaty with the German Democratic Republic (East Germany), for we are fully determined to conclude a German peace treaty."

at long last to pull out the thorn that the occupation regime of West Berlin is from the heart of Europe," he said.

Recalling the French-British-Israeli invasion of Egypt which caused the Suez crisis, Khrushchev said that when he and then Premier Nikolai Bulganin visited England that year, British statesman spoke "quite frankly" about their desire to settle accounts with Egypt which had nationalized the Suez Canal.

"We taught them plainly: 'If you start a war, you'll lose it, we will not be neutral,'" Khrushchev said he told the British.

During the Suez crisis, Russia threatened to send "volunteers" to help the Egyptian forces.

Poll Shows Unfair Business Increasing

New York - AP - Unfair business practices are on the increase, according to a poll of 600 management and sales executives.

Salesweek magazine, which took the poll, asked the executives to indicate unethical practices they most often encountered. Forty-five per cent cited misrepresentation of merchandise, 38 per cent felt demand for kickbacks had increased in recent years, and 32 per cent saw more price gouging. Only 6 per cent listed padded expense accounts among unethical practices.

Glamour Issues on Upside in Mixed Stock Market List

New York - AP - Rails, electronics and other glamour issues were upside attractions in an otherwise mixed stock market today.

IBM ran up 3 1/2 points while Texas Instruments and Zenith added 2 or more. Gains ran past a point in Motorola, Polaroid, Revlon, Beckman and Thomson-Ramo-Wooldrige.

Steels, motors, chemicals and the great bulk of the heavy industrial issues moved in a fairly narrow range. Union Carbide added a point in the chemicals, however, and Kerr-McGee around 1 in the oils.
