Jim Hudock Tarheels' Hoop Cog

By United Press International

Doug Moe and York Larese have been hogging the headlines for North Carolina this season but Coach Frank McGuire will tell you the Tarheels wouldn't be on their current 11-game winning streak without Jim Hudock.

The 6-7, 217-pound Hudock, who didn't figure too prominently in McGuire's pre-season plans, combined with the "Yankee" sharp-shooting pair of Moe and Larese to lead the sixth-ranked Tarheels to a 97-66 romp over rival North Carolina State Wednesday night.

The victory moved North Carolina into a tie with Duke for first place in the Atlantic Coast conference, each having 5-0 records in league play.

Hudock From Pennsylvania

Moe, from Brooklyn, N.Y., and Larese, from New York City, each scored 27 points in topping the Tarheel scorers while Hudock – another Northerner, from Tunkhannock, Pa.–chipped in 20 points and provided the Tarheel rebound strength as they rolled to their 12th triumph against two losses.

Xavier of Ohio, with guard Bill Kirvin tossing in 24 points, handed ninth-ranked Louisville its second straight defeat, 84-77.

Pittsburgh held sophomore star Rod Thorn to eight points but failed to overcome West Virginia, which downed the Panthers, 73-68.

Washington In Need of Cage Win

United Press International

Washington must win a game or two at Stanford this week end or else join the California Bears on the shelf in the Big Five cage race.

Even though the conference race has not reached the halfway point, the Bears are already out of contention with four straight losses and most road games remaining.

Washington's plight is almost as bad. The Huskies are 1-3 as they move into Stanford's tiny pavilion. The Cards are 1-0 in the league, but a 5-7 season mark would indicate they are heading for trouble in this year's conference race.

Thus it now appears that UCLA and Southern California only have each other to fear in deciding not only Big Five, but Pacific Coast honors this year. They are idle this week.

Other major cage action this week end spotlights the Northwest independents. They play musical chairs as Idaho meets Oregon State, Washington State faces Oregon, and Gonzaga tangles with Seattle Friday.

Saturday's games pit Washington State-Oregon State, Portland and Alaska U., Montana State-Seattle, and Idaho-Oregon.

Twenty-nine of the 40 small college coaches who voted this week picked Tennessee State first.

Hofstra also won two games, improving its record to 12-1. Mississippi Southern, with an 11-1 mark, was idle last week and dropped from second to third place.

Van Brocklin Coach Of Minnesota Viks

Minneapolis, Minn. – (UPI) – Norm Van Brocklin today had the job he "hoped and hoped for"–head coach of the Minnesota Vikings, newest member of the National Football league.

Van Brocklin, who quarterbacked the Philadelphia Eagles to the league championship, signed a three-year contract in the Vikings office Wednesday.

"I am realizing one of my greatest ambitions in receiving this job," he said.

General Manager Bert Rose of the Vikings said Van Brocklin's salary would not be disclosed. But Viking officials had been talking in the neighborhood of $20,000 and $25,000.

12-Year Player Career

"My last season with Philadelphia was definitely my last as a player," Van Brocklin, 34, told United Press International. He moves into NFL coaching ranks after a 12-year career as one of the game's outstanding quarterbacks. He performed 12 seasons in the league, nine with the Los Angeles Rams and the last three with the Eagles.

Van Brocklin began his pro career with the Los Angeles Rams in 1949, after a great career at the University of Oregon.

He retired at the end of the 1957 season, but came back the following year and was traded to Philadelphia.

Has Leadership Ability

"Among Norm's greatest qualities as a player," said Rose, "is his demonstrated ability of leadership. We need that leadership as a new team in a tough league."

Vikings Vice President Max Winter said, "Van Brocklin has been famous for developing young players. He'll have a good chance to use those talents with us."

The new coach said his first chore will be selecting players from the 36 veterans the other teams are offering the Vikings.

"Then," he said, "will come the job of selecting assistant coaches."

Van Brocklin said he is particularly pleased to have George Shaw (former New York quarterback) in the fold.

Comets Entertain Klamath's Pelicans

Central Point–Crater high's Comets have the opportunity to go for broke in basketball this week end. They oppose Klamath Falls, leader of the loop in a Southern Oregon conference struggle here on Friday.

Klamath, unbeaten in the league, bounced the Comets 66 to 36 in their first tangle of the current campaign. Crater, however, in past contention has given the Pelicans some stiff competition on the Central Point floor. And, the Comets will shoot the works in an effort to beat their past performances in battles with the Pels.

Crater has just the one game this week. Klamath Falls has two but is expected to run into little or no trouble as host to Ashland on Saturday.

The Comets have been hampered in their tuning this week by the absence of guard Louis Alvarez who has been out of school because of a bad cold.

Coach Lloyd Hoffine said that the Comets are "trying to do something" to meet the problem of Klamath's big men. The mentor may go with both of his tallest Crater players in the opening lineup, Dennis Edwards and Bryson LaCasse, with Loyal Higinbotham, Mike Glines and Tom White or Jeff Anhorn completing the five.

A 6:30 p.m. junior varsity opener is planned here on Friday.

On Saturday the freshmen teams of the two schools vie at 1 p.m. and sophomore teams are billed for 3 p.m. at Central Point.

At 5 p.m. Saturday Crater and Henley wrestling teams meet here.

Free Toss Finals on Saturday

Oregon State College, Corvallis – Some 50 grade school free throw champions from every corner of the state of Oregon will participate in the third annual State Elks Free Throw championship at the OSC Coliseum Saturday, Jan. 21.

Howard Durand, Estacada, winner of last year's contest, again won the Oregon City Elks Lodge local contest and will be on hand to defend his title. However, the best local mark this year belongs to Rickie Abrahamson of Myrtle Creek who carries a 46 out of 50 total in winning his local contest. Abrahamson is the real veteran of the state tournament, competing in 1959, 1960 and again this year.

Gill Speaker

Activities start at noon Saturday with a luncheon at the Corvallis Elks lodge at which OSC Coach Slats Gill will be the guest speaker. The contest starts at the coliseum at 1:30 p.m. when each boy will shoot 50 free throws. The best four will gain the finals at halftime of the OSC-WSU basketball game the same evening. The champion will receive an all expense trip with the OSC Beavers to Moscow, Idaho, for a basketball series in February.

An estimated 50,000 youngsters have competed during the past three years in prelims leading up to the finals. The contest was founded in 1959 by Tournament Director Jim Barratt of OSC, Rex Smith of Corvallis Elks lodge and Jack Zimbrick, Lebanon Elks lodge.

Ron Roberts, St. Mary's eighth grader, won the Medford area contest and will go with his coach, Duane Daley, to Corvallis on Saturday to enter the state runoff.

Weather Great for Clambake

By HAL WOOD

Pebble Beach, Calif.–(UPI)– The $50,000 Bing Crosby national pro-amateur golf tournament got under way today on three different golf courses –with the weather man the star performer.

The world's greatest golfers, paired with celebrities from the entertainment and sports world, teed off in near-perfect weather conditions – with promises that the sun would be shining "at least through Saturday."

Arnold Palmer, the National Open and Masters champion, big money winner and victor in the San Diego Open last week, is the favorite to cop most of the cash. Especially if the weather stays nice.

But defending champion Ken Venturi, who skipped the San Diego Open to sharpen his game here, also is highly rated. And so are a dozen or so of the other stars.

To the touring "follow the sun" golfers, however, the weather was the big surprise.

This course is noted for stormy weather at this time of year–high winds, fog and rains.

First prize in the proranks is worth $4,000. And it is possible to pick up more in the pro-amateur division. The purses are divided with $40,000 to the leaders in the pro division, with the other $10,000 to the pros who get a lot of help from their amateur partners.

Builder Claims Runaround in Stadium Offer

New York–(UPI)–A prominent builder charged today he is getting a "Tinker-to-Evers-to-Chance runaround" despite his offer to construct a stadium for the new National league club in New York at cost.

Samuel J. Lefrak, president of the Lefrak organization which ranks as one of the largest builders in the country, said "the ball club, the public and the city would be the chief beneficiaries" if his offer was accepted, but so far it has not been.

"I am perfectly ready to put my money where my mouth is," Lefrak declared, "and there are no strings attached to the offer.

"I have made the offer to city officials and to officials of the ball club, and they all agree it's a fine plan, but then they sit back and do absolutely nothing about it."

Lefrak, a 42-year-old sportsman who roots for the Dodgers and owns a racing stable among his other interests, made written offers to build a new stadium in New York without profit twice before. His first offer was made Sept. 13, 1957, and his second one on May 28, 1958.

Big Five Score Lead Retained By Rudometkin

San Francisco – (UPI) – John Rudometkin, one of the powers in Southern California's drive toward a Big Five basketball title, retained his scoring lead in the league's statistical scramble today with an average of 22.5 points per contest.

The Trojan star also was third in rebounds with a 108 mark, fourth in free throws with an .857 average and was hitting at a .529 average from the floor for fifth spot among the field goal elite.

John Hendry of Stanford led the field goal shooters percentagewise with .615 but the average was figured on eight goals out of 13 attempts. Rudometkin had potted 36 out of 68 and sophomore Ed Corell of Washington 16 out of 27 for a .593.

Bill McClintock of California had snagged 52 rebounds for a .175 mark to top the board men and Washington's Clint Names was the best on the free throw line by meshing 12 out of 13.

Southern California led in offense, averaging 68 points per game. Stanford paced the league in defense, holding the enemy to an average of 52 per contest.

The Tulsa coaching vacancy occurred last Friday when Dobbs' younger brother, Bobby, 37, agreed to become head coach of the Calgary Stampeders of the Canadian Football league. Glenn, 40, had been athletic director at Tulsa since June, 1955.

Honolulu Park Activity Scene

Honolulu–(UPI)–Crews worked over the ground of Honolulu Stadium today to make it ready for the opening of the Pacific Coast league season April 20.

Stadium manager Mackay Yanagisawa reported that ground crews were being kept busy churning up the stock car-hardened crust of top soil at the stadium. He said a new layer of soil would be added soon.

Additional work on the grandstand and the field lighting system has also started.

Meanwhile, the general manager of the Edmonton Eskimos of the Western Canada Baseball league said he hoped his city would be able to land a PCL franchise soon.

John Ducey is in Honolulu with his wife on a two-week vacation.

MHS Cagers Face Grizzlies, Cavemen

Medford's Black Tornado basketballers find themselves this week in the same position as they did a week ago.

They are girding for two Southern Oregon conference games while one of their chief challengers has but one week end fracas and can go all out in preparations against the Hurricane.

Medford on Friday goes to Ashland to meet the league's cellar-occupying team. On Saturday the Tornado encounters the Grants Pass Cavemen at Hedrick court in Medford.

It will be the second meeting of the season for Medford with the two conference foes. Tornado hoopsters romped over Ashland in the initial session but Grants Pass gave the Pear city stalwarts one of their toughest scuffles in the loop so far. Medford won from Ashland 75 to 19 and from Grants Pass 66 to 59.

Team Perks Up

The Cavemen have only Medford on their slate this week. Ashland goes to Klamath Falls on Saturday evening.

Coach Frank Roelandt reported that his Tornadoes seemed tired earlier in this week after a tough school grind last week and two hard games. As of yesterday, however, he said, they appeared to have their old drive back.

At Ashland on Friday the tripleheader slate is sophomores at 5:15 p.m., jayvees at 6:30 p.m. and varsities at 8:15 p.m.

Grants Pass and Medford jayvees on Saturday will clash at 6:30 p.m. at Hedrick gym while sophomores mix at the senior high court.

Raise Given Piersall by Cleveland

By MILTON RICHMAN
United Press International

Jim Piersall, Duke Snider and Gil Hodges all got exactly what they expected today –meaning more money than last year for the pixyish Cleveland outfielder but considerably less for the pair of Los Angeles veterans.

Piersall, who is being eagerly sought by his old boss, General Manager Frank Lane of Kansas City, said he hoped to remain with the Indians after okaying an increase which brings his salary up to an estimated $30,000.

Piersall had been expected to be a much tougher customer to sign in view of the fine season he enjoyed. Despite his numerous run-ins with umpires, he batted .282, hit 18 homers and drove in 66 runs.

Snider and Hodges, both of whom had poor seasons, didn't have much to argue about.

"Both expected cuts – and took them," said General Manager E. J. (Buzzy) Bavasi, who insisted, however, that the two men still fit into the Dodgers' plans for the coming campaign.

Snider hit .243 last season and Hodges a dismal .198. Bavasi told Snider it would take "an unusual trade offer" to get him away from the Dodgers and the statement seemed to dim the New York Yankees' prospects for acquiring the left-handed hitting outfielder.

Eagles Vie At Phoenix

Phoenix–One of the most spirited rivalries of the Rogue league will loom again Friday when Phoenix and Eagle Point High schools clash here in basketball.

Each of the aggregations will have in mind its ambition to stay in contention in the circuit. The Eagles and Pirates currently are knotted with Illinois Valley in third place.

Varsity game time here will be 8 p.m. A junior preliminary is slated.

In other Rogue scrapes on Friday Henley will aim to protect its lone unbeaten status against an invader, second place Lakeview, and Rogue River will oppose Illinois Valley at Cave Junction.

A non-league engagement on Saturday night will have Glide at Phoenix.
