NO. 9 IN A SERIES

Mother of Seven Has Much To Write About

Murphy—Mail Tribune Murphy correspondent Joan Milleman says she is interested in people and enjoys writing about them.

As a mother of seven children ranging in ages from 17 to 2 1/2, Mrs. Milleman finds that her activities in school organizations give her much to write about.

Presently she is president of the Grants Pass High school PTA and is legislative chairman of the Murphy school PTA. Her other activities include membership in the Republican Women's club and serving as legislative chairman of the Josephine County Medical auxiliary.

Occasionally she finds time for her favorite hobbies—reading and flower arranging. She has been a correspondent for three months. "I am still so new at it all that it is pleasing just to see what I have written appear in print," she says.

She says much of her time is spent taking children to and from band practice, basketball practices and games, skating parties, music lessons and somehow squeezing in the required amount of cooking, bedmaking and ironing.

Her other writing experience consists of in her words: "Writing such deathless prose as 'Please leave only one quart of milk today,' and 'Dear Miss Jones: Steve was absent yesterday because he had the measles.'"

Mrs. Milleman and her husband, Dr. R. J. Milleman, moved to Murphy after having lived in New York, Arkansas, Georgia, Virginia and Pennsylvania.

Tablets

Table Rock — The Table Rock Ladies club held their first meeting of the year, Wednesday, Jan. 11, at the home of Mrs. Everett Brown, with Mrs. Hobart Moore assisting. Club members brought materials to be used by veterans at Camp White in their work projects. Members also donated cutlery for the special education room at the Central Point school. A highly interesting part of the program was slide-projector pictures shown by Mrs. Ernest Smith of local scenes, including the Table Rocks, Rogue river, farms, blossoming orchards, flower gardens, homes and people, also other Oregon scenes including Crater and Diamond lakes.

Two women drivers had their cars skid on ice spots and go into the ditch near the Robert Dunn home Thursday morning, as they were on their way to Medford. Sam Glass, the ex-Marine, was called into service and soon had the cars out—and the thankful ladies on their way.

We heard a radio announcer say that more people get their news first on radio than any other medium. We wondered if he ever heard of the grapevine rumor medium. They used to say that everyone in a small town knew what was going on and read the paper only to learn if it had been found out. Now comes A. C. Allen Sr., a man in our town who says he can't read the M.T. because it is getting so big, he doesn't have time, so he doesn't know what has been found out around the Table Rocks.

From all the pleas we are hearing and reading for help for the needy, Kennedy's campaign talks about our economy must have been nearer correct than the opposition would have us believe. Speaking of people needing help, reminds us of an incident that happened locally back in the 90s. A family had moved into a small house on the bank of the irrigation ditch on what is now the Modoc orchard, a short distance from the present Modoc barn. The man had worked during the summer but with the coming of winter, work had shut down. J. C. Pendleton, a neighbor, visited the home and reported that the family needed help, so a goodly supply of food was collected and Pendleton hitched his team to the spring wagon and delivered the food.

In those days farmers had little money but plenty of wholesome food, including dried apples, ham and eggs krait, pickles, sorghum, flour, meats of all kinds, milk and he had been riding, and got between the shafts and was traveling along when a policeman stopped him and said, "Where are your lights?" Peter nodded toward the rear, and said, "Why don't you ask the driver?"
