

Varied Subjects Chosen For Extension Meetings

February is a "free choice" month for lessons in Jackson county Home Extension units. No lesson has been given by the home demonstration agent to project leaders in every unit, so each unit will plan and present a program of its own choosing.

Mrs. Fred Lorish, who holds a master's degree in landscape architecture from Smith college, gave a lesson on that subject to project leaders from 16 of the county's 30 units. Many requests for the lesson had been made by unit members.

Other groups will have a wide variety of programs.

Lake Creek
Lake Creek unit will meet Wednesday, February 1, at the home of the chairman, Mrs. Harry Bartling. The lesson is on "landscaping" and will be given by Mrs. Willard Welch and Mrs. Bartling. Many suggestions will be given for this season of the year. The meeting opens promptly at 10:30 a.m.

Applegate Valley
Mrs. John Byrne and Mrs. Clifton Childers will lead the discussion on landscaping at a meeting of Upper Applegate unit at the home of Mrs. Ray Lampkin Wednesday, February 1. Mrs. R. C. Minear, Medford, will speak to the group on reception of gift articles sent to mental hospitals.

Everyone attending is to bring a sack lunch, and table service for dessert which will be furnished. Child care will be provided, and meetings always are open to everyone interested.

Butte Falls
Mending tips will be the lesson topic for the Butte Falls unit, Thursday, February 2, at 10:30 a.m. at the home of Mrs. Dean Boggan.

Mrs. Angel Conley will show how to make a woven patch for woolen materials during the forenoon. "Fun, mending," with the new laundry-proof glues which come from squeeze bottles, will be part of Mrs. Keith Scott's demonstration.

For those who have never used the quick overall patch, and for those who have wondered how to mend that hole in the fuzzy coat, Mrs. B. T. Fredenburg plans to give practical suggestions. Other tips will be given in the form of displays and explanation.

To get the most out of the lesson, members are asked to bring some woolen material, a number 7 or 8 crochet hook and a small garment to mend. Child care will be at the home of Mrs. Richard Pepple and those attending luncheon are to bring table service.

Griffin Creek
Mrs. G. L. Mero and Mrs. N. E. Harper will give a lesson on landscaping at the meeting of the Griffin Creek unit Friday, February 3, at the Grange hall. The business meeting will begin at 11 a.m. with a covered dish luncheon at noon.

Mrs. Russell Killingsworth and Mrs. Lawton Prewitt will be hostesses for the day.

Sweetheart Dinner Slated

A sweetheart dinner for the February meeting was planned by Rogue chapter, Grandmother Clubs of America, at a meeting January 23 at the Girls Community Club. It will be held February 24. Mrs. Bessie Young and a committee will make arrangements; Mrs. Nina Chandler will arrange the program.

Dessert was served to 39 members and two visitors, Mrs. Irene Kinney and Mrs. Ethel Sablock.

Mrs. J. P. Graham was auctioneer for a "white elephant" sale which netted over $15.

Mrs. Arthur Webster, president, conducted the business meeting. The welfare committee reported two large quilts and a baby quilt had been given to those in need at Christmas time. The sum of $10 was sent to the Cystic Fibrosis foundation; this is the national president's project.

February 28 is the birthday of Dorothea Sullivan, past national president and members are asked to send her a shower of cards.

Mrs. Rose Bolin was chairman of the hostess committee.

Philharmonic Rehearsals Set

Chorus rehearsals will resume Monday, January 30, and each Monday thereafter for the Philharmonic concert March 26. Rehearsals will be held in Room 31 at McLoughlin Junior High school at 7:30 p.m.

Miss Gerry Derricksen will be accompanist for the main work which will be Joseph Haydn's "The Seven Last Words of the Saviour on the Cross."

The chorus is open for all singers in the area.

Shower Held In Gold Hill

Gold Hill - Mrs. Charles Beck was honored at a layette shower given at the home of her parents on Sardine Creek road. Hostesses were Mrs. Henry Paulson, Mrs. Georgia Wilson and Mrs. Leonard McMahan.

Winners of game awards were Mrs. E. Blancher, Mrs. Jack Andreu, Mrs. Nora Wait and Mrs. R. M. Gray.

A pink umbrella trimmed with butterflies and ribbons decorated the gift table. Mrs. Robert Jacks, sister of the honoree, assisted with the gift opening.

Other guests were Mrs. Ernest H. Cooper, Mrs. Donald Dusenberry, Mrs. H. S. Deuel, Mrs. Thelbert Wright, Mrs. William Wright, Mrs. William Dickerson, Mrs. Harry Foley, Mrs. Stanley Foley, Mrs. Keith Ayrosmith, Mrs. Thomas Urien, Mrs. D. Brown, Mrs. Melvin Burnett, Mrs. Joseph Estremado, Mrs. S. M. Christensen, Mrs. Ivan Smith and Mrs. Carol Post.

Culottes in Wardrobe Of New Maid of Cotton

New York - (UPI) - Culottes receive the full endorsement of one of fashion's most fabulously dressed women - the Maid of Cotton.

The 1961 Maid, Linda Lackey, 19, of Forest, Miss., included culottes for daytime, date-time and active sports-wear in the wardrobe which she will wear on her 30,000-mile tour of the United States, Canada and Europe as goodwill ambassador for the cotton industry.

Miss Lackey, a tall, brown-haired, blue-eyed beauty, and a whole batch of professional models unveiled the all-cotton wardrobe at a fashion show in conjunction with the 34th annual convention of the Association of American Soap and Glycerine Producers.

The wardrobe, created by 42 of America's foremost designers, demonstrated the beauty, comfort and easy care of you-know-what fiber. Margot Herzog, fashion director for the National Cotton Council, assembled the wardrobe which will fill more than 20 pieces of luggage. Miss Herzog would not estimate how much the wardrobe cost.

It included costumes for town, travel, for the beach, and for formal evenings.

The culotte, or divided skirt showed in a date suit in gold cotton damask. The skirt came with panels to disguise the pants look. Shorts and sun dresses also had divided skirts, as did one bathing suit in plaid cotton, with matching jacket.

The wardrobe included slim and full-skirted evening dresses, in cotton chiffon, satin, printed jacquard and lace. A couple of the long formal gowns were entirely covered in paillettes.

Miss Lackey, a sophomore at the University of Mississippi, will begin her official, six-months tour January 30 with an appearance in Miami. She will spend Easter in Hawaii and on May 30 will fly to Europe for visits in Ireland, France, Belgium, Austria and Switzerland.

"Doggy" Makeup
Now, to go with those days when you feel like a dog, you also can look like one. The beauty world's newest makeup bing is the "Pekinese," reports a publication called Insider's Newsletter. This doggy fashion, reported style authorities in London, Paris and New York, is wide-eyed, snub-nosed and completed with a fringe bang across the forehead.

Models in Paris are wearing charcoal shadow on their eyes and rimming them heavily with black makeup to achieve the "Peke" effect.

Why Women Buy
Women spend money for a variety of reasons, not all of them based on need apparently.

A fashion trade publication quoted one buying office executive as giving these reasons for a female purchasing:

- Because her husband says she can't have it;
- It comes from Paris;
- It will make her look thin;
- The neighbors can't afford it;
- Everybody has one;
- It's different.

Churchwomen Plan Luncheon

Ashland-Church women of Ashland are invited to join in a fellowship luncheon Thursday, February 2, at the First Methodist church. A program will follow under the leadership of Mrs. Sidney Ainsworth.

The luncheon meeting, sponsored by Ashland United Church Women, is scheduled for 12 o'clock. The hostess group will furnish the main dishes and others are to take desserts and their own table service.

Miss Linda Nash Installed Queen of Job's Daughters

"When you wish upon a star," was the theme for the installation of Miss Linda Nash, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Nash, 2075 South Pacific highway, as honored queen of Bethel 69, International Order of Job's Daughters. The ceremonies were held in the Masonic temple Saturday, January 21.

Other line officers installed were the Misses Patty Browold, senior princess; Mikelyn Boughner, junior princess; Camille Et, guide; Virginia Radke, marshal.

Appointive officers installed were the Misses Linda North, chaplain; Sheryl Martin, recorder; Linda Nelson, musician; Diane Buckles, Connie Patterson, Lydia Orgain, Nancy Luschen, Marilyn McDonald, messengers; Cheryl Bramhall, librarian; Marcia Manning, treasurer; Charlotte Martin, senior custodian; Cheri Brownell, junior custodian; Carolyn Bailey, inner guard; Bonnie Denyer, outer guard; Rita Spain, prompter; Julie Marble, lady of lights; Karen Merrifield, page; Susan Morris, soloist.

Named to the Bethel choir were Misses Karen Smith, flag bearer; Karol Dvorak, assistant soloist; Marilyn Conrad, choir secretary; Sandra Joyce, Carla Paulsen, Janet Paulsen, Connie Schuler, Laurel Schuler and Judy Fogelquist.

Members selected for committee duty were the Misses Sue Elmgren, Judy Kime, Denna Taylor, preparation committee; Leslie Carpenter, Annette Flinn, big sister committee; Janet Turner, Joyce Johnston, Sue Higgins, pledge committee; Sandra Joyce, Sharon Hale, Ann Parsons, audit committee.

Past Queen Janet Turner acted as installing queen. Other installing officers were the Misses Sylvia Morris, guide; Marion Parsons, marshal; Rebecca Ferrell, recorder; Betty McDonald, chaplain; Charlotte Brown, musician; Jackie Hume, senior custodian; Carla Borough, junior custodian. Medford Order of De Molay, with Mike Phillips as master councilor, assisted in the crowning ceremonies.

Joining the Bethel members for the evening ceremonies were choir members from the Grants Pass Bethel.

Janice Nash, younger sister of the queen, escorted the Bible, and the Rev. H. C. Coovert offered the invocation.

Miss Nash introduced her family, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Nash, Janice and Dan. She presented flowers to her mother and a boutonniere to her father. Family presentations included a nosegay and membership dues until she reaches majority status, and a gavel from her grandmother, Mrs. Lorene Babcock.

Tiaras worn by the new officers were presented by Mrs. L. C. Scott, president of the Scottish Rite Women.

In an addendum the Bethel presented the retiring queen with a gift of silver.

Queen Linda was presented a traveling tiara and a term book by the members of the Bethel.

Honored guests were Mrs. C. D. Elhart, past grand guardian and past guardian of Bethels 14 and 22; L. R. Manning, associate grand guardian; John C. Smith, venerable master of the Medford Masonic consistory.

bodies in the valley were escorted and introduced.

At the close of the ceremony, the more than 200 guests were invited for refreshments in the dining hall. Cutting and serving the queen's cake was Mrs. Hazel Brown. Miss Linda Nelson and Mrs. R. E. Nelson served coffee, and punch was poured by Miss Vickie Ingram. Miss Pattie Borough was in charge of the guest book.

Student Elected Group President

Miss Peggy Schnack, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Schnack, Campbell road, Medford, has been named president of Theta Tau Gamma, honorary for medical technologists at Marylhurst college. This group includes in its membership not only undergraduates preparing for the field, but alumnae of the college already actively engaged in medical technology.

Miss Schnack will be installed at a college officers' tea on February 3.

Association's Program Divided into Four Parts

Eagle Point "Cultural Arts and Activities," something a little different in the way of programming, was given for the January 24 meeting of the Eagle Point Elementary Parent-Teacher association.

Ralph Humphrey, seventh and eighth grade teacher who was in charge of arrangements had divided the arts into four groups: plastic arts, collecting music, and cultural heritages from other lands.

Exhibiting paintings in the plastic arts division were Mrs. Victoria Staley, D. M. Staley, Mrs. Ruth Peck, Loren Greenwood and Mrs. Mary Greenwood, all of which Mrs. Binker had oil paintings grouped with some in pastel chalk. Raff Peck, age seven years, had one offering in oil.

The collecting division was represented by Thomas Riley and Elmer Binker.

Mr. Riley, long time philatelist, presented five groups of foreign uncancelled stamps. Included were stamps from Egypt, Laos, Flag stamps of Korea, and two separate groupings of Belgian stamps.

"A Biology on Stamps and Postmarks," with a stamp display, was presented by Mr. Binker. He also showed a collection of polished and unpolished rocks and minerals.

Music Division
Music division was delegated to Mrs. Donna Millard. She sang "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied at the piano by Mr. Humphrey, as the invocation.

Under cultural heritages from other lands, Thomas Ball presented a program combining a demonstration and explanation of the art of judo. Mr. Ball, instructor at the Medford Judo academy, emphasized that judo is a sport, an art, and not to be confused with karate, which deals with killing blows.

Legend would have it, explained Mr. Ball, that the ancient Tibetan monks devised judo as a mean of defense in overcoming armed enemies, because their religion forbade them to carry weapons. Japanese war lords carried the art back to their homeland and presented it to the elite class during the feudal era.

Demonstrations in yawara and nage no kata, various rolls and falls, were given by Miss Georgia Weidman and Michael Byrne. Miss Weidman is a second degree blue belt holder, and Mr. Byrne a first degree brown belt holder.

O ku no kata and shinnin no maki, various grips, throws and means of fending off attacks, were shown by Mr. Byrne and Mr. Ball, who is a second degree black belt holder.

Knife Arts
A demonstration in knife arts was given by Mr. Byrne and Mr. Ball. Precision and accuracy in disarming a knife assailant was portrayed.

An example of karate was given by Mr. Ball, as he broke a flat, suspended board by one swift strike with the edge of his hand.

Despite the apparent violence shown during the demonstration, Mr. Ball said in closing that judo encompasses a philosophy with moral, intellectual and cultural ideals, as well as a good deal of psychology.

James Trimble, membership chairman, reported that members had reached a total of 233, and the unit had earned a gold oak leaf to be presented at convention.

Room count was won by Mrs. Sonja Swinney's room. Two one-act comedies, "Quiet Please" and "The Sisters McIntosh," will be presented as the yearly fund-raiser, Saturday, February 4, at 8 p.m. in the grade school gymnasium.

The flag salute was led by Cub Scout Pack 48. The Girls' Athletic association was in charge of child care and refreshments were served by mothers of students in the fifth grade. Flowers on the stage were arranged by Mrs. Otis Hill.
