

Senior Activity Center Announces New Program

Two new programs will start this week at the Senior Activity center at 601 East Jackson street.

The first meeting of a Great Decisions discussion group for men will be Tuesday, February 7 at 10 a.m. Arnold Jenny, the leader, states that he will bring the needed material and reference work to the center for those men who have signed up for the activity but have not had time to pick up the kits at the Medford Public Library.

Any man over 50 years of age who is interested in foreign affairs is welcome to come to the meeting and decide then if he wishes to continue. The group will meet once a week for eight weeks and the regular time can be changed from morning to evening if the group wishes. Twelve men have already signed up.

New Class

The second new group is a Saturday afternoon beginners oil painting class which started January 28 under the leadership of Clifford Platz. There is still room for registration for this class but Mr. Platz wishes to limit it to ten persons.

This will be the only chance for some time for this opportunity for those who wish to learn painting from the beginning. Mrs. Victoria Staley's advanced class in oil painting on Tuesday afternoons is already too large to take those who are just learning to paint.

The week will start with a showing of colored slides of pictures taken in Guatemala, Panama and Venezuela by Dr. and Mrs. A. R. Schoenbourg. They will be shown at a meeting of Arm Chair Travelers Monday, February 6, at 1 o'clock. Mrs. Schoenbourg will show the pictures and describe the countries where they traveled when they visited their son, Richard, who is now living in Caracas, Venezuela.

Dr. Frank Roberts reports that a record crowd attended the January 30 showing of pictures of Russia by Dr. Leonard Mayfield and listened to his talk about conditions in the Soviet Union. Almost forty men and women occupied every chair, table or bench and stood for two hours at the rear of the small room, which is now the Senior Activity Center.

New members are reported in both the beginning Spanish class, which meets Monday evenings, and the advanced group which meets Thursday mornings. Advanced class students are now conversing in Spanish.

Sculpture Begun

Some members of the Wednesday woodcarving class have begun working in clay sculpture. This week Glenn Van Winkle, the teacher, will demonstrate mosaic and sand painting. New members are always welcome in the class.

Harold Little, accordionist, is a new member of the Senior Center orchestra, which meets each Thursday afternoon. Wednesday night the group appeared before a large audience at the Veterans Administration domiciliary theater. They appeared at the request of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, who planned the entertainment and served refreshments.

Director Edward Root announced that the orchestra will play for the Ashland Federated Women's Civic club February 10 at a meeting in the club house near Lithia park.

The center committee reported that use of the center has grown 100 per cent in the past year. Twenty-six activities were on the January calendar and 263 senior citizens took part. In January, 1960, 17 classes were held for 135 persons.

New Hats Flipping Their Lids

United Press International

New hats flip their lids. The turned-up brims can be of any size and the upturn at any point, reports Women's Wear Daily. One example of a tiny size flip on a silky straw suit hat in white with a self-tassel marking the profile dip - a flipped-creation by Miss Mary, Inc.

Laundry mink adds new glamor to furs. A stole of lavender mink sells for about $2,400 retail. This compares with $1,100 retail for a plain brown mink stole of comparable quality.

Big, exciting pins in dimensional interpretations of flowers, birds, fish and abstracts are as elegant as they are whimsical. Dimension is the important point in spring designs. The flat, plain, simple pin dies on the calm clothes. The dimensional look includes jutting stems on giant lilies, in unfolding leaves, in beautiful roses, fish that bubble, or stones in raised settings.

Headed for the waste basket after they're soiled are paper dresses selling for $2.10. The paper-cheap dresses first were launched at Tinning's 1961 tennis collection in London. The dresses were princess styles, piped and buttoned in contrasting colors. After about five years, it's expected the dresses will retail for 35 cents apiece.

Huge pouf-pouch purses carry much weight in the spring line-up of handbags.

To clean a gold leaf frame, use a damp cloth only. Any abrasive causes injury.
