Footlighter Officers Announced

Dr. Lawrence Ware was elected president of Medford Footlighters, little theater group, at the annual session last Monday night. Dr. Ware succeeds Robert Ford.

Other new officers are Mrs. Alvin Reiss, vice president; Mrs. Jim Foster, secretary; Mrs. Roy Keim, treasurer; Frank Buchter, executive producer; and Mrs. Ford, Mr. Reiss, members-at-large.

Retiring officers are Mrs. Ford, vice-president; Mrs. Keim, secretary; Mrs. Helen Ashley, treasurer; Mr. Buchter, business manager.

Members of the club expressed their gratitude to the retiring officers for the leadership they have given the group and "the many accomplishments brought about during their term of office."

In the past year the club has reorganized and passed a new constitution. Groundwork has been laid to expand club activities into such fields as a drama festival and a drama workshop which would be open to anyone interested in studying theater arts and crafts; it is reported.

The four plays produced in the last year have drawn a record breaking attendance of 1,774 persons, an increase of about 500 over the previous year. Theater-goers on the Footlighter mailing list are 608 as opposed to under 400 last year.

Dr. Ware commented that these accomplishments, while showing healthy growth, are but a fraction of the group's potential. He stressed that the club must expand its working membership and it's theatrical endeavor to become a major cultural force in the community.
