

Local and Personal

In Hospital - Mrs. Dan H. Gross, 1324 Siskiyou blvd., Medford, was listed as a medical patient today at Sacred Heart hospital.

Grange Meeting - The Upper Applegate Grange open house program will be held at the Grange hall Friday, Feb. 24, instead of this Friday, as previously reported. Grange representatives have announced.

Civil Employees - The Southern Oregon Chapter 134 of the National Association of Retired Civil Employees will meet at 2 p.m. Friday, Feb. 17, at the Army Reserve building, Columbus st., near McAndrews rd.

Patients - Leaza Gilliland, 4-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Gilliland, 602 North Riverside ave., Medford, and Bryan J. Grover, 5-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Grover, route 1, box 17, Talent, were listed as surgery patients today at Sacred Heart hospital.

Arrested - State police Wednesday afternoon arrested Ralph Wesley Harris, 791 Butte Creek rd., Ashland, on a warrant from Klamath county charging him with contributing to the dependency of minor children. He was lodged in Jackson county jail in lieu of $500 bail.

Collision - Vehicles operated by Aubrey Maxine Blessing, 33 of 1491 1/2 Thomas rd., and George Gordon Paddock, 68 of 2262 West Prune st., collided Wednesday afternoon on Lozier lane at Sunset ct., according to state police. Police said that the Paddock vehicle backed into Lozier lane in an attempt to turn around at the intersection when it was struck by the Blessing car. The Paddock vehicle had to be towed from the scene, police said.

Rummage Sale - The Phoenix Thursday club will sponsor a rummage sale all day Friday, beginning at 9 a.m. in the Fehi building, 108 North Ivy st., Medford.

Bitten - Monte Raymond Miller, 624 Park Place No. 5, notified city police Tuesday afternoon that he was bitten on the right leg while he was riding his bicycle in front of 532 Plum st. The skin was not broken, it was reported.

Hit and Run - Medford police said a vehicle, possibly a large truck, struck a parked car owned by Dorothy May Doty, 813 West 11th st., about 7:45 o'clock this morning, then drove off, apparently without leaving any information. Police said the Doty vehicle sustained damage to the front end.

Collision - A vehicle operated by Lester Wayne Marshall, Little Butte Star route, box 230, Eagle Point, backed out of a driveway on Pearl st. near Saling st. and hit a parked car registered to John R. Stelle, 816 Pennsylvania ave., according to city police. The accident occurred about 2:10 p.m. Tuesday.

Building Permits - Roberts Motors company, 3230 North Pacific highway was issued a building permit for a $45,000 addition by the city's building department. Other permits issued recently by the city were to Gene Foresee for a $12,000 duplex at 832 and 834 Pennsylvania ave., and George Cox for $1,600 repairing project at apartments at 318 East 12th st.

Meeting Changed - The regular Friday night meeting of the Jackson county chapter, Chin Up club, has been changed to Sunday at 5 p.m. at the Girls Community club, 229 North Bartlett st., President Elton Petri announced. The Sunday meeting will be

"I REALLY DON'T need an analyst," a delicate young man observed in his first session on the couch. "I'm here merely to please my silly mother. She thinks I let people walk over me too much."

"You do have to stand up for your rights," observed the doctor mildly. "If somebody actually hits or shoves you, I hope you have the gumption to strike back."

"Are you crazy?" shrilled the patient. "Do you think I'm going to destroy my nail polish?"

Dellenback Reviews His Work On Legislative Committees

(Editor's note: This is the first legislative newsletter from Representative John Dellenback, Medford, who was elected from Jackson county last November. He discusses the committees on which he serves, and some of the problems facing the legislature.)

By JOHN DELLENBACK
Representative
From Jackson County

It is with surprise that I realize that five full weeks have gone by since we moved to Salem and began this legislative session. Fortunately, the children adjusted swiftly to school, and Mary Jane has proved to be a conscientious and able secretary and valuable assistant.

My days generally begin with committees or deskwork about 8 in the morning and run at the Capitol until about 6, with most evenings being taken up with an increasing number of committee meetings, with work on correspondence, or with an occasional social gathering with some of the other legislators.

I am very favorably impressed so far with the vast majority of the men and women who are your and our representatives in the House. As they should, they differ widely in background, age, experience and fields of work, but they are in general hard-working and earnest, doing their best to look to the broad good of their constituents and of the state at large.

Sweeping Revisions
As many of you may have read or heard over the air, Governor Hatfield has suggested sweeping revisions in the Executive branch of the state government.

He feels that there are far too many boards and commissions and departments which are expected to report directly to him and for the operation of which he has responsibility, and he has introduced bills which he has requested the legislature to enact into law which would make major changes in the organization of all of these various groups.

As I explained to many of you during the course of the recent campaign, complicated measures like these are not considered immediately by the full House, but are assigned to committees for preliminary study. One of the committees on which I am serving is state and federal affairs, and it is to this committee that consideration of most of these reorganization plans has been assigned.

Commence Study
We have commenced our study of the first of these measures, and it is certain that we will be spending a great many nights in the weeks ahead listening to testimony and discussing the advantages to the state of these proposals.

One of the major issues which is tied to this problem deals with the state welfare commission. As many of you know, Governor Hatfield and the present welfare commission are in disagreement about the welfare program in Oregon.

In my mind there is a danger that the people will not realize that there are several very distinct issues involved. One is whether the headquarters of the welfare commission should be moved from Portland to Salem.

Separate Issue
A separate issue is whether the welfare commission itself should be changed from an advisory commission, with direct responsibility and control of the administration of welfare placed on the shoulders of the Governor.

Still another separate issue is whether, even without such basic reorganization, there are abuses present in the welfare program which badly need correcting. Until I have heard all the arguments and listened to all the testimony, I intend to maintain an open mind on the second and third issues above.

As I have listened to the evidence, however, on the issue of moving the welfare commission to Salem, I have gradually come to feel that such a move is an administrative problem which should properly be decided by the Executive branch of government rather than by the legislature, and that most of the objections raised to this proposed move are short-range while most of the advantages are long-range. I feel that the legislature would be out of order in passing any bill prohibiting this proposed move.

On Judiciary Committee
I serve also on the judiciary and education committees, and each of these is wrestling with large volumes of proposed legislation.

One matter of importance in the education committee upon which I am receiving a good deal of mail relates to increasing the educational requirements for elementary school teachers to five years at the college level. The legislation as proposed would not apply to teachers with certificates at the present time, and new teachers coming into the field could begin to teach with the normal four-year training, and would have a number of years within which to get their additional year of training.

The main support for this measure is coming from individuals and groups who feel that this is an important step in their attempts to "upgrade" the teaching profession and thus benefit our children.

Introduces Resolution
I introduced a resolution this week dealing with future legislative sessions. While I don't believe that sessions should go on too long, and while I certainly don't believe that we need a great deal of new legislation, I am coming to the conclusion that the business of the state has become too complex and too important to all of us to permit the legislature to meet only every second year.

I believe it should meet for shorter sessions the early part of each year. This would permit your representatives to keep a more direct control on the business operations of government and prevent the building up of the sort of surpluses which each of the last two bienniums has seen created.

I also regret that the voters, primarily in the Portland area, have not seen fit to raise legislative salaries in the past. I am not concerned about those of us who are in the legislature at the present time, for when we ran for office each of us knew the salary situation, and became a candidate in spite of this fact.

Deeply Concerned
But I am deeply concerned that the completely inadequate present salary for legislators prevents many able people who could otherwise be effective and valuable legislators from even considering running for this office. If legislative salaries were reasonable, many more people who could serve and would like to serve could well be attracted to offer themselves as candidates for election.

The resolution which I introduced calls for a constitutional amendment providing for annual sessions and removing the constitutional limitation on salaries of $50 a month.

It would add the very important provision, however, that no legislature could ever act to raise its own salaries, but could only pass salary change bills which would become effective after the next election. This should make it very clear that no legislature was ever seeking to feather its own nest.

I welcome letters from Jackson county, and repeat the statement that I made many times during the campaign that I consider myself the representative of everyone in Jackson county, whether they voted for me or against me or didn't vote at all.

Lenten Mission Program Scheduled

A seven-week Lenten Mission study program at the Jacksonville Presbyterian church will start tonight.

The four speakers during the program represent some of the best-known workers in the Missionary field. The three remaining Thursday night sessions will present feature-length films on various aspects of Missionary work and its problems.

Each of the study-program meetings will be held at the Jacksonville Presbyterian church beginning at 7:30 p.m. Anyone interested in the work of Christian missionaries around the world is invited to attend the meetings.

Principal speaker tonight will be the Rev. Robert W. Lazear Jr., who is on furlough from his missionary post in Colombia, South America. He has been the vice principal,
