Duplicate Party Set For Sunday Is Charity Event

American Contract Bridge league units of the Rogue valley will sponsor a charity party Sunday, February 19, at 1:30 p.m. at Girls Community club.

Money raised at the event will go to the National Research Fund for Mental Illness. The one here will be part of a series held throughout the nation; the Western division of the ACBL is pledged to raise $250,000 for the fund.

It is announced that the event planned here will hold a sectional rating and therefore double master points will be given local winners.

A group of about 25 duplicate bridge players from Medford and Grants Pass plan to go to Portland this week for the spring regional tournament of the ACBL. Play will open February 20 and continue through February 26.

Club To Plan Fashion Show

Nevita Social club will meet at 7:30 p.m. Monday, February 20, at the home of Mrs. Alan Rodgers, Crater Lake highway, next to Rogue River lodge. Plans for a spring style show and buffet luncheon to be held in March will be discussed.

Canned Goods Buying

When buying canned goods, read the label to be sure the food fits the need you have in mind. Buy a can size that fits the number of persons to be served.

If pantry storage space permits, it is economical to buy in quantity; watch the "specials." Always replace supplies as they are used. The large economy size is a good buy only if the family is large enough to use it up soon after it is opened.

Sandwich Filler

A favorite filling for sandwiches combines mashed liverwurst, chopped hard-cooked eggs and chopped stuffed olives. Blend together with mayonnaise and season with Worcestershire sauce and you've something very delicious.

League Representatives Attend Many Meetings

Two representatives of the Medford League of Women Voters are in Salem today to attend a legislative workshop planned by the League of Women Voters of Oregon. Mrs. Dunbar Carpenter, president of the Medford group, and Mrs. Kenneth Baker, second vice-president, are among league members from all over the state who are at the one-day session.

Women at the workshop are discussing bills which the Oregon league will watch closely during this legislative, and will plan the overall legislative program of the women's voters group.

Special sub-meetings are scheduled for detailed study of reapportionment, education, constitutional revision, county home rule and other legislation. Mrs. George Beard, Oswego, is chairman of the workshop.

Dinner Given By Yreka Riders

Yreka - Members of the Yreka Trail Riders held a valentine dinner party recently at the Shamrock cafe south of Yreka.

Tables were decorated with red carnations and valentine trees and were arranged by Mrs. Ruth Barklow and her committee.

The business meeting which followed the dinner was presided over by Mrs. Ruby Young, president. The drill captain, Mrs. Ann Shiman, said plans are being made for a spring horseback ride in April.

Misses Jean and Jane McMember entertained the 62 members and guests following the business meeting, by showing colored slides taken on their recent trip. The girls were dressed in costumes which they had purchased in Austria.

The Misses McMember with other members of their family embarked from San Francisco, traveled through the Canal Zone en route to Europe and returned by jet plane from London.

Ships Said Sensitive, Expensive, Like Women

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

St. Thomas, Virgin Islands (UPI)—A ship, said the captain, is referred to as a "she" because it has all the characteristics of a woman.

"She is sensitive," said Capt. Guenter Roessing. "Some times she does what no one expected her to do."

And most of all, she is expensive.

Roessing is commander of a ship which during the summer plies the Atlantic hauling tourists between the United States and Europe. But during the winter months, the passenger list is trimmed to about half of capacity and the ship makes a series of luxury cruises into the West Indies and touches on South America.

It would seem a sufficiently demanding job for a captain to "boss a woman"—all 32,335 tons of her. But in talking with Roessing, you find that running the ship and a crew of nearly 600 is only part of a captain's job.

He also is the personal representative of his line in relations with travelers. He must mingle, like a good host, on deck, in the dining room, at ship's parties, and must also preside at a few gatherings of his own.

"A ship's captain has to slice himself into two pieces," said Roessing, a genial man in his late 50s. "On an Atlantic crossing, about 75 per cent of him goes to the ship, the other 25 per cent to the passengers."

"On a cruise, the division is 50-50."

"But," he added after a moment, "the ship and safety of the passengers always takes consideration over socializing."

Colored Shirts Italian Trend; Designs Bold

United Press International

Darker cravats and colored shirts will be in vogue for fashionable gentlemen next fall. This is a European trend heading for American shores. What's seen, through the periscope, is neckwear largely dark in background with a splattering of color for effect. And the colored shirts are mostly solid shades. But some have small neat patterns.

Italian trends influence you? Then watch for colored silks, fuzzy mohairs, nubby-textured tweeds and velvet upholstery materials. Such were seen at a recent Washington exhibition of Italian fabrics. Imaginative design and bold color sense are the marks most often seen among the collection from Italian fabric artists.

The heady look for spring is sea-worthy. It's strictly the sailor look, looming large. Hats suitable for sailing are designed to be worn straddled head-on or tipped to one side. The topplings of highly textured straws are decked with ribbon.

Sliding along at top speed are longer tunic length belted parkas and tow coats meant for the ski set. Interest in novelty fabrics considered worthy of the snowy hills is indicated by the use of printed and solid corduroy, wool tapestries and jacquard weaves on cotton duck. And reinforcing the outlook for a bright ski season are high colors shown in both parkas and stretch pants.

Two generations ago, it was strictly pink for girl babies and nothing but blue for the boys. But spring, 1961, upsets the traditional buggy. Fashions for toddlers run the gamut of tones from orchid and yellow to bittersweet for girls and willow green to red or brown for boys.

Last Meeting Of Hoover PTA Said Unusual

The last meeting of Hoover Parent-Teacher association was unusual in that more men than women were in attendance.

Lee Ragsdale spoke on "Physical Education in the Medford Schools", and showed slides on the study of growth development of the grade school child. This program is now in its sixth year and is used to determine the affects of athletics in the grade school. The rest of the nation and several foreign countries have taken a keen interest in this study that is sponsored by the University of Oregon physical education department, he said.

In recognition of Founders' day, the PTA presented the school with a plaque listing the past presidents. The president, Mrs. A. J. Johanson, introduced the past presidents of the Hoover unit; they are Mrs. Emerson Anderson, and Mrs. Richard Knoll.

Appointed and elected to serve on the nomination committee were Mrs. Ray Mencke, chairman, appointed by the executive board; and Mrs. P. F. Brainerd and Mrs. Gerald Gastineau, elected by the membership. Roy Gilbertson, principal, is automatically a member of this committee.

Mrs. Jerry McDougall, legislative chairman, gave a brief resume on bills currently in the Oregon Legislature that have to do with education.

Opening flag ceremonies and the pledge of allegiance were led by Cub Scout Den 3. Fathers attending this meeting that was especially planned for them received double count. Room count was won by Mr. Akerill's room.

A young American harpist, Harold Chaney, will perform at Southern Oregon college, February 19, at 3 p.m. in Churchill Hall Auditorium. Mr. Chaney's program will provide an opportunity to hear some of the great masterpieces of the 16th, 17th, and 18th centuries, and including works by Handel, Bach, Scarlatti, Couperin and Purcell.

Motion Picture Shown for Club; Trip Planned

At the recent meeting of the Roxy Ann Gem and Mineral club, more than 65 members and guests saw the sound motion picture, "The Petrified River - The Story of Uranium." In addition to showing the prospecting, mining, and processing techniques, this film pictured many of the peace time uses to which uranium has been put. Most notable of these was the creation of electricity and the production of radioisotopes for medical and research purposes.

President Leland Mentzer announced the interim show committee was in favor of having a club show this year. The membership voted to accept this recommendation, and tentative dates for this event are May 13-14.

Delmar Smith, field trip director, announced the first field trip of the year would be a gold panning expedition Sunday, February 19. All those interested in participating should meet at McKee Bridge on the Applegate river at 9:30 a.m. Those participating are to take gold panning tools and boots. Persons interested in learning more about this club and its activities may do so by calling the president, Leland Mentzer, Spring 2-6320, or the vice president, Elmer Binker, Talbot 6-4401.

Club Has Talk On Mushrooms

Phoenix - Fred Lawrence, Medford, spoke on mushrooms at the last meeting of Phoenix Garden club.

The speaker illustrated his talk with hand-painted pictures of 110 varieties of mushrooms. Mr. Lawrence painted the pictures from living specimens.

Speaking of those most likely to be found locally, Mr. Lawrence cautioned strongly about the hazards of collecting the wrong mushrooms. He urged his listeners to be sure they knew each variety before using them as food.

Mr. Lawrence promised the members to lead a field trip whenever the time is right.

Mrs. Lester Carr appointed Mrs. C. W. Lewis as flower show chairman and April 21 was set as the tentative date of a spring flower show.
