SCHOOL NEWS

Briscoe, Ashland

Mrs. Doris Lassen's first grade children have been studying about weather. They drew a mural to illustrate what makes rain. They called it "Three Little Raindrops." They wrote stories about wind and rain which they made into booklets, and they also kept a record of temperature changes.

In music the children composed an original Valentine song.

New room officers are Candy Decker, president; Vicki Platko, vice president; Glenn Swinford, secretary; and Chuck Wiley, room representative.

Students in Mrs. Marsha Ferte's room made a post office for mailing their Valentines. It was complete with "room routes" and a life size postman sitting beside it. They had "mail delivery" at their Valentine party Feb. 14.

Donna Duncan is the new president in Mrs. Gloria Thorpe's third grade. Ethel Kneebone is the new vice president, and Sharon Morris is the newly elected secretary.

Reporter Annita Van Buskirk of Mrs. Luella Morris' fifth grade writes:

We are studying rocks in science class. We are making crystals. Carlista Holland and Dana Berry made a plant showing crystals using salt, blueing, vinegar, and ammonia.

In social studies we are studying New England and we made pictures of our reports.

For art we made Valentine folders and place mats for our Valentine's party.

Marycarol Copeland from Medford is a new girl in our class.

Newly elected officers in Mrs. Phyllis Buell's fourth grade are Lonnie Gossage, president; Kerry Roberts, secretary; Kay Ferreira, Junior Red Cross representative; and Cindy Taylor, room representative.

Lincoln, Ashland

Reporters Bill Canonico, Leslie Houk and Barbara Cash

On Feb. 10, the fourth grade boys and girls of Room 5 held an open house for their parents to explain what they have been learning in social studies and science. Many parents attended the open house.

The fourth grade reading classes in Room 5 came together to observe Abraham Lincoln's birthday. Information and pictures were shared by Vicki Fredrick, Wesley Lewis, Gary Slack, Leslie Houk and Gordon Hester.

A two act play was given by eleven pupils. Act I, "When Lincoln Was A Boy," was presented by Robert Hamilton, Glenda Alford, Mary Heinzman, David Schweizer and Bobby Jackson. Geanie Ledbetter was the announcer for Act I.

Roger Boyce, Dennis Levison, Tom Cullop, Carl Hillestad and Debbie McNeill were the characters in Act II, "Honest Abe." Susan Hendrickson announced the act.

Mrs. Bruce Schweizer, Mrs. Lynden Levison, Mrs. P. W. Cullop and Mrs. Billy Slack provided refreshments for the fourth grade Valentine party in Room 5 Feb. 14.

Rogue River High

Earl Bowen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen R. Bowen, route 1, box 167, Rogue River, and Mary Watson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Watson, route 1, box 176, Rogue River, have been accepted for the fall term at Oregon State college.

Both students had above a B grade point average.

Earl has been active in 4-H club work with a sheep project for the past nine years. In college, he plans to study nutrition research in the general field of animal husbandry. At Rogue River High school, Earl has been active in track and football and has served as class president and president of the Lettermen's club.

Mary plans to study home economics at college with a specialty in interior decorating. She has also been active in 4-H and school activities. She has held both class and student body offices and has participated in home economic and music groups.

The Future Homemakers of America sponsored the annual Sweetheart's ball recently in the Rogue River school cafeteria. The theme of the dance was "Young Love."

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Oliver provided the music at the dance by donating their stereophonic set for the evening. Forty - five couples attended the dance. At intermission, senior candidates Jerry Kite and Dani Liles were crowned king and queen.

Terry Gail, student body president, recently attended the state 4-H "Know your state government conferences" in Salem. Terry was one of two Jackson county students to attend the conferences, the other being Alice Woolfolk of Eagle Point.

Terry was named first alternate to attend the national 4-H conference in Washington, D.C., during April. Two boys and two girls were selected to attend.

Tuesday morning the Rogue River High school band entertained students with a dress rehearsal of the band and chorus program which was presented at Illinois Valley High school Wednesday. This is the second year that the two schools have exchanged music programs.

Griffin Creek School

Barry Bigham of the Pacific Telephone company presented the Safety Patrol and the student body with a safety award in an assembly recently. This is the second National Safety Council Award that Griffin Creek has been awarded.

The girls' volley ball team has won three games. They have defeated Jacksonville, Lone Pine and Howard. Their schedule for the remainder of the season is, Lone Pine, Feb. 21; Jacksonville, Feb. 28; and Howard, March 7.

The girls on the team are Pat Eastwood, Zellah Mason, Sharon Forsyth, Janet Burke, Pam Gideon, Susan Bailey, Pat Hardesty, Jane Dussault, Kathy Haertle, Sheila Shockley, Paula Minear, Donalyn Minear, and Linda Eckel. Miss Pat Leek is the coach.

A volley ball intramural tournament has been played during the noon hour. The teams were the Hornets, Wildcats, Tigers, Panthers, Pounders and Cyclones. The Wildcats won the tournament. Players picked from the other teams then played the Wildcats. The winner of this game, the All-Stars, played the teachers. With lots of luck and sore muscles the teachers managed to win two out of three games from the All-Stars.

Mrs. Myrna Frink was one of the principals of Medford schools to attend the legislature on the basic school fund. She returned Friday, Feb. 17.

A party was given by Mrs. Harriett Eitemiller honoring the school librarians. The librarians worked puzzles using the names of library books and prizes were given. Mrs. Eitemiller baked and served all with a chocolate cake.

The librarians are Paula Minear, Pat Redding, Carolyn Giles, Zellah Mason, Douglas McNeil, Sheila Shockley, Elizabeth Peters, Susan Bailey, Donalyn Minear, Linda Guber, Carol Stuart, Helen McKee, Linda Youmans, and Patricia Eastwood. Mrs. Rose Tighe, school secretary, was a guest.

Students making the honor roll for the third six weeks were: fourth grade, Becky Moore, Diane Lord, and Kay Smith; fifth grade, Carolyn Giles and Pat Redding; sixth grade, Susan Bailey, Paula Minear, Carol Stuart and Helen McKee.

Griffin Creek basketball team will play Jacksonville Feb. 23 at home. This will be the final game of the season. Basketball awards will be presented early in March.

Several loads of gravel have been scattered in the court and around the much used tether-balls.

Dental week was observed by the entire student body with a special assembly where a movie "It's Your Health" was shown. This movie, which was presented to Griffin Creek school by Dr. V. Goodrich, who lived in the district, has been placed in the Jackson county curriculum center for the use of all schools.

All rooms had Valentine parties. Cupcakes, made by the room mothers, were served. We are every thankful for the help and cooperation of this group of busy mothers.

Howard School

Mrs. Evelyn Winningham's first grade room took pictures of their January art work and bulletin boards, then began making decorations for February.

We made Valentine boxes and planned a party. We are also learning why people still remember Washington and Lincoln. We have also talked about our own state's birthday this month.

We are planning a trip to the airport Feb. 20. There we will visit the control tower, the weather bureau and the United Airlines office.

Ronnie Miller is a new pupil in Miss Mary Klocker's room. Pamela Bryant has moved to Glide, Ore.

Our class heard Mr. Pierce speak to us about his trip to Antarctica. He showed us slides and a stuffed penguin he brought back.

We had a big Valentine train with a box car for each child on our bulletin board. The cars are our Valentine mailboxes. Our valentine party was Valentine day.

In Mrs. Dorothy Arney's room, we planted hyacinth bulbs in milk cartons.

On Jan. 27, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Pierce told us about Penguins and displayed a stuffed penguin. Pierce showed pictures and told about his trip to Antarctica.

We have a new girl in our room. Her name is Janice Hickey. She has been in school in California. Bobbie Rose moved to Central Point.

In Mrs. Aina McDaniel's second grade room we have been studying the early history of the American flag.

We are learning to sing the first and last verses of America.

Our Valentine's Day party was held Tuesday, Feb. 14.

February is an exciting month in Mrs. Margaret Mann's second grade room. We remember George Washington and Abraham Lincoln's birthdays. We had a Valentine Party. Our Room Mothers brought us a treat. We made Valentines.

In Mrs. Huldah Fisher's third grade room we have two tadpoles. We are watching them turn into frogs. They each have two hind legs now, but they still have their long tail.

Instead of having a Valentine box this year, we made a post office.

Jimmy Dusenbury brought his two pet rats to school. He calls them "Pete" and "Gladys". One is white and one is black.

In Mrs. Audrey Berry's room we have been studying about electricity and magnets in our science class. We used a dry cell and found out that electricity follows a pathway. We experimented with a magnet and found out that it will pick up only certain things. We learned about the poles and how they act with each other.

We made a Valentine girl for our mothers and a boy for our fathers. They are made of different sized hearts cut from red and white paper.

St. Mary's High School

Reporter, Mary Ann Carnegie

Besides the game with Prospect which the Crusaders won, Student Government Day elections were another highlight of last week.

On Wednesday, Feb. 15, speeches were given during a sixth period assembly by the seniors running for a city office. The entire student body turned out for the voting on Thursday and elected Anne Bennett, city attorney; Florian Shasky, assistant school superintendent; Bryan von Buskirk, councilman of Ward I; and Michael Lewis, police captain. They will attend various civic functions and will meet their counterparts Thursday, Feb. 23, along with representatives elected from other county high schools.

On Student Government Day the students will be registered in the morning, administered oaths of office, and briefed on local government. In the afternoon the student's time will be spent with his official counterpart. The day will be completed with a banquet at the Elks lodge.

As part of the National School assembly programs, Mr. Bogardus presented "Characters in Clay," an interesting and unique feature on clay sculpturing Friday.

After the basketball game with Sacred Heart school of Klamath Falls Sunday, Feb. 19, a dinner was given for the St. Mary's and Sacred Heart students. It was catered by Russ Simons of the Holly cafe and served at St. Mary's gymnasium. This traditional affair is held after both of the basketball games between the schools.

Crater High School

By JAN BATEMAN

Preliminary planning for the junior-senior prom commenced last week with the selection of the major committee chairmen for the annual event scheduled May 20.

Virginia Wilson and Gary Meade have been named general chairmen, and Danny Hays will serve as coordinating chairman.

Other chairmen chosen to begin their committees are Bev Klimko, and Ali Prilliman, decorations; and Lawrence Roberts and John Champ, construction. More appointments will be made during the following week for the program and entertainment, booklet, refreshments, lighting, card tables, ceiling and queen committee chairmen.

After the Friday night wrestling matches with Ashland high school, the Girls Athletic association sponsored an informal Valentine dance. This was a new twist in informal dances at Crater, the first ever held following a wrestling meet. GAA members decorated the cafetorium Valentine style.

Lee Hamilton headed the decoration committee chairmen appointed by president, Judy Kimmey. They were admission, Judy Gebhard and Karen Holley; refreshments, Nikki Hammond; clean-up, Sharon Issaacs.

Jan. 27-28, 19 members of the Crater High speech squad attended the invitational speech tournament at SOC. Divisions of competition were: impromptu, poetry reading, after dinner speaking and radio speaking. Each school was allowed a maximum of four contestants in each category except for one in ADS.

No winners were chosen in each event, rather critique sheets were issued to all contestants for their own use. Judges were composed of professors, housewives, radio announcers, pastors and other faculty members.

Those who attended were Alvin Kroon, Ruth Ellis, Carol Foote, Dave Force, John Jacks, Mike Shelly, Sally Baily, Allison Pinkham, Wayne Hartgraves, Danny Hays, Richard Lichti, Pat Dale, Ron Franklin, Dayle Neshiem, Ricky Smith and Nathan Olson.

Jan. 30, the senior class and the senior advisers, Miss Martha Boshears, and Bill Russell, held a meeting to choose commencement announcements and to secure the seniors' correct names that will be engraved on their diplomas.

The senior class also sponsored the dance after the Medford-Crater game, Feb. 3, in the cafeteria. The proceeds of the dance went to the senior class.
