

Births

NELSON - To Mr. and Mrs. Ronald E., route 1, box 736, Eagle Point, Feb. 21, 1961, a girl, 6 lbs., at Rogue Valley hospital.

BARRY - To Mr. and Mrs. Gerald L., route 3, box 183D, Medford, Feb. 21, 1961, a girl, 8 1/2 lbs., at Rogue Valley hospital.

WILLARD - To Mr. and Mrs. Bobbie D., route 4, box 349, Medford, Feb. 22, 1961, a boy, 7 lbs., at Rogue Valley hospital.

ABOARD SUBMARINE - Donald D. MacKintosh, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. MacKintosh 108 Sixth st., Phoenix, is participating in the South China Sea maneuvers with the Seventh Fleet, while serving aboard the submarine USS Sea Fox.

"A smile adds greatly to your face value." DON'T MISS IT!

KIWANIS KAPERS

March 8, 9, 10, 11 Four BIG DAYS of Fun and Laughter. Medford Senior High School.

Proceeds to Dental Clinic. Join the FUN! Tickets available from any Kiwanian with the SCHMOO in his pocket.

Permits Issued - The city building department recently issued permits to Northwest Swimming Pool company to build a $4,000 swimming pool at 308 Windsor ave.; to Carl Wiltermoot to erect a $10,000 drive-in restaurant at 911 North Riverside ave.; and to Wayne Bennett to erect a $14,000 residence at 357 Black Oak dr.

Collision - Vehicles operated by Elver L. Stults, 304 West Jackson st., and Frances G. Childers, route 1, box 172, Gold Hill, collided Tuesday at the intersection of Fourth and Grape sts., according to city police. Stults was cited by police for failing to yield right of way.

Funeral services for Myra A. Chisholm, 600 Melody lane, Ashland, will be held in the Ashland Congregational church Thursday at 1:30 p.m. The Rev. Edward G. Wulfekehl will officiate. Committal will be in the Mountain View cemetery. Ashland Mortuary is in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Chisholm was born Oct. 29, 1902, in Colville, Wash., on Dec. 19, 1925, she was married to Dr. William P. Chisholm, who predeceased her in death in 1958. Mrs. Chisholm moved to Oregon in 1928 living in Portland, and Coos Bay before moving to Lakeview in 1933. In 1948 she moved to Ashland to make her home.

Survivors include a son, William Alan Chisholm, Irvington, Calif.; a daughter, Myra Jill Wells, La Mirada, Calif.; and five grandchildren. Those who wish may contribute to the American Heart fund.

Pallbearers will include R. E. Van Vleet, H. H. Hild, Jim Busch, Paul Workman, Richard Reynen, and James Stovall.

Funeral services for Mrs. Charlotte Elizabeth Wade, 76, of 712 West 13th st., who died Tuesday morning, will be held at 1:30 p.m. Thursday in Chapel Mortuary. Elder Ronald J. Kegley, Jr., associate pastor of the Seventh-Day Adventist church, will officiate. Interment will be in Siskiyou Memorial park, for which committal services will be private.

Mrs. Wade, the daughter of James and Elizabeth Rutherford Weatherwax, was born in Fairbury, Nebr., Sept. 1, 1884. She was married in Rocky Ford, Colo., March 6, 1908, to Thomas E. Wade, who survives.

The couple moved to Medford from Laramie, Wyo., 19 years ago. For nine years Mr. Wade was the engineer at the Jackson hotel, and then became associated with the Greyhound lines until his retirement.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Wade is survived by one son, Clifford E. Wade, of Long Beach, Calif.; two daughters, Mrs. Helen G. Vandenburg, New York City, and Mrs. Gladys E. Koch, Medford; two grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

MAIDA LEE SAMPPSON - The body of Mrs. Maida Lee Sampson, 46, of New Pine Creek, Calif., who died in a local hospital Monday, was forwarded to the Osterman Funeral home in Lakeview for services and interment. Perl Funeral home was in charge of local arrangements.

Mrs. Sampson was born July 17, 1914, in Arkansas. She is survived by her husband, Richard H. Sampson, Named Editor - Miss Rosalie Hewitt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hewitt, 295 DeBarre ave., Medford, was named editor of the Oretch yearbook, "The Owlter," at Oregon Technical Institute. A junior in medical technology, Miss Hewitt is a graduate of Crater High school.

Cars Collide - Cars operated by William Nelson, 32, Spokane, Wash., and Burt Martin Burrenson, 43, Gold Hill, collided about 10:30 p.m. Monday at the intersection of Main st. and Riverside ave., according to city police. Both cars sustained minor damage. Nelson was cited for violation of the basic rule.

Rings Stolen - Margaret Alice Preston, 210 Stark st., told city police Monday that someone entered her home sometime during the past two months while she was on vacation and took a wedding ring set. She told police that the set is valued at about $150.

Driver Cited - City police cited George Cummings Holberton, 24, of 701 1/2 West 11th st., for violation of the basic rule Monday after Holberton's pickup truck collided with a car operated by Emma Louise Ruhl, 60, of 2500 Capital ave. The accident occurred about 7:50 a.m. at the intersection of Monroe and J sts. Both vehicles sustained moderate damage.

Several students from the advanced junior English classes have entered the writing contest sponsored by the "Senior Scholastic" magazine. The contest is open to any student meeting age requirements and having regular attendance at schools in the Local and Personal

SCHOOL NEWS

Medford High School

Edited by Sandy Shugart. Three members of the advanced art classes won regional gold key awards in the Oregon Scholastic Art contest last week. Don Kondo, Carl Washburn, and Tom Semple were the winners, with Don winning a national blue ribbon. Don's entry will be sent to the national contest where he has a chance of winning a national gold key.

Delegates to the state International Relations League convention in Eugene the first week in March were announced by IRL advisors last week. John Alansky, Jim Albright, Jim Frake, Chuck Kyer, Joel Gregory, Rosanne Legas, Diane Lewis, Martha Simpson, Sue House, and Carl Washburn will be Medford representatives. The Medford delegation will represent the United Kingdom at the Model United Nations.

Registration for next year is now in progress at Medford High, and all students are expected to register by March 10.

New courses which will be offered next year are Arts and Crafts I and II, third year Russian, third year French, a general drafting course which will prepare the student for either engineering or architectural drafting the following year, and a special homemaking course which is designed for career-minded senior girls.

Several students from the advanced junior English classes have entered the writing contest sponsored by the "Senior Scholastic" magazine. The contest is open to any student meeting age requirements and having regular attendance at schools in the United States and its possessions. Students may enter the three divisions of poetry, informal essay, and short-short story.

Students entered include Nancy Duncan in poetry; Joel Gregory and Jill DuCroz, informal essay; and Carl Washburn, JoAnn Johnson, and Joel Gregory in short-short story. The required length of the stories and essays is 700 to 1,500 words. Poetry must be from 32 to 200 lines.

Six members of the Medford International Relations League took the annual United Nations test last week.

Taking the test were Jim Tunge, Jim Albright, Martha Simpson, Rosanne Legas, Brian Christofferson, and Harold Bailey.

National prizes include a trip to Europe or $1,500 and a trip to Mexico or $500. State prizes include trips, merchandise, and cash awards.

Local and state winners will be announced in April or early May; national winners will be chosen sometime before June 1.

I. A. Mirick, director of the Medford High band, has selected next year's majorities.

Seventeen girls tried out for a position. They were judged on twirling, acrobatics, dancing, style, coordination, rhythm, general responsibility, citizenship, and grades.

Selected as head majorettes were Jackie and Judy Ayres. The others selected were Bonnie Brantly, Mary Milne, Donna Johnson, Kay Ruck, Tamara Wright, Linda Mattson, Linda McCam, Carolyn Paulos, and first alternate Vicki Hall. Their advisor is Virginia Westerfield.

Feb. 24 is the deadline for those students who desire to attend a Shakespearean play at student rates to turn in their reservations. Student reserved seats are available for the showing next Aug. 10, of the play "Hamlet" by Ashland Shakespearean Festival plays. Tickets are $1.50 each, and seats are in the $1.80 section.

Reservations may be cancelled as late as July 27, if necessary.

Howard School - Rochelle Holmes returned to Mrs. Elva Edler's room from Central Point. We drew pictures of Greece. In art, we cut paper that was red, yellow, and blue. We pasted the pieces where they fell on a sheet of white drawing paper. The designs made were interesting.

In Mrs. Flossie Murray's room, our February president is Dennis Finlen. He is the second boy to be elected president of our room this year.

Jerry Corrigan returned to our room after spending over two months in California. Our parents came to school for an individual parent conference recently. Mrs. Murray gave them our cards and together they discussed our successes and problems. We think our parent-teacher conferences are a help to all of us.

In Jack Bailey's room, we have elected class officers for the fourth six week's period. Our officers are president, Greg Friesen; vice president, Denise Dean; secretary, Wanda Hughes; housekeepers, Carol Rodden and Danny Hensler; messenger, Susan Weaver; host, Bill Stewart; paper monitor, Jacqueline Colley, and student body representative, Cathy Spencer.

Our fifth grade students wrote poems during the third six week's period.

In Mrs. Nita Birdseye's room we have elected new officers. They are president,

Medford High School

Edited by Sandy Shugart. Three members of the advanced art classes won regional gold key awards in the Oregon Scholastic Art contest last week. Don Kondo, Carl Washburn, and Tom Semple were the winners, with Don winning a national blue ribbon. Don's entry will be sent to the national contest where he has a chance of winning a national gold key.

Delegates to the state International Relations League convention in Eugene the first week in March were announced by IRL advisors last week. John Alansky, Jim Albright, Jim Frake, Chuck Kyer, Joel Gregory, Rosanne Legas, Diane Lewis, Martha Simpson, Sue House, and Carl Washburn will be Medford representatives. The Medford delegation will represent the United Kingdom at the Model United Nations.

Registration for next year is now in progress at Medford High, and all students are expected to register by March 10.

New courses which will be offered next year are Arts and Crafts I and II, third year Russian, third year French, a general drafting course which will prepare the student for either engineering or architectural drafting the following year, and a special homemaking course which is designed for career-minded senior girls.

Several students from the advanced junior English classes have entered the writing contest sponsored by the "Senior Scholastic" magazine. The contest is open to any student meeting age requirements and having regular attendance at schools in the United States and its possessions. Students may enter the three divisions of poetry, informal essay, and short-short story.

Students entered include Nancy Duncan in poetry; Joel Gregory and Jill DuCroz, informal essay; and Carl Washburn, JoAnn Johnson, and Joel Gregory in short-short story. The required length of the stories and essays is 700 to 1,500 words. Poetry must be from 32 to 200 lines.

Six members of the Medford International Relations League took the annual United Nations test last week.

Taking the test were Jim Tunge, Jim Albright, Martha Simpson, Rosanne Legas, Brian Christofferson, and Harold Bailey.

National prizes include a trip to Europe or $1,500 and a trip to Mexico or $500. State prizes include trips, merchandise, and cash awards.

Local and state winners will be announced in April or early May; national winners will be chosen sometime before June 1.

I. A. Mirick, director of the Medford High band, has selected next year's majorities.

Seventeen girls tried out for a position. They were judged on twirling, acrobatics, dancing, style, coordination, rhythm, general responsibility, citizenship, and grades.

Selected as head majorettes were Jackie and Judy Ayres. The others selected were Bonnie Brantly, Mary Milne, Donna Johnson, Kay Ruck, Tamara Wright, Linda Mattson, Linda McCam, Carolyn Paulos, and first alternate Vicki Hall. Their advisor is Virginia Westerfield.

Feb. 24 is the deadline for those students who desire to attend a Shakespearean play at student rates to turn in their reservations. Student reserved seats are available for the showing next Aug. 10, of the play "Hamlet" by Ashland Shakespearean Festival plays. Tickets are $1.50 each, and seats are in the $1.80 section.

Reservations may be cancelled as late as July 27, if necessary.

Howard School - Rochelle Holmes returned to Mrs. Elva Edler's room from Central Point. We drew pictures of Greece. In art, we cut paper that was red, yellow, and blue. We pasted the pieces where they fell on a sheet of white drawing paper. The designs made were interesting.

In Mrs. Flossie Murray's room, our February president is Dennis Finlen. He is the second boy to be elected president of our room this year.

Jerry Corrigan returned to our room after spending over two months in California. Our parents came to school for an individual parent conference recently. Mrs. Murray gave them our cards and together they discussed our successes and problems. We think our parent-teacher conferences are a help to all of us.

In Jack Bailey's room, we have elected class officers for the fourth six week's period. Our officers are president, Greg Friesen; vice president, Denise Dean; secretary, Wanda Hughes; housekeepers, Carol Rodden and Danny Hensler; messenger, Susan Weaver; host, Bill Stewart; paper monitor, Jacqueline Colley, and student body representative, Cathy Spencer.

Our fifth grade students wrote poems during the third six week's period.

In Mrs. Nita Birdseye's room we have elected new officers. They are president,

Medford High School

Edited by Sandy Shugart. Three members of the advanced art classes won regional gold key awards in the Oregon Scholastic Art contest last week. Don Kondo, Carl Washburn, and Tom Semple were the winners, with Don winning a national blue ribbon. Don's entry will be sent to the national contest where he has a chance of winning a national gold key.

Delegates to the state International Relations League convention in Eugene the first week in March were announced by IRL advisors last week. John Alansky, Jim Albright, Jim Frake, Chuck Kyer, Joel Gregory, Rosanne Legas, Diane Lewis, Martha Simpson, Sue House, and Carl Washburn will be Medford representatives. The Medford delegation will represent the United Kingdom at the Model United Nations.

Registration for next year is now in progress at Medford High, and all students are expected to register by March 10.

New courses which will be offered next year are Arts and Crafts I and II, third year Russian, third year French, a general drafting course which will prepare the student for either engineering or architectural drafting the following year, and a special homemaking course which is designed for career-minded senior girls.

Several students from the advanced junior English classes have entered the writing contest sponsored by the "Senior Scholastic" magazine. The contest is open to any student meeting age requirements and having regular attendance at schools in the United States and its possessions. Students may enter the three divisions of poetry, informal essay, and short-short story.

Students entered include Nancy Duncan in poetry; Joel Gregory and Jill DuCroz, informal essay; and Carl Washburn, JoAnn Johnson, and Joel Gregory in short-short story. The required length of the stories and essays is 700 to 1,500 words. Poetry must be from 32 to 200 lines.

Six members of the Medford International Relations League took the annual United Nations test last week.

Taking the test were Jim Tunge, Jim Albright, Martha Simpson, Rosanne Legas, Brian Christofferson, and Harold Bailey.

National prizes include a trip to Europe or $1,500 and a trip to Mexico or $500. State prizes include trips, merchandise, and cash awards.

Local and state winners will be announced in April or early May; national winners will be chosen sometime before June 1.

I. A. Mirick, director of the Medford High band, has selected next year's majorities.

Seventeen girls tried out for a position. They were judged on twirling, acrobatics, dancing, style, coordination, rhythm, general responsibility, citizenship, and grades.

Selected as head majorettes were Jackie and Judy Ayres. The others selected were Bonnie Brantly, Mary Milne, Donna Johnson, Kay Ruck, Tamara Wright, Linda Mattson, Linda McCam, Carolyn Paulos, and first alternate Vicki Hall. Their advisor is Virginia Westerfield.

Feb. 24 is the deadline for those students who desire to attend a Shakespearean play at student rates to turn in their reservations. Student reserved seats are available for the showing next Aug. 10, of the play "Hamlet" by Ashland Shakespearean Festival plays. Tickets are $1.50 each, and seats are in the $1.80 section.

Reservations may be cancelled as late as July 27, if necessary.

Howard School - Rochelle Holmes returned to Mrs. Elva Edler's room from Central Point. We drew pictures of Greece. In art, we cut paper that was red, yellow, and blue. We pasted the pieces where they fell on a sheet of white drawing paper. The designs made were interesting.

In Mrs. Flossie Murray's room, our February president is Dennis Finlen. He is the second boy to be elected president of our room this year.

Jerry Corrigan returned to our room after spending over two months in California. Our parents came to school for an individual parent conference recently. Mrs. Murray gave them our cards and together they discussed our successes and problems. We think our parent-teacher conferences are a help to all of us.

In Jack Bailey's room, we have elected class officers for the fourth six week's period. Our officers are president, Greg Friesen; vice president, Denise Dean; secretary, Wanda Hughes; housekeepers, Carol Rodden and Danny Hensler; messenger, Susan Weaver; host, Bill Stewart; paper monitor, Jacqueline Colley, and student body representative, Cathy Spencer.

Our fifth grade students wrote poems during the third six week's period.

In Mrs. Nita Birdseye's room we have elected new officers. They are president,

Medford High School

Edited by Sandy Shugart. Three members of the advanced art classes won regional gold key awards in the Oregon Scholastic Art contest last week. Don Kondo, Carl Washburn, and Tom Semple were the winners, with Don winning a national blue ribbon. Don's entry will be sent to the national contest where he has a chance of winning a national gold key.

Delegates to the state International Relations League convention in Eugene the first week in March were announced by IRL advisors last week. John Alansky, Jim Albright, Jim Frake, Chuck Kyer, Joel Gregory, Rosanne Legas, Diane Lewis, Martha Simpson, Sue House, and Carl Washburn will be Medford representatives. The Medford delegation will represent the United Kingdom at the Model United Nations.

Registration for next year is now in progress at Medford High, and all students are expected to register by March 10.

New courses which will be offered next year are Arts and Crafts I and II, third year Russian, third year French, a general drafting course which will prepare the student for either engineering or architectural drafting the following year, and a special homemaking course which is designed for career-minded senior girls.

Several students from the advanced junior English classes have entered the writing contest sponsored by the "Senior Scholastic" magazine. The contest is open to any student meeting age requirements and having regular attendance at schools in the United States and its possessions. Students may enter the three divisions of poetry, informal essay, and short-short story.

Students entered include Nancy Duncan in poetry; Joel Gregory and Jill DuCroz, informal essay; and Carl Washburn, JoAnn Johnson, and Joel Gregory in short-short story. The required length of the stories and essays is 700 to 1,500 words. Poetry must be from 32 to 200 lines.

Six members of the Medford International Relations League took the annual United Nations test last week.

Taking the test were Jim Tunge, Jim Albright, Martha Simpson, Rosanne Legas, Brian Christofferson, and Harold Bailey.

National prizes include a trip to Europe or $1,500 and a trip to Mexico or $500. State prizes include trips, merchandise, and cash awards.

Local and state winners will be announced in April or early May; national winners will be chosen sometime before June 1.

I. A. Mirick, director of the Medford High band, has selected next year's majorities.

Seventeen girls tried out for a position. They were judged on twirling, acrobatics, dancing, style, coordination, rhythm, general responsibility, citizenship, and grades.

Selected as head majorettes were Jackie and Judy Ayres. The others selected were Bonnie Brantly, Mary Milne, Donna Johnson, Kay Ruck, Tamara Wright, Linda Mattson, Linda McCam, Carolyn Paulos, and first alternate Vicki Hall. Their advisor is Virginia Westerfield.

Feb. 24 is the deadline for those students who desire to attend a Shakespearean play at student rates to turn in their reservations. Student reserved seats are available for the showing next Aug. 10, of the play "Hamlet" by Ashland Shakespearean Festival plays. Tickets are $1.50 each, and seats are in the $1.80 section.

Reservations may be cancelled as late as July 27, if necessary.

Howard School - Rochelle Holmes returned to Mrs. Elva Edler's room from Central Point. We drew pictures of Greece. In art, we cut paper that was red, yellow, and blue. We pasted the pieces where they fell on a sheet of white drawing paper. The designs made were interesting.

In Mrs. Flossie Murray's room, our February president is Dennis Finlen. He is the second boy to be elected president of our room this year.

Jerry Corrigan returned to our room after spending over two months in California. Our parents came to school for an individual parent conference recently. Mrs. Murray gave them our cards and together they discussed our successes and problems. We think our parent-teacher conferences are a help to all of us.

In Jack Bailey's room, we have elected class officers for the fourth six week's period. Our officers are president, Greg Friesen; vice president, Denise Dean; secretary, Wanda Hughes; housekeepers, Carol Rodden and Danny Hensler; messenger, Susan Weaver; host, Bill Stewart; paper monitor, Jacqueline Colley, and student body representative, Cathy Spencer.

Our fifth grade students wrote poems during the third six week's period.

In Mrs. Nita Birdseye's room we have elected new officers. They are president,

Medford High School

Edited by Sandy Shugart. Three members of the advanced art classes won regional gold key awards in the Oregon Scholastic Art contest last week. Don Kondo, Carl Washburn, and Tom Semple were the winners, with Don winning a national blue ribbon. Don's entry will be sent to the national contest where he has a chance of winning a national gold key.

Delegates to the state International Relations League convention in Eugene the first week in March were announced by IRL advisors last week. John Alansky, Jim Albright, Jim Frake, Chuck Kyer, Joel Gregory, Rosanne Legas, Diane Lewis, Martha Simpson, Sue House, and Carl Washburn will be Medford representatives. The Medford delegation will represent the United Kingdom at the Model United Nations.

Registration for next year is now in progress at Medford High, and all students are expected to register by March 10.

New courses which will be offered next year are Arts and Crafts I and II, third year Russian, third year French, a general drafting course which will prepare the student for either engineering or architectural drafting the following year, and a special homemaking course which is designed for career-minded senior girls.

Several students from the advanced junior English classes have entered the writing contest sponsored by the "Senior Scholastic" magazine. The contest is open to any student meeting age requirements and having regular attendance at schools in the United States and its possessions. Students may enter the three divisions of poetry, informal essay, and short-short story.

Students entered include Nancy Duncan in poetry; Joel Gregory and Jill DuCroz, informal essay; and Carl Washburn, JoAnn Johnson, and Joel Gregory in short-short story. The required length of the stories and essays is 700 to 1,500 words. Poetry must be from 32 to 200 lines.

Six members of the Medford International Relations League took the annual United Nations test last week.

Taking the test were Jim Tunge, Jim Albright, Martha Simpson, Rosanne Legas, Brian Christofferson, and Harold Bailey.

National prizes include a trip to Europe or $1,500 and a trip to Mexico or $500. State prizes include trips, merchandise, and cash awards.

Local and state winners will be announced in April or early May; national winners will be chosen sometime before June 1.

I. A. Mirick, director of the Medford High band, has selected next year's majorities.

Seventeen girls tried out for a position. They were judged on twirling, acrobatics, dancing, style, coordination, rhythm, general responsibility, citizenship, and grades.

Selected as head majorettes were Jackie and Judy Ayres. The others selected were Bonnie Brantly, Mary Milne, Donna Johnson, Kay Ruck, Tamara Wright, Linda Mattson, Linda McCam, Carolyn Paulos, and first alternate Vicki Hall. Their advisor is Virginia Westerfield.

Feb. 24 is the deadline for those students who desire to attend a Shakespearean play at student rates to turn in their reservations. Student reserved seats are available for the showing next Aug. 10, of the play "Hamlet" by Ashland Shakespearean Festival plays. Tickets are $1.50 each, and seats are in the $1.80 section.

Reservations may be cancelled as late as July 27, if necessary.

Howard School - Rochelle Holmes returned to Mrs. Elva Edler's room from Central Point. We drew pictures of Greece. In art, we cut paper that was red, yellow, and blue. We pasted the pieces where they fell on a sheet of white drawing paper. The designs made were interesting.

In Mrs. Flossie Murray's room, our February president is Dennis Finlen. He is the second boy to be elected president of our room this year.

Jerry Corrigan returned to our room after spending over two months in California. Our parents came to school for an individual parent conference recently. Mrs. Murray gave them our cards and together they discussed our successes and problems. We think our parent-teacher conferences are a help to all of us.

In Jack Bailey's room, we have elected class officers for the fourth six week's period. Our officers are president, Greg Friesen; vice president, Denise Dean; secretary, Wanda Hughes; housekeepers, Carol Rodden and Danny Hensler; messenger, Susan Weaver; host, Bill Stewart; paper monitor, Jacqueline Colley, and student body representative, Cathy Spencer.

Our fifth grade students wrote poems during the third six week's period.

In Mrs. Nita Birdseye's room we have elected new officers. They are president,

Medford High School

Edited by Sandy Shugart. Three members of the advanced art classes won regional gold key awards in the Oregon Scholastic Art contest last week. Don Kondo, Carl Washburn, and Tom Semple were the winners, with Don winning a national blue ribbon. Don's entry will be sent to the national contest where he has a chance of winning a national gold key.

Delegates to the state International Relations League convention in Eugene the first week in March were announced by IRL advisors last week. John Alansky, Jim Albright, Jim Frake, Chuck Kyer, Joel Gregory, Rosanne Legas, Diane Lewis, Martha Simpson, Sue House, and Carl Washburn will be Medford representatives. The Medford delegation will represent the United Kingdom at the Model United Nations.

Registration for next year is now in progress at Medford High, and all students are expected to register by March 10.

New courses which will be offered next year are Arts and Crafts I and II, third year Russian, third year French, a general drafting course which will prepare the student for either engineering or architectural drafting the following year, and a special homemaking course which is designed for career-minded senior girls.

Several students from the advanced junior English classes have entered the writing contest sponsored by the "Senior Scholastic" magazine. The contest is open to any student meeting age requirements and having regular attendance at schools in the United States and its possessions. Students may enter the three divisions of poetry, informal essay, and short-short story.

Students entered include Nancy Duncan in poetry; Joel Gregory and Jill DuCroz, informal essay; and Carl Washburn, JoAnn Johnson, and Joel Gregory in short-short story. The required length of the stories and essays is 700 to 1,500 words. Poetry must be from 32 to 200 lines.

Six members of the Medford International Relations League took the annual United Nations test last week.

Taking the test were Jim Tunge, Jim Albright, Martha Simpson, Rosanne Legas, Brian Christofferson, and Harold Bailey.

National prizes include a trip to Europe or $1,500 and a trip to Mexico or $500. State prizes include trips, merchandise, and cash awards.

Local and state winners will be announced in April or early May; national winners will be chosen sometime before June 1.

I. A. Mirick, director of the Medford High band, has selected next year's majorities.

Seventeen girls tried out for a position. They were judged on twirling, acrobatics, dancing, style, coordination, rhythm, general responsibility, citizenship, and grades.

Selected as head majorettes were Jackie and Judy Ayres. The others selected were Bonnie Brantly, Mary Milne, Donna Johnson, Kay Ruck, Tamara Wright, Linda Mattson, Linda McCam, Carolyn Paulos, and first alternate Vicki Hall. Their advisor is Virginia Westerfield.

Feb. 24 is the deadline for those students who desire to attend a Shakespearean play at student rates to turn in their reservations. Student reserved seats are available for the showing next Aug. 10, of the play "Hamlet" by Ashland Shakespearean Festival plays. Tickets are $1.50 each, and seats are in the $1.80 section.

Reservations may be cancelled