Eisenhower Visits Baseball Camp

Palm Springs, Calif., (UPI)—The 70-year-old man wearing a baseball cap and appearing completely relaxed had the baseball players lined up—waiting for his autograph.

Dwight D. Eisenhower, former president no longer burdened with the affairs of state, paid an impromptu visit Wednesday to the Los Angeles Angels baseball team training camp here and happily joked with players while watching a five-inning intra-squad game from the dugout.

On vacation at nearby El Dorado Country Club since Feb. 8, Eisenhower and his friends George Allen, Charles Jones, oil company executive, and medical Dr. Seeley Mudd dropped in on the training camp unannounced.

Starved Rock Death Trial Nearing Jury

Ottawa, Ill., (UPI)—The murder trial of poker-faced woodsman Chester (Rocky) Weger, accused Starved Rock Park slayer of three wealthy women, was slated to go to the jury today.

The panel of five men and seven women, one of who lost her husband by a sudden heart attack during the 4 1/2-week trial, could acquit Weger in the March 14 slaying of Mrs. Lillian Oetting, 50, or find him guilty with three possible sentences—death by electrocution, life imprisonment, imprisonment of not less than 14 years.

The state seized Weger, 21, on Nov. 17 and brought him to trial for the bludgeon slaying only of Mrs. Oetting, churchwoman and wife of a wealthy Chicago executive. The state contended Mrs. Oetting was hiking in St. Louis Canyon at the park with two Riverside, Ill., neighbors, Mrs. Mildred Lindquist, 50, and Mrs. Frances Murphy, 47, when the sinewy park lodge dishwasher accosted them and beat them to death.

Depressed Areas Measure Criticized

Washington—(UPI)—President Kennedy's measure to aid depressed areas ran into criticism today from business witnesses at a House hearing, but the proposal was expected to advance a step in the Senate.

The Senate production and stabilization subcommittee was set to approve a bill similar to Kennedy's plan at its session today.

Officials of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce and the National Association of Manufacturers told a House banking subcommittee that the President's bill might do more harm than good.

Robert P. Lee, assistant to the vice president of the Connecticut Light & Power Co., said in a prepared statement that "you cannot effectively create jobs... you can only move jobs from one area to another and even that device will not work in areas of most serious long-term distress."

House UnAmerican Funds Appropriated

Washington—(UPI)—The House has given $331,000 and an overwhelming endorsement to its controversial Committee on un-American Activities.

The House voted 412 to 6 to appropriate the money for the investigative group to carry on its work this year.

The vote followed a charge by committee chairman Francis E. Walter (D-Pa.), that his group's chief critic, Rep. James Roosevelt (D-Calif.), apparently does not share the view that Communism is evil and un-American.

Roosevelt had remarked in the Congressional Record that the committee "is a bad institution which has tended to grow worse."

When it came to a vote, Roosevelt failed in attempts to send the bill back to committee and open it to amendments.
