Proposal To Boost Taxes on Trucks Is Criticized at Meet

President John F. Kennedy's proposed increase for levies on heavy trucks was criticized at Friday night's meeting of the Southern Oregon Conservation and Tree Farm association.

Kennedy has requested higher taxes on diesel fuel, trucks over 26,000 pounds, tires, inner tubes and rubber used for retreading. The measure is designed to get the federal highway program out of trouble. The President said that passenger cars are paying more than their fair share of the costs of the highway network.

Darrell Davis, local logger and chairman of the SOCTFA trucking committee, said this proposed tax increase would mean an increased tax cost of $17,290 to his fleet of trucks. The proposed state legislation for removal of the flat fee option would mean a $29,000 tax increase, or a combined state and federal tax increase on his fleet of trucks totalling $46,290 for one year. This would average out to a $2,000 tax increase per truck, Davis noted.

Bill's Proposal

Senate Bill 33 proposes to remove the flat fee option for payment of weight mile tax presently extended to trucks hauling logs, poles, piling and dump trucks.

"There is a decided difference between highway and logging trucks' operations," Davis pointed out. "Logging trucks get smaller mileage on their rubber and diesel oil. Logging trucks use secondary or county roads entirely and not federal highways as do the highway trucks."

Reporting on legislative hearings the committee had attended recently, Davis noted that the required certificate of necessity for log hauling under Senate Bill 16 had been withdrawn at the union's request.

"However, a majority of the senate committee considering the bill seems to favor the bill, so we will probably hear from it again," Davis remarked.

Letters Written

Davis noted that the local lumber industry had written several letters to the state legislature as requested opposing Senate Bills 16 and 33.

Dale Prentice, secretary-manager of SOCTFA, announced that the annual public meeting called by the bureau of land management's local office to discuss timber sales programs would be held Tuesday, March 21, starting at 1:30 p.m. in the BLM warehouse building near the fairgrounds.
