DEER PARK—A deer park is being constructed near Cave Junction on the Redwood highway. Deer from the Portland zoo are shown being unloaded at the park. Opening date is set for April 1. A story book lane and playground for small children will be a park feature. About 30 deer will be on display. Also, a small animal zoo is planned.

NEAR CAVE JUNCTION

Deer Park Being Constructed

By KATHERINE SCOTT
Illinois Valley Correspondent

Illinois Valley – A restoration program is underway to convert the four acre Woodland Inn property a mile south of Cave Junction into a deer park.

Three acres will be devoted to a deer area. About 30 deer will be kept in the park. They have been purchased from the Portland and San Francisco zoos. The property will be left in a natural forest setting.

Russell Hamilton and Miss Myrtle Talley are co-owners of the project. They plan on having a picnic area adjacent to the deer area. In addition as an attraction for children a story book lane will be constructed. More than a dozen nursery rhyme scene will be included in the lane. The Three Little Pigs, Little Boy Blue, Miss Muffet, Jack and Jill and Little Bo Peep will be represented.

A shipment of baby goats arrived March 1 as a start of a small animal section where children will be allowed to feed the animals. More goats, lambs and donkeys will be arriving soon.

Playground

Other park facilities include a children's playground, refreshment stand and souvenir building. The souvenir building will be located in the old Woodland Inn.

Hamilton and Miss Talley plan on having the park completed April 1. The first shipment of deer arrived March 7. They came from Portland and eastern Washington zoos. On March 11, another shipment arrived from the San Francisco zoo.

Miss Talley has had nine years of experience in operating a deer park near Benton Harbor, Mich. The owners purchased the property after a 1,200 mile tour.

Happy Camp Grade School Summer Program Feasible

Happy Camp-Herbert Sonneborn, Happy Camp Elementary school principal, reported that a summer school program would be financially feasible and that he already has one teacher who is willing to teach classes.

Sonneborn gave this report at a meeting of the elementary school board last week. He explained that two more teachers are needed. Probable subjects to be taught are reading, mathematics with another subject yet to be determined.

Sonneborn said classes will be four hours each week day for six weeks. They will be on a voluntary attendance basis, he indicated. However, each student agreeing to take a summer class must have regular attendance, he said. The state will only pay for average daily attendance, Sonneborn commented.

In other business, the board heard a declaration of candidacy submitted by John Dolezal for election to the school board April 18. All candidates must file before March 18. Terms of three board members expire this year. Of the three vacancies to be filled, one is a two year term and the other two are for four years.

The board also signed the appointments of three persons to serve on the school election board. Appointed were Estyle Woolwebber, inspector; Eunice Jensen, judge, and Vernal Helgar, judge.

Conferences

Sonneborn announced that between April 3 and 8 parent-teacher conferences will be held. Sonneborn then explained that the faculty wishes to initiate a new grading system next year. A sample report card was displayed. The new card is being used in many schools and is better than the older type because it shows the exact level of each student's progress, rather than an ABC system. The cards would be used in the primary grades first, Sonneborn said.

Elsie DeAvilla, elementary consultant from the Siskiyou county school office in Yreka, spent two days reviewing the methods and progress being made in the elementary school, Sonneborn said. He said her report indicated she was very pleased with methods being used, especially in the reading program.

Another school visitor was Ralph Woods, of Ashland, World Book encyclopedia representative. He spent time with the fourth and six grade classes, demonstrating proper use of the encyclopedia.

Sonneborn reported on his trip to Redding and San Francisco for the school administrators convention. Teaching methods and teaching machines were demonstrated, he said. Also, problems of school administration were discussed.

Irrigation Board Passes Water Delivery Measure

Eagle Point — Twenty-two people attended the Eagle Point Irrigation District board of director's meeting last week.

In major business, the board passed a resolution governing water delivery. The resolution requires that water users sign a water delivery ticket at the completion of each irrigation. Refusal to sign will result in the water user being denied all subsequent irrigations until the non-signing of the delivery ticket is satisfactorily adjusted by the manager or the board.

The resolution states that over the past years "numerous difficulties have arisen whereby the validity of the water delivery tickets has been questioned."

"By the old method the water delivery tickets were turned into the district office and no acknowledgement was made by the water user as to the correctness of these tickets."

New Policy

It further states, "A new policy is being adopted by the Eagle Point Irrigation district, whereby the manner in which the water delivery tickets are to be made out is being changed."

"In all future deliveries of water, the water delivery ticket will be made out by the ditch rider in duplicate and upon the completion of each irrigation the ditch rider will present a completed water delivery ticket for the signature of the water user."

Hunting Problems To Be Considered At Special Meeting

By JEANETTE HEAD
Applegate Correspondent

Applegate–Last fall a number of Applegate ranchers posted their land with numerous "No Hunting" and "No Trespassing" signs during deer hunting season. A number of them had posted their land in previous years.

The complaints the ranchers voiced were the usual ones–gates left open, careless shooting among cattle and livestock, shooting toward buildings and complete disregard at times for safety. A number of cattle and livestock have been injured or killed, and several farmers have found hunters dressing out deer in the fields among their livestock. Some hunters asked for permission to hunt on private land, but many did not. The damage done by the deer has been greatly outweighed by the damage done by the hunters, in the opinion of many ranchers.

Many local residents feel that the late either sex season is most undesirable. The deer population is felt to be rapidly diminishing. The killing of old does and young fawns, as well as many bucks during the hunting season is held to be greatly responsible.

It is getting to be an unusual sight to see deer during the day in the pasture fields, and many local residents feel that the deer are and should be part of the scenery. That the deer do some damage to alfalfa fields, strawberry beds and young fruit trees is not denied. But after the hunting season and several groups of careless hunters, the deer are generally found to be the more desirable.

Many complaints have been made and a lot of talk has been going on, but now some action is being taken by the state game commission in the form of a hearing. This hearing will be held at the Applegate school on Thursday, March 16 at 8 p.m. Anyone interested–residents or hunters–is invited to attend. Both sides of the question will be discussed.

Band Concert Set In Eagle Point

Eagle Point–The Eagle Point High school band under the direction of Charles Martin and the grade school band under the direction of Keith Krambeal will have a Red Cross benefit band concert Sunday, March 26 at 2:30 p.m. in the grade school gymnasium. During the intermission Donna Millard accompanied by Georgia Weidman and Donald Carnes, accordionist, will perform several numbers.

High school and grade school students are selling tickets. It is hoped that even though a person does not plan to attend, they will purchase a ticket as a donation to the Red Cross fund. Tickets may also be purchased at the door.

Admittance charge is $1 for the entire family or 50c for adults and 25c for children.

Swem's and Mann's of Medford have donated gift certificates for $10 and $5. This will be divided with a first and a second place prize for students in both the high school and the grade school turning in the most money for tickets sold.

Gold Hill – Amethyst Rebekah lodge will hold Friendship night tonight at 8 p.m. in the I.O.O.F. hall on Fourth ave. All Rebekahs and Odd Fellows in the district are invited.
