

USC Track Coach Blasts Oregon Athletic Director

Leo Harris Amazed by Statements

Los Angeles —UPI—The University of Oregon, and especially its athletic director, Leo Harris, will never win a popularity contest at the University of Southern California.

SC Track Coach Jess Mortensen made that plain yesterday at the track writers luncheon when he said he'd like to meet the Ducks to "keep 'em in their place; they're getting too smart."

Mortensen, who never has lost in his 10 years at the Trojan helm, said the Ducks would be invited here for a dual meet "until one of our directors die," referring to USC's Jess Hill and Harris.

"We just don't happen to like Leo Harris," he said. "I don't think it's a secret." Harris was not immediately available for comment.

Blame Harris

Mort made it clear that SC lays much of the blame for the death of the Pacific Coast conference at the feet of Harris.

SC and Oregon, with two of the nation's finest track teams, meet April 22 in Palo Alto, Calif., in a double dual meet that includes Stanford. The two teams are very close and Oregon could snap the Trojans' long unbeaten string that has been going since 1945.

Oregon Coach Bill Bowerman reacted to Mortensen's statements by saying, "We have great respect for the Southern California track team. They have a great deal of depth and we hope to give them a good meet at Palo Alto."

He said he considers Mortensen and UCLA Coach Ducky Drake fine coaches and "outstanding gentlemen."

Drake said at yesterday's luncheon, "The last time I checked, the feeling concerning Harris and Oregon was the same at UCLA." The Trojans and Ducks met in a dual meet two seasons ago and SC won, 70-13-60-23, at Palo Alto.

GOALBY HAPPY

St. Petersburg, Fla. —UPI—Bob Goalby is as happy as a lark thanks to a record run of birdies that winged him to victory in the St. Petersburg Open golf tournament. The 30-year-old pro from Crystal River, Fla., holed eight one-under-par and a 1961 tourney low of 261 Sunday to pocket the $2,800 winner's purse.

OSC, OU Lose To California Diamond Clubs

Fresno, Calif. —UPI—Fresno State defeated Oregon State, 11-4, Monday in a non-conference baseball clash.

Fresno centerfielder Augie Garrido slammed two home runs, driving in four tallies. First baseman Ron Shiller parked a three-run homer for the winners. It marked Oregon State's season opener. Fresno now is 11 and 2.

Berkeley, Calif. —UPI—California's baseball team handed Oregon a 6-5 defeat here Monday.

The Bears got the winning run in the last half of the ninth inning when Don Louie doubled home Bob Wendell. Oregon had gone ahead 4-0 in the third inning.

STATE BASKETBALL RUNNERS UP—There was plenty of praise at Eugene last week for the Medford Black Tornado basketball squad, above, which was runner-up for the Oregon Class A-1 high school championship. The hoopmen missed by a whisker of getting a second straight maplecourt diadem for their school. Pascual Regains 1959 Form

Orlando, Fla. —UPI—Camilo Pascual's fast ball is humming again and it sounds like mighty sweet music to the Minnesota twins.

Pascual's baseball career came perilously close to being ended this past winter and he admits it was touch and go until as recently as last month because of an injury to his arm which he suffered last May.

"Now the arm is good, real good," smiled the 27-year-old Cuban right-hander, "and I guarantee I'll be ready. I feel the same way I did in 1959."

That was the year Pascual was generally acknowledged to be the finest pitcher in baseball. He not only won 17 games for the last-place Washington Senators that season, but led the American league in shutouts and complete games in addition to striking out 185 batters and compiling a 2.64 earned run average.

Bean Ball Incident

Camilo ran into trouble last May 27, however, when he and Pete Runnels of Boston became involved in a bean ball incident. Trying to restrain him from scuffling with Runnels, Pascual's own teammates accidentally wrenched his arm and he was never the same pitcher afterward.

He finished the 1960 season with a 12-8 record but he never threw a ball during the last six weeks of the season and there were those who felt he might be through for good.

"I didn't know myself whether I would ever pitch again when I went back to my home in Cuba in the winter," Pascual says.

In past years, Pascual had been the mainstay for the Cienfuegos of the Cuban Winter league. This year, however, he did no pitching for them at all until late February.

"I pitched only 13 innings this winter but I struck out 13 men," he said. "I didn't want to overdo it. But even those few innings I pitched were enough to prove my arm was okay again. After I pitched an inning or two, all my teammates in Cuba come over to me and say, 'Good, good, you're throwing now like you always did.' I was so happy, you have no idea. If I couldn't do it this winter, I knew it might be the end."

End of Hopes

It might have been the end of Minnesota's hopes, also. Without Pascual, the Twins wouldn't have a prayer. With him, they at least have the

The next meet for the Medford YMCA will be the YMCA Jamboree at Tacoma, Wash., April 6 and 7.

Los Angeles —UPI—The University of Oregon, and especially its athletic director, Leo Harris, will never win a popularity contest at the University of Southern California.

SC Track Coach Jess Mortensen made that plain yesterday at the track writers luncheon when he said he'd like to meet the Ducks to "keep 'em in their place; they're getting too smart."

Mortensen, who never has lost in his 10 years at the Trojan helm, said the Ducks would be invited here for a dual meet "until one of our directors die," referring to USC's Jess Hill and Harris.

"We just don't happen to like Leo Harris," he said. "I don't think it's a secret." Harris was not immediately available for comment.

Blame Harris

Mort made it clear that SC lays much of the blame for the death of the Pacific Coast conference at the feet of Harris.

SC and Oregon, with two of the nation's finest track teams, meet April 22 in Palo Alto, Calif., in a double dual meet that includes Stanford. The two teams are very close and Oregon could snap the Trojans' long unbeaten string that has been going since 1945.

Oregon Coach Bill Bowerman reacted to Mortensen's statements by saying, "We have great respect for the Southern California track team. They have a great deal of depth and we hope to give them a good meet at Palo Alto."

He said he considers Mortensen and UCLA Coach Ducky Drake fine coaches and "outstanding gentlemen."

Drake said at yesterday's luncheon, "The last time I checked, the feeling concerning Harris and Oregon was the same at UCLA." The Trojans and Ducks met in a dual meet two seasons ago and SC won, 70-13-60-23, at Palo Alto.
