

I never could look a giraffe in the eye...

until Baker's Coconut

All sorts of eye-magic happens when you open a package of Baker's Angel Flake Coconut—like this giraffe cut-up cake:

First, just bake a 9-inch square cake. Cool and cut as shown above.

Then put all the pieces together and cover with fluffy brown sugar frosting. Now make spots with plenty of orange-tinted Baker's

Angel Flake Coconut. Make a face with gumdrops, licorice and a mint. You can even feed your giraffe with a licorice and gumdrop tree.

Look in the package for detailed instructions and other ways to be a cut-up with coconut . . .
