Small Worlds Around Us

The Tree Was Wired, But Dogs Got the Word

By some unknown method of sense-communication the message had gone out. Every dog in the neighborhood, as well as those from undetermined vicinities heard the news and all took the information to heart.

For all of them it was unfortunate, for the beautiful spruce tree placed just the proper distance from the entrance to the fashionable house was a popular rendezvous for at least a couple of dozen dogs.

The first dog arrived at the blue spruce early every morning. All during the day a procession of dogs, many breeds and sizes, visited the tree. To them it was an "information-center"; a "chamber of canine commerce" where each could accurately ascertain just what other dog had been there and how long ago.

All very lovely for the dogs but not for the owner of the tree.

Solution to Problem

Finally a friend offered what seemed like a solution; a way to save the tree without injury to the dogs, or hard feelings from the neighbors. The man suggested, as well as helped set up, the equipment. A dry cell battery, a section of wire screen, a coil, length of wire, and a push-button.

The push-button was located in the house, right by the front window. The screen, cut in a circle, with a large hole in the center, that circled the base of the tree, was attached by a wire to the electrical coil, the battery, and the push-button.

The stage was set. The curtain was up, waiting for the actors to occupy the wire platform. The man took up his position at the window, his finger ready on the button. The tree and the street were in full view. A dog came trotting down the street. As was usual with all of them he turned into the yard and approached the tree.

The man pressed the button. The dog, greatly surprised, jumped a foot, let out a frightened yelp, and ran for the street. Arriving there, the dog turned and surveyed the house and the tree.

Another Test

The man was pleased. He waited for the next dog, confident that the dog-procession was in full gallop, and would continue during the day. About half an hour later another dog came, turned in and headed for the tree. Again the button was pushed. Again the surprised dog gave a faint yelp, tucked its tail between its legs and took off down the street, without once looking back.

Only a couple of dozen more, the man thought, and by the end of the next day or so, all the dogs would have been given the hint. Patiently the man waited, but no more dogs came. Some trotted down the street, stopped out in front, then passed on–none of them visited the tree. During the next few days many dogs passed along the street, but not one approached the tree. Only two dogs had received the "foot-tingle" but apparently it was enough. Somewhere, there must have been a "canine-communication-center" where the word was passed along–and they all got the message.

Two Students Get Quill, Scroll Keys

Two Medford High school journalism students, Nancy Duncan and Jim Frake, were notified recently that they have been named national winners in writing competition sponsored by Quill and Scroll, international honor society for high school journalists.

Miss Duncan's award was for news writing; Frake's for editorial writing.

Miss Duncan, a junior, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Duncan, 1500 Terrace dr., and Frake, a senior, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Frake, 22 Richmond ave.

Young Frake is editor of the high school newspaper Hi-Times, is a part-time reporter for the Mail Tribune, and last fall was awarded an expenses-paid trip to a national high school press conference in Detroit, Mich., as the official Oregon delegate representing the Oregon Newspaper Publishers association. Miss Duncan is a news editor on the school newspaper.

Both winners have received Quill and Scroll national award gold keys. In addition, as a senior, Frake is eligible to apply for one of the Edward J. Nell memorial scholarships worth $500 and usable at any college or university offering a journalism degree.

CAR LIFETIME

Detroit – The average lifetime mileage of a U.S. passenger automobile has increased from 25,000 in 1925 to 125,000 now.

Quotes From the News

BY UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL

Palm Springs, Fla.—Joseph P. Kennedy says that his granddaughter, Caroline, phones him two or three times a week to report what's going on at the White House:

"It's the most fascinating thing I ever heard. Caroline talks for two or three minutes and never repeats herself."

Los Angeles—Dr. R. Bernard Finch, speaking to Carole Tregoff after they were convicted in their third murder trial:

"I love you, Carole. I'm sorry."

Hong Kong—Ms. Robert E. McCann of Pasadena, Calif., entering Communist China to visit her husband who has been imprisoned there since 1951:

"I'm very worried. I've waited for nine years. Now I feel I can do something."

Fort Lauderdale, Fla. — Vacationing college students, shouting down officials who asked them to act like ladies and gentlemen instead of whooping it up to protest the nighttime closing of the beaches:

"Bring on the National Guard."

Interviews for Work At Park Scheduled

Ashland — Interviews for Southern Oregon college students who are interested in working at Crater Lake National park for the concessionaire this summer will be conducted on the SOC campus by Ralph O. Peyton and J. M. Griffin, according to Dr. Alvin Fellers, director of student affairs. Interviews will be held March 30 from 9 a.m. to noon in Churchill hall, room 100.

Students who are interested in an interview may secure application blanks from student affairs office at the college and schedule an interview. Applicants must be at least 18 years of age and must register for an appointment. Both men and women will be interviewed.

Positions open for application include waitresses, desk clerks, office, maids, bus boys, cashiers, fountain, clerks, launch operators, bus drivers, and others.

LARGE LAKE

Duluth – Lake Superior has an area of 31,820 square miles and it is believed to be the largest body of fresh water to be found any place in the world.

POPULATION HUB

Edinburgh – Two-thirds of the population of Scotland lives within one-tenth of the total area of the country.

ACLU Opposes Investigation of Birch Society

Los Angeles – (UPI) – The American Civil Liberties Union said Monday it opposes any investigation of the right-wing John Birch Society by Congress or the state legislature.

"The right of all citizens to hold and to advocate their political views, regardless of how extreme and distorted these views may be, is inviolate," said Eason Monroe in a letter to California Gov. Edmond G. Brown.

Violates Amendment

Monroe, executive director of the Civil Liberties Union in Southern California, said any investigation of the Birch Society would violate the first amendment.

"Only a showing that the advocacy of such views constitutes a 'clear and present danger' that unlawful acts will be committed would justify a restraint upon the speech or assembly of the John Birch Society," he added.

"Even the alleged secret charter of the society does not constitute grounds for investigation," Monroe said. "As long as its assembly is peaceable, any minority has the right to conduct its business in private fashion."

Nazarene Hospital Gets Donations

Long Beach, Calif. – (UPI) – A Navy destroyer tender, the USS Hamul, headed to Baja California, Mexico, Monday loaded with donations, many unexpected, for the Nazarene Hospital Infantile at Ensenada.

Two truck loads of supplies valued at $30,000 were donated for the hospital by the Southern California Associated Mothers of Twins clubs, and a spontaneous outpouring of other supplies were given by generous-hearted citizens not even solicited.

More than 20 trucks, station wagons and autos pulled up to the dock when the Hamul was berthed Sunday with each driver asking, "is this the ship?"

Then they unloaded several pianos, an organ, a heavy X-ray machine and boxes of clothing.

The unexpected donations apparently were touched off by a story in a Los Angeles nwespaper recently which told about the Mothers of Twin clubs plans to send supplies to the hospital and the Navy's offer to take them.

American Can To Open Two Plants In State April 28

Salem –(UPI)– American Can Co. will formally open two new plants at Astoria and Eugene April 28. The announcement was made here by R. K. Frederick, manager of the firm's Salem plant.

Each new plant has a start-up crew of about 25 persons. Frederick said it is difficult at this time to predict how many persons the new plants will employ.

Frederick said simultaneous openings of the new plants will serve seafood packers in the Columbia river area and fruit and vegetable packers throughout southern Oregon.

Will Double Output

The new plants will more than double Canco's statewide output. The Salem plant, operating since 1956, has an annual capacity of 200 million cans.

In 1959 the company shut down its Portland plant which had empolyed 450 persons. At that time, the Salem operation was expanded.

The new Astoria plant occupies 55,000 square feet on West Marine dr. It will have a capacity of 100 million cans a year.

The plant in Eugene occupies 70,000 square feet on Seneca rd.

A. S. Bergstrom is manager at Astoria and J. H. Byard is manager in Eugene.

William Hatfield, district sales manager, said the three plants will make Canco the number one can-making industry in Oregon.

Dedication ceremonies at both sites are scheduled for 11 a.m. followed by open house.

Other Canco plant are scattered throughout California, Wshington, Utah and Delaware. Canco is a division of American Can which also manufactures a number of other items including Dixie cups.

Ike Will Write Articles, Book

Palm Springs, Calif.—(UPI)—Former President Eisenhower will write a series of articles on current affairs and a book on his eight years in the White House.

Eisenhower in a prepared statement Monday said the first of his articles will appear in the Saturday Evening Post.

The statement did not indicate when the book or the articles would begin appearing, nor did it give any clue to specific subjects Eisenhower would treat as "current interest."

The book "dealing primarily with my eight years in the presidency and the lessons I believe can be drawn therefrom" will be published by Doubleday and Co., the statement said.

SOC Instructor at Chicago Meeting

Ashland–Dr. Irene Hollenbeck, professor of science at Southern Oregon college, is attending the convention of the National Science Teachers association in Chicago, Ill.

Dr. Hollenbeck is chairman of the life sciences panel at which several topics will be discussed. They are keeping the curriculum up to date, the teacher's place in curriculum building, organization of the biology classroom-laboratory, and college criteria for determining advanced placement in biology.

Before returning to Ashland she will attend two other meetings. They are the Association for the Education of Teachers of Science and the National Science Supervisors association.
