Vernon Says Solons To Be Better Than Most People Think

This is another in a series on the 1961 prospects of the major league teams.)

By LEO H. PETERSEN
UPI Sports Editor

Pompano Beach, Fla.—(UPI)—Finishing last was pretty much of a habit with the old Washington Senators. Mickey Vernon, making his major league managerial debut, promises it isn't going to be that way with the new club in the nation's capital.

Vernon won't predict where the club is going to finish. All he will say is:

"We are going to be a lot better than most people think. We'll surprise some of the big clubs, not once, but several times."

He only grins when general manager Ed Doherty maintains the new Senators are good enough to finish as high as fifth in the expanded 10-team American league. Doherty feels his club can beat out the old Senators, who moved to what they hope will be greener pastures in Minneapolis and St. Paul.

All the new Senators have to go with, however, are castoffs who come pretty high—$75,000 each in the American league draft—to staff the new Senators and the Los Angeles Angels.

Of the 15 pitchers they acquired, 12 have seen major league service but all of them put together last year won only 46 games in the majors. Some of them, perhaps, did not get a good shot at it and they may do better if given regular work. That's what Vernon hopes and Doherty believes.

When he talks of his team Vernon cites his pitching and his outfield as the club's strongest departments.

He will build his pitching staff around Dick Donovan, 6-1, with the White Sox; Pete Burnside, 7-7 with the Tigers; Tom Sturdivant, 3-3 with the Red Sox, Bennie Daniels, 1-3 with Pittsburgh and 4-9 with Columbus; Dave Sisler, 7-5 with the Tigers and Ray Semproch, 3-0 with the Tigers and 11-2 at Spokane; Hal Woodeshick, 4-5 with the old Senators; Marty Kutyna, 3-2 with the Athletics; John Gabler, 3-3 with the Yankees, and Rudy Hernandez, 4-1 with the old Senators.

Sure Starters

Donovan, Burnside and Daniels are sure to get starting roles with Sisler the No. 1 bullpen man. Sturdivant and Klippstein can be used both for starting and relief. Hernandez and Kutyna have been strictly relievers. Woodeschick and Gabler may be used as starters or middle inning hurlers.

Also on the hurling staff are Ed Hobaugh, 11-11 at San Diego, and Joe McClain, 11-14 at Charleston.

It isn't an impressive array, by any means.

Pete Daley, who hit .263 with the Athletics; Gene Green, .250 with the Orioles, and Henry Dotterer, .228 with the Reds and .321 with Jersey City, are the catchers. Daley probably will see the most action.

Gene Woodling, who at 38 is still one of the most feared hitters in the business, will play left field as much as he can for the Senators will need his bat in the lineup.

Willie Tasby, .212 with the Orioles and .281 with the Red Sox, figures to be in center with Marty Keough, .248 with both the Red Sox and Indians, in right. That leaves Joe Hicks, .191 with the White Sox and .303 with San Diego, and Jim King, .287 at Toronto, in reserve.

Infield Candidates

There are at least two players for each infield spot. Dale Long, who hit .366 with the Yankees as a pinch-hitter and part-time performer, and R. C. Stevens, the former Pirate who batted .276 at Vancouver, have been sharing first base duty.

At second it's a fight between Chet Boak, .154 with the Athletics and .292 with Shreveport, and the veteran Danny O'Connell, signed as a free agent after hitting .312 at Tacoma.

Coot Veal, who hit .297 with the Tigers and .302 with Denver, could wind up with the shortstop job, with the veteran Billy Klaus, .209 with the Orioles, behind him. Klaus also can play second or third. Jim Mahoney, .236 at Minneapolis, is another shortstop candidate.

Harry Bright, who hit .313 at Salt Lake City, has third base all to himself, but can expect a helping hand from both Klaus and O'Connell, if they aren't playing elsewhere.

It's hard to see where the new Senators measure up to major league caliber in any department, but they may have enough to escape the cellar.

Golf Stars Open Play In Masters

Augusta, Ga. – (UPI) – The cream of the world's finest golfers teed off today in the first round of the 25th Masters golf tournament with defending champion Arnold Palmer, trying for a new golfing slam, the 4-1 favorite.

Although no Masters champion ever has repeated and he has not been playing too well, Palmer confided to his close friends that he hoped the Masters would be the first leg of the four major golf titles he hopes to win in 1961 –the U. S. Open, the British Open and the PGA in addition to this one.

He tried for it last year, winning the Masters and the U. S. Open. But then he just missed in the British Open, finishing second by one stroke to Kel Nagle of Australia, and wound up in a tie for seventh place in the PGA.

Rated next to Palmer, who won the Masters in 1958 as well as last year, were Ken Venturi, runner-up to Palmer last year, and Gary Player, the South African who is the leading money winner of the year.

Giants Trip Dodgers in Exhibition

By FRED DOWN
United Press International

If you're looking for a team geared for a fast getaway in next week's pennant races, look no further than the San Francisco Giants.

It's clear that new manager Alvin Dark looks for a fast start to make San Francisco fans forget the sour finishes of 1959 and 1960, and the team seems ready to provide just that. It has reeled off eight victories in its last 11 games and it's getting that encouraging smooth blend of solid pitching and robust hitting.

The Giants "said it" with pitching Wednesday when Mike McCormick and Stu Miller combined in a six-hitter that gave them a 2-0 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers. McCormick, the National league's earned run leader with a 2.70 mark in 1960, allowed five hits for the first seven innings and Miller pitched out of an eighth-inning jam and went on to protect the shutout.

Don Blasingame, mentioned prominently in a possible trade with the Cincinnati Reds this spring, homered for the Giants in the fifth inning and they added another run in the seventh on Tom Haller's double, a sacrifice and an error. Stan Williams and Larry Sherry pitched for the Dodgers.

Y Swimmers Go To Tacoma

Medford YMCA swimming team will leave Friday morning at 7 a.m. for the Y jamboree at Tacoma, Wash.

Twenty-eight local swimmers will make the trip.

Preliminaries are set for 7 p.m. Friday. Finals are scheduled for Saturday.

Swimming coach Ken Lyons, who is Medford recreation supervisor, has reported the aggregation improving in quality as well as quantity. He hopes his natators will place high in the meet.

Medford Swim Team Parents association is paying travel expenses and entry fees for the team. In order to raise funds to help finance this venture, the MSTPA is sponsoring the Wednesday, April 12 appearance at Hedrick gym of the Harlem Clowns basketball team. The Clowns will face the Medford Merchants, better known to fans here as the Wooden Shoe, who were third last month in the Oregon AAU tourney.

The jamboree in Tacoma's Wilson High school pool will be for YMCA teams only.

Hialeah, Fla. – (UPI) – Olympian Carolyn Wood led a five-girl Multnomah Athletic club contingent from Portland into the opening round of the three-day National AAU Senior Women's indoor swimming championships here today. MAC, figured to be a strong contender for team honors, received a setback Wednesday when Jackie Danielson, a breaststroker, pulled a leg muscle in workouts. She will not be able to compete.

Ole Miss Grid Hero May Get Diamond Bonus

Nashville, Tenn. – (UPI) – Ole Miss All-America athlete Jake Gibbs, who has turned his back on professional football, may be in line for a bonus of more than $100,000 to play baseball.

Nashville Banner sports columnist Fred Russell quoted this prediction by San Francisco Giant baseball scout Hugh Poland.

"He's the most sought-after prospect I've known since I became a scout," Poland was quoted as saying.

Poland told Russell the New York Yankees, Pittsburgh Pirates and the new Houston Cardinals are ready "to go high" for Gibbs. Poland added he also wanted Gibbs.

Russell wrote that "Poland believes the bidding price for Gibbs will exceed $100,000."

ALLEN ADVANCES

Toledo, Ohio – (UPI) – Lee Allen of Portland's Multomah Athletic club eliminated Ron Finley of Oregon State in the national AAU wrestling championships with a decision Wednesday.
