Hanlin Rumored For Appointment As U.S. Marshal

Medford Man Has Served as Deputy

Portland — UPI — Paul Hanlin of Medford may be appointed as the U.S. Marshal of Oregon, the Washington Bureau of the Oregon Journal said Saturday.

The bureau said that there were strong indications that Hanlin will be President Kennedy's choice for the job.

President Kennedy will soon send his nomination for

PAUL HANLIN
Possible U.S. Marshal

Oregon's U.S. Marshal to the Senate.

The bureau also said that Sid Lezak of Portland was in line for U.S. Attorney of Oregon and Edna Scales of Sandy would be appointed the state's collector of customs.

Appointment Rumored

Hanlin's appointment to the federal post has been rumored in Medford for some weeks, awaiting confirmation from Washington.

Hanlin, 60, a resident of Medford and deputy U.S. Marshal serving the Medford area from 1937 until his retirement some months ago, has been serving as chief jailor for Jackson county in recent months.

Mr. and Mrs. Hanlin live at 508 King st., Medford. They are the parents of three grown sons and a daughter, all married.

During his years as deputy marshal, Hanlin served the territory including Jackson, Josephine, Douglas, Coos, Curry, Klamath, Lake and Harney counties.

Tomorrow Deadline For Tax Returns

Taxpayers have been reminded that tomorrow is the final day for filing state and federal income tax returns without penalty.

Although the usual deadline is April 15, the date was extended until Monday, since the 15th was Saturday.

Local offices for the Oregon state tax commission, 124 West Fourth st., Medford, announced earlier this month plans to remain open tomorrow to help last-minute taxpayers.

Washington — UPI — President Kennedy announced Saturday he would nominate Philip Wilson Bonsal, the last U.S. ambassador to Cuba, to be ambassador to Morocco.

Duncan Possible Hatfield Opponent

What may be the opening gun in the 1962 gubernatorial race sounded here Saturday night as House Speaker Robert B. Duncan was twice hailed as the "next governor of the state of Oregon."

The Medford Democrat's candidacy was suggested during the 11th annual Roosevelt Memorial dinner, first by Jackson County Democratic Chairman Harper Edwards and later by U. S. Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, the main speaker.

Both references brought vigorous bursts of applause from the estimated 600 persons attending the banquet. There has been increasing speculation that Duncan, a powerful and popular legisla-

Freeman Favors New Forest Bill

Klamath Falls — A new forest, to be called the Winema National forest, has been officially incorporated into the timberlands of the Klamath Indian reservation.

Orville Freeman, secretary of agriculture, okayed a bill Thursday that created the new national forest. Regional Forester J. Herbert Stone of the U. S. Forest Service in area meetings held earlier this year explained that there would be an adjustment of some portions of the Fremont and the Rogue forests in creating Winema.

Rogue River area is to be cut to 620,592 acres from its present size of 886,493, and the Fremont area will be sliced from 1,245,608 acres to 1,217,292.

The Winema forest will then have 900,633 acres with an annual allowable cut of 90 million feet. Stone said all of the forests involved are to benefit by the new forest.

Reports say that timber harvest from the reservations lands in the Winema area would bring an estimated $340,000 in additional 25-percent funds for counties that divide the forest service sales funds.

A forester has not been named for the new forest, pending the official signing of the proclamation creating the forest.

Israeli Army Expert Held on Spy Charge

Jerusalem — UPI — Col. Israel Beer, top Israeli military expert, has been arrested on charges of spying for the Communists for "ideological reasons," it was announced last night.

An Israeli spokesman, asked whether Russia was the foreign power for which Beer spied, replied, "No comment."

Beer, foremost Israeli military historian and analyst, was arrested March 31 on the basis of information supplied by American and NATO intelligence officials, it was announced.

TRUMPETER SENTENCED

Lucca, Italy — UPI — An Italian court Saturday sentenced American jazz trumpeter Chet Baker to 19 months and 10 days in jail and fined him $448 on narcotics charges.

U.N. Resolution Asks Belgians To Leave Congo

Also Asks Convening Of Congo Parliament

United Nations — UPI — The General Assembly last night called for the withdrawal of all Belgian military personnel and mercenaries from the Congo and urged the immediate reconvening of the Congolese parliament to decide the future form of government for the politically-divided republic.

Concluding its long debate on the Congo crisis, the 99-nation body urged the Congolese leaders to stop fighting and solve their problems by peaceful means. The delegates called for the release of all political prisoners in the Congo so that reconciliation and negotiation can begin.

The Assembly also called upon Belgium to accept its responsibilities as a member of the United Nations and to comply fully and promptly with resolutions passed by the Assembly and the Security Council in regard to the Congo situation.

The actions were incorporated in two resolutions approved by the Assembly.

Before the final votes on the resolutions, the Assembly turned down a Soviet proposal to delete the words "by the secretary-general" from a clause urging necessary action to block military supplies from entering the Congo.

The communists have withdrawn their recognition of Secretary-general Dag Hammarskjöld, and rejection of the proposal was viewed by many diplomats as a new vote of confidence for Hammarskjöld's mandate in the Congo.

In addition to the nine Communist delegations, Guinea and Cuba voted for the Soviet proposal. Mali, Congo (Leopoldville), Yugoslavia, France and Morocco abstained.

Church said the struggle with world Communism boils down to "brain power" instead of "muscle power" and therefore better schools through federal aid is a "must" in the current Congress.

"If you don't believe we're being threatened," he said, "then you're ignoring the front pages of the newspapers." He referred to Russia's communist triumph of the first man into space.

The traditional annual dinner, the eleventh, featured presentation of a myrtlewood gift to Senator Church, a scene from "Sunrise at Campobello," the play about Franklin Roosevelt, directed by Mrs. Lenore Zapell, and songs by the Marian choir of St. Mary's school. Greetings were extended on behalf of the city by Mayor John W. Snider.

Claude McIntyre Dies in Hospital

Claude Edwin McIntyre, 66, of 2508 Argonne Way, Medford, a prominent valley subdivision, died in a local hospital Friday.

A member of the Medford Realty Board and the National Association of Real Estate boards, Mr. McIntyre was instrumental in developing several subdivisions in the Medford area during the past few years.

He was born in Boise, Idaho, April 19, 1894. He was active in the First Presbyterian church, a member of the Elks lodge, Lodge 327 AF&AM of Long Beach, Calif., the Scottish Rite and Hillah temple of the Shrine of Ashland. He also was a member of the Rogue Valley Country club.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Alma G. McIntyre; one son, Robert E. McIntyre; one daughter, Mrs. Sharmoon Andrews, all of Medford; one brother, James McIntyre, Williams, Ore.; one sister, Mary Ethel McParlan, Long Beach, Calif.; three grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Funeral services will be held at 1:30 p.m. Monday at Perl Funeral home. Dr. D. Kirkland West will officiate. Entombment will be in Siskiyou Mausoleum. The Medford Elks lodge will participate in services.

PRISONERS STRIKE

San Quentin, Calif. — UPI — Twenty-nine condemned prisoners scheduled to die in San Quentin's gas chamber, went on a hunger strike today because they did not like their food.

Quincy, Mass. — UPI — The USS Bainbridge, the nation's first nuclear powered guided missile frigate, was launched Saturday at the Bethlehem Steel company shipyard here.

Spokesmen noted that the latest price fight started the first part of March.

He indicated there is likely to be a tax reform program with special attention to small business.

The new "Peace Corps" seems most promising as seen in Africa, the senator, a member of the senate foreign relations committee, noted. However, it cannot be a substitute for economic aid to the depressed areas of the world, he pointed out.

"Money spent abroad is like water on a water-wheel," the slight, dark complexioned senator remarked. "The wheel makes one turn and like the water, the money is lost in the main stream flow. The influence of the 'Peace Corps' should be more lasting," he noted.

Has the Soviet space achievement of orbiting a man in a rocket harmed the United States foreign prestige? The senator answered it is "just further evidence that the Russians are maintaining their lead in space."

Get Worse

You must remember that President Kennedy said when he took office things would get worse instead of better at

Cuban Airfields Bombed

FLEES CUBA—Members of the U. S. Border Patrol keep a watchful eye on a Cuban Air Force plane at a Miami airport Saturday. A Cuban pilot landed the plane and asked for asylum after participating in a bombing attack on Cuban military installations.

SABOTAGE ON RISE—Smoldering ruins of the nationalized El Encanto department store in Havana are evidence of stepped-up outbreaks of sabotage against the Fidel Castro regime in Cuba.

Senator Discusses Variety of Topics

Sen. Frank Church (D-Ida.) covered a wide range of topics during a press interview Saturday afternoon and in his talk at the annual Roosevelt Memorial banquet here Saturday night he discussed problems facing the administration and particularly pertaining to Oregon.

The young senator from Idaho dealt with these in a relaxed, rapid fashion and discussed high unemployment, the lag in public education, inadequate medical care for old people, unequal economic treatment of the farmer, high interest rates causing a depressed economic growth, and the low level of construction.

"If we find adjustments for those problems facing the world and can materially reduce the armed forces and economic aid to foreign nations, then we will have reduced taxes," Senator Church said. "No, I don't know when this will happen," he replied to a question during the press interview.

Referring to Republican Congressman Edwin Durno's remarks that the "honeymoon" congressional support of Kennedy is almost over, Church replied, "Certainly President Kennedy doesn't have Dr. Durno behind him. But we hope the bulk of the President's program is supported by Congress."

"If the Communists persist in Laos, of course we will have to honor our commitments there," the senator replied to another question. "We would have to intervene through SEATO."

The President would prefer to avoid summit meetings because these have become "propaganda feasts" and accomplish little diplomatically, Senator Church pointed out.

Red China will be in the United Nations, but not this year, he remarked. Past votes in the U.S. Senate indicate a trend to let Red China in, the senator noted. "I have little reason to believe it won't (be in). The President has reaffirmed his opposition to Red China entering membership of the United Nations."

PHILIPS GETS LIFE

Klamath Falls — UPI — Arthur A. Phelps, 43, Klamath Falls, who pleaded guilty April 3 to a second degree murder charge in the strangulation death of his wife, was sentenced to life imprisonment Friday.

Ex-State Senator George W. Dunn Dies at Age 97

Ashland — George W. Dunn, 97, of Ashland died Saturday afternoon in an Ashland rest home. Mr. Dunn was active in state and local government for nearly 50 years.

He was a representative in the state legislature from 1896 to 1898 and served as county judge from 1904 to 1908. Later he served as state senator for 20 years, extending from 1923 to 1943.

In addition, Mr. Dunn was instrumental in founding the First National Bank of Medford. He was a bank director until 1935 and served as vice president for several years.

He was president of the First National Bank of Ashland and was a director for 32 years.

Mr. Dunn was born near Emigrant creek south of Ashland Jan. 4, 1864. He had lived in Ashland all his life. His wife, Laura, died on Jan. 9 of this year.

He is survived by two sons, George Edwin Dunn and Miller P. Dunn, both of Ashland, and one daughter, Mrs. Ada D. Troupauer, of Huntington Park, Calif. Funeral arrangements are being made by Litwillers of Ashland.

Japan Lumber Not Competing Locally

Portland — Japan is not re-exporting cheap lumber products to Oregon which compete with the state's lumber industry, the Japanese consul here said Saturday.

The consul, Katsuma Urabe, made the statement in reply to charges made by several southern Oregon newspapers. Urabe said Japan does not re-export any lumber products in any form from logs imported from Oregon. He pointed out that transportation costs would make this too costly.

He also said that Japan was in the midst of a large house building program and was utilizing all its imported lumber for the program.

Invasion Feared; Troops Mobilized

Havana — UPI — Six and possibly seven B26 bombers strafed and bombed three airfields in Cuba at dawn Saturday. Premier Fidel Castro blamed the United States for the attack and ordered mobilization of his 300,000-man militia against a feared invasion.

Two mystery planes flew over the outskirts of Havana last night and machinegun fire rattled in the Miramar district near Havana, increasing tension.

Authorities said 10 persons were killed and 54 wounded in the morning assault on Camp Liberty air field outside Havana, the San Antonio de Los Banos air field about 25 miles from Havana, and the Antonio Maceo air field at Santiago in Oriente Province.

Roa Charges U.S. Was Responsible For Cuban Raids

United Nations, N. Y. — UPI — Cuban Foreign Minister Raul Roa charged Saturday that the dawn air raids on Cuba were a U. S. "act of imperialistic piracy" and said another bombing of Fidel Castro's island stronghold was planned shortly.

Roa said the next attack was scheduled for 10 p.m. last night.

However, that hour passed without any new attacks.

Two unidentified planes were reported by Cuban authorities to have been spotted near Havana earlier last night but they apparently flew off without engaging in any hostile action.

Charges Rejected

U. S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson categorically rejected Cuba's charges of Washington-planned aggression and told the General Assembly's main political committee the United States "will do everything it possibly can to make sure that no Americans participate in any actions against Cuba."

Soviet Ambassador Valerian A. Zorin said a "single word from the government of the United States would have sufficed and not a single plane would have taken the air to bomb Cuba's cities — but unfortunately, the facts show that this word never was spoken."

In a thinly-veiled warning, Zorin told the 99-nation committee.

"We should not forget. Cuba is not alone today. Among its most sincere friends the Soviet Union is to be found. The Soviet delegation wishes to make this statement today most clearly and most definitely."

Emergency Session

The political committee, called into a 43-minute emergency session after a Cuban attempt to take the bombing incident directly before the General Assembly was ruled out of order, adjourned until Monday morning without taking action.

Roa, reported ill from influenza this week, shook with visible agitation as he leveled Castro's "aggression" charge against the United States.

"I have been instructed by my government to denounce before this committee the vandyke aggression carried out at dawn today against the territorial integrity and independence of Cuba with the most grave implications," he said. "The responsibility for this act of imperialistic piracy falls squarely on the government of the United States of America."

Much of Camp Liberty on the edge of Havana city was wrecked by bombs and machinegun bullets. Bloodstains were everywhere on the ground.

In Washington, the White House and State department displayed no advance knowledge of the bombings.

The 20-minute raid on Havana shortly after dawn touched off thunderous explosions with direct hits on Camp Liberty ammunition dumps. The series of explosions lasted 40 minutes.

This means the move probably will start about June 1 as ordered by Hatfield earlier. An override is unlikely.

Hatfield's proposed welfare commission move opened a controversy revolving around charges of chaos in welfare activities. He said bowing to regional interests in locating state agencies "could result in log-rolling of a nature the state of Oregon has to a remarkable degree avoided over the years."

Hatfield Vetoes Bill On Welfare Transfer

Salem — UPI — Gov. Mark Hatfield Friday vetoed a bill to prevent him from moving the state public welfare commission to Salem.

His veto was based on the grounds that the move would be a "log-rolling" of a nature the state of Oregon has to a remarkable degree avoided over the years.
