

Bone Break Sidelines Duke Snider

By ALEX KAHN
Los Angeles—UPI—Manager Walt Alston turned to his bench today to replace veteran Duke Snider in the Los Angeles Dodgers' lineup until the famed slugger recovers from a broken right elbow.

The Dodgers' manager termed Snider's loss for at least a month a serious blow to the team picked in a United Press International poll as the club most likely to win the National League pennant.

A temporary blow came in the announcement a second baseman, Charlie Neal would be sidelined three or four days with a bad left knee.

Snider was hit on the elbow with a pitched ball thrown by St. Louis hurler Bob Gibson Monday night. Although he suffered the injury in the fifth inning, Snider continued in the game for two more innings before he reported his elbow was starting to stiffen.

It was not until Tuesday morning when Dr. Robert Kerlan X-rayed the elbow that the fracture was discovered.

The orthopedic specialist said the earliest Snider could start throwing or swinging a bat would be three weeks and it might be several more weeks before he could start playing again.

Snider, seventh on the all-time home run list with 370 circuit blows, has been counted on by Alston to provide the Dodgers with the power that his youngsters have not yet been able to supply.

Dick Stuart Challenged By Jeers

By RUDY CERNOVIC
Pittsburgh—UPI—The first syllable of Dick Stuart's name rhymes with boo but the Pittsburgh Pirate first baseman welcomes the double-ouster as a challenge.

The opening day crowd at Forbes Field Tuesday should be credited with an assist for the 5-3 victory the world champions fashioned against the Chicago Cubs.

For Stuart believes the vocal disapproval from the crowd is his best pep talk. He first asserted this last year when he hit three homers in one night.

"When the fans boo me, then I know I'm noticed," Stuart laughed after the opener. "The boos don't bother me, so long as I can hit a few."

Clutch Blows
Stuart delivered two clutch blows to assure the victory but he missed the second hit triple to center in the fifth inning off starter Dick Ellsworth broke a 2-1 tie and gave the Pirates a 3-2 lead. When the Cubs tied the score in the seventh, Stuart responded with a run-producing single in the Pirates' half of the inning to wrap up the game.

Dick Groat and Roberto Clemente hit back to back singles in the seventh to great reliever and loser Mel Wright. Then Stuart strode to the plate amid catcalls and boos.

He took a powerful swing but the ball barely caught the end of the bat and travelled about a hundred feet. Groat scampered home with the run that put the Pirates ahead and Bill Mazeroski added insurance by a squeeze bunt that brought in the final Pirate run.

"I tried to murder that curve ball and all I could come up with was that little single," Stuart remarked.

Dodgers Flex Muscle With Hustle To Nose St. Louis Cardinals 5-4

By FRED DOWN
United Press International Manager Walt Alston is discovering that his Los Angeles Dodgers have plenty of muscle to go with their hustle.

Lack of long ball strength was the weakness that Alston feared would be the Dodgers' No. 1 problem this season but the evidence of the first week of the National League campaign is that Los Angeles has surprising punch to go with its speed and pitching. In eight games they've hit a total of 11 homers and they've been distributed liberally throughout the lineup.

The Dodgers won a battle of homers Tuesday night when they downed the St. Louis Cardinals, 5-4, and enabled the Cincinnati Reds to take over first place via their 9-1 shelling of the San Francisco Giants. The Pittsburgh Pirates beat the Chicago Cubs, 5-3, and the Minnesota Twins topped the Boston Red Sox, 3-2, for their fifth win in six games in the only other major league action.

Frank Howard smashed a two-run homer and Johnny Roseboro and Wally Moon also homered to account for four of the Dodgers' five runs. The blows offset somewhat shaky Los Angeles pitching in addition to two homers by St. Louis' Ken Boyer.

Roger Craig received credit for the Dodgers' fourth victory in eight games although he was followed to the mound by rookies Jim Golden and Ron Ferranoski. Ferranoski took over in the eighth inning and protected the one-run margin through the last two frames.

The Reds went into first place behind a six-hit pitching performance by Bob Purkey, who raised his lifetime advantage over the Giants to 12-8. Purkey, winning his second game of the young season, struck out four and walked only three. His bid for a shut-out was ruined in the seventh inning when Willie Mays hit his second homer of the year.

The Reds routed Billy Loes with six hits and six runs in two innings and went on to collect 10 hits including a three-run homer by Gordon Coleman. Wally Post had three hits and Eddie Kasko, Coleman and Gene Freese two each in Cincinnati's attack.

Stuart Paces Buys
Vinegar Bend Mizell, aided by Elroy Face's two innings of shutout relief, picked up his first win of the season for the Pirates. Dick Stuart tripled home a 2-2 tie-breaking run in the fifth inning and singled home the run that snapped a 3-3 tie in the seventh to lead the world champions' 12-hit attack. Stuart, Dick Groat, Roberto Clemente and Bill Virdon each had two hits for the Pirates and Ron Santa had two for the Cubs.

Left-handers Jim Kaat and Bill Pleis pitched a three-hitter and Jim Lemon hit his first homer of the campaign for the Twins who now lead the American league by one game. Kaat had a one-hitter until the eighth when he faltered and Pleis went in to hold the Red Sox hitless over the last 1 2/3 innings. Lenny Green went 4-for-4 for the Twins.

Red Raiders Blank Oregon Tech Team

Francis also drew free passes which loaded the bases.

Oregon Tech thwarted any other Raider scoring ideas as second baseman Bob Yunkc appeared a line drive by Joe Funderburg, tagged second to force Francis, and pegged to Ray Wood at third forcing Cook for a triple play. It was the first triple-killing in OCC play this season.

Francis' hit single in the third, a stolen base, and another error by Coleman rucked off the third SOC marker. Trapped off Third Munyon singled and Buck walked to lead off the sixth stanza, but Munyon was trapped off third after rounding the base on a single to right by Cook. Buck, who drew a walk, was then picked off second by McKibbin to halt the potential threat.

The Southerners tallied their final run in the eighth canto on a walk to Buck who promptly stole second, and a double by Cook down the left field line.

Jim Ramseyer, Yunkc, Roland Swanson, and Coleman picked up singles off Vogler while Don Gresdel banged out a double in the seventh for the only Owl safeties of the game.

Southern Oregon, now with a 5-3 season record to OTI's 2-9 record, is idle this week end.

LINESCORES:
OTI 000 000 000-0 5 1
SOC 110 100 010-4 9 0

Dark Sticks With Loes

San Francisco—UPI—Manager Alvin Dark of the San Francisco Giants is sticking with Billy Loes even if his right-hander was stuck last night by a solid lacing at the hands of Cincinnati.

"Loes pitched all right," Dark said after the Reds climbed back to the top of the National league by downing the Giants 9-1. "Some balls fell in for hits that might have been outs. I thought he threw well." Jack Sanford was slated to pitch for San Francisco today against Jay Hook of the Reds with each right-hander looking for his first decision of the year.

There was to be one switch in the San Francisco lineup. Dark said that he will give shortstop Ed Bressoud a rest and send Jose Pagan in the position.

Loes, now 1-1 on the season, was belted for six hits and six runs, all earned, during the two innings he worked.
