Spring Conference Held Here by Business Women

The annual spring conference of the southern Oregon district, Oregon Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs, closed Sunday morning with a breakfast session at Rogue Valley Country club. Seventy-five members and guests from several southern Oregon cities attended a dinner meeting Saturday night at the club, and 65 were present for the breakfast.

Here for the meeting were Mrs. William L. Blizard, Oswego, president of the state federation; Mrs. Ruth Bray, Coos Bay, state membership chairman, and Mrs. Kenneth Brisco, Klamath Falls, southern Oregon district chairman.

Another guest was Miss Savitri Pandit, East Indian student attending Oregon State university on a BPWC scholarship. At the dinner Saturday night she was introduced by Mrs. Adah Taylor, state scholarship chairman, who spoke about the scholarship. She said that 13 women have taken advantage of the home economics scholarship since it was first offered in 1948.

Miss Pandit, who is a college teacher in India, said she is "working hard" toward her master's degree, but enjoyed opportunities to meet with American women and to visit in their homes.

Mrs. Isabelle Brixner, Klamath Falls, a past state president, gave the invocation at the dinner and Miss Laura York, Medford, also a past president, played for and led singing. Mrs. Blizard introduced federation officers and Mrs. Nell Faulkner, president of the Medford club, welcomed the group.

Mrs. Bray conducted a "brainstorm session" on membership, with several in the audience taking part. Ideas on increasing and holding membership included contests, community projects, good programming, early and complete planning during the summer months for an early fall start, programs geared to the membership and the community, proper public relations, efforts to interest young women, proper indoctrination of new members and a program to find and interest newcomers to the community.

The evening closed with introduction of women running for state office this year. They are Mrs. Irma Anderson, Forest Grove, second vice-president; Mrs. Ruth Howeller, Sandy, state legislation chairman; Mrs. Matilda Brooks, Roseburg, national security chairman; Mrs. A. I. Groenig, Oswego, health and safety chairman; Miss Voda Brower, Medford, public relations chairman; Mrs. Harriet Watson, Medford, nominating committee member from the Southern Oregon district; Mrs. William Preston, Medford, public affairs chairman.

The Shadows entertained with musical numbers. At Sunday's breakfast Miss Peggyann Hutchinson, Medford, gave the invocation and Mrs. Marion Keim, conference chairman, a "good morning" greeting. Others on the morning program were Louise Mitchell, Klamath Falls club president; Mrs. Blizard, and Ethel Shelton, Grants Pass president, who gave the closing collect. President's reports were heard.

Slides On Rocks Shown At Meeting

At the recent meeting of the Roxy Ann Gem and Mineral club, more than 75 members and guests saw the slide program, "Life Revealed in The Rocks."

Not only did the slides portray fossil-bearing localities, but also the geologic ages of the earth along with their fauna and flora. Chester Fitch also spoke on the fossils of this area, and assisted in identifying specimens brought in for the display. In addition, Bruce Nelson, director of the summer camp at the Clarno fossil beds, told of the work being done in this locality.

At the Eugene show, April 8 and 9, the club president, Leland Mentzer, won the best in the show trophy for his display of dendritic agates.

The club case won a second place ribbon in its division. Both these prize-winning exhibits will be on display in the Southern Oregon Gem and Mineral show at the Medford Armory on May 13 and 14.

Walter Turner, federation director for the club, reported on a meeting he attended of the Northwest Federation of Mineralogical Societies. The federation has started training sessions for those interested in becoming gem and mineral judges, and is constantly adding to its list of programs available to member clubs.

The Whole Town's Talking About "DO-IT-YOURSELF DRY CLEANING"

"Norge Dry Cleaning Is Easier Than Washing"

Mrs. John Langston Says: Whether you are a housewife, working woman or both, I believe you will find, as I did, that Norge Dry Cleaning will prove both economical and speedy.

It is hard to believe that little or no pressing is needed on garments and draperies after completing the cleaning cycle. The cleanliness and freshness could be compared with any type of cleaning. It is truly revolutionary.
