Winners Announced For Pulitzer Prizes

New York—UPI—The 1961 Pulitzer prizes in journalism, letters and music were announced Monday by President Grayson Kirk of Columbia University.

The gold medal for distinguished and meritorious service went to the Amarillo, Tex., Globe-Times for exposure of a breakdown in local law enforcement.

The award for news photography printed in a United States newspaper went to Yasushi Nagao of Tokyo for his dramatic picture of the assassination of Japanese Socialist Chairman Inejiro Asanuma.

The award for local reporting under edition time pressure went to Sancho De Gramont of the New York Herald Tribune for his account of the death of Leonard Warren on the Metropolitan opera stage.

The award for local reporting not under edition time pressure went to Edgar May of the Buffalo (N.Y.) Evening News for a series on New York state public welfare services, based in part on his three-month employment as a case worker.

Analysis Wins Prize

Edward R. Cony of the Wall Street Journal won the National Affairs reporting prize for an analysis of a timber transaction which drew the attention of the public to business ethics problems.

For international affairs reporting, Lynn Heinzerling of the Associated Press received the prize for his account "under extraordinarily difficult conditions of the early stages of the Congo crisis and his keen analysis of events in other parts of Africa."

The prize for distinguished editorial writing went to William J. Dorviller of the San Juan (P.R.) Star for editorials on clerical interference in the

Oregonian Killed In Idaho Accident

Midvale, Idaho—UPI—Idaho's traffic toll stood at 57 today—one more than last year—with the death of an Oregon man in Washington county Sunday night.

Killed was 18-year-old Ronald Gale of Baker, who was a passenger in a car driven by Marvin D. Endicott, address unknown.

The accident took place about four miles west of Midvale on U.S. 95.

Spending Blueprint for 1961-63 Running About $4 Million Over Governor Hatfield's Budget

Salem—UPI—A Ways and Means approved spending blueprint for 1961-63 ran nearly $4 million above Gov. Mark Hatfield's request today as the committee faced its final big decision—basic school support.

At issue is whether Ways and Means, which sets spending policies, can afford to give more than the $10-per-child increase provided for in both Hatfield's budget and the committee-revised budget.

Hatfield's budget called for $358,829,895 in the coming biennium.

Ways and Means already has approved expenditures totaling $362,724,036. This includes a minimum $10 increase per school child, bringing the state's share of school support to $115 per pupil.

Before the committee, however, is a proposal to hike per child support by $20—an increase that would cost an additional $10 million over the next two years.

Although spending plans have swelled in the committee, revenue estimates for the two years also have increased.

Using latest tax return figures and the legislative fiscal officer, the committee predicted $6 million more will land in the state till during the biennium than Hatfield had foreseen.

Taking into account the $4 million additional the committee plans to spend, this still leaves the legislative budget $2 million ahead of the Hatfield program.

Hatfield would have left a $1 million surplus in 1963; the committee now would leave $3 million.

The committee could trim or wipe out this figure by increasing school support beyond $10 per pupil, deciding to give cities or counties more than $1.5 million in liquor revenues, or approving other spending requests such as $1 million for salmon rehabilitation.

It also could take a last look around for a new revenue-raising method such as an extra liquor tax.

Since it is mentioned that he has no objection to another test at the polls.

Radio Operator Exams Scheduled

Examinations of radio operators will be given in Klamath Falls Saturday, May 13, in Room 205, Patterson hall, Electronics building, Oregon Technical Institute.

Radiotelegraph tests for all classes (code and written tests) will start at 8:30 a.m., and all classes of radiotelephone exams will begin at 9 a.m. At 11 a.m., the amateur code (13 and 20 w.p.m.) test will be held, followed at 1 p.m. by the amateur written tests (general and extra).

Boeing Advances Boardman Plans

Salem, Ore.—UPI—Gov. Mark Hatfield said Monday that Boeing Airplane Co., Seattle, wants to start building a space age test center at Boardman in Eastern Oregon by June 1. The center will have a payroll of about 500 persons.

Boeing has leased more than 98,000 acres in Morrow county for 80 years.

Boeing has advanced its Boardman schedule by about two months, he said, and the 500-worker project would be the "first phase" of the Boardman operation.

Last week Hatfield announced plans to nearly double the size of the industrial park so that the U.S. Navy might be able to stay on and not move its practice bombing range to Southeastern Oregon.

The state is now in the process of acquiring another 98,000 acres on both sides of the present park, some under the bureau of land management and some under private ownership.

Hatfield disclosed that the state has options from two families for part of the acreage.

The House Committee on

State and Federal Affairs has approved introduction of an amendment proposed by Hatfield to the Boardman legislation giving the State Land Board more leeway in relocating the Navy—taking out the stipulation that if the Navy moves, it has to go to Wagonville in Lake county.

The Navy would just as soon remain where it is and this is one reason why the additional acreage is being sought.

A second measure would put the issue of uniform daylight time in Oregon on the

Meanwhile Hatfield has indicated he favors a bill to let Multnomah and adjoining counties go on daylight saving time if they wish.

Such a bill has passed the House and is before the Senate.

Hatfield said this measure is "much more preferable" to the earlier version which would have granted local fast time options throughout Oregon.

He noted that such large areas as Portland have "unique" problems when other parts of the nation switch to daylight time and Oregon does not.

A second measure would put the issue of uniform daylight time in Oregon on the
