'Year-Round' Program Planned at University

Corvallis—The "year-round" school program that will be tried on an experimental basis this summer at Oregon State university has drawn favorable endorsement from students and is expected to draw a substantial enrollment, according to university officials.

The experimental summer school this year will correspond to about a regular school term.

The usual 8-week summer session will run from June 19 to Aug. 11. This year after it is completed, however, a special 4-week "intercession" will follow from Aug. 14 to Sept. 8. By putting the two together, a student may earn 18 credit hours, or a full-term's work plus.

The split-session plan will meet the needs of public school teachers who take graduate work in the summer but who have to be back "on the job" in late August, Dr.

Franklin R. Zeran, dean of education and director of summer session, pointed out. Record Enrollment

A record summer enrollment of about 2,000 is indicated for the 8-week session, Dean Zeran added. A survey is being made of OSU students now to determine how many will remain for the entire 12 weeks, and what courses they would like offered.

Preliminary figures show that as many as 300-400 students are now set to take the full summer's work. Work will be open to students from other colleges as well, of course, Zeran emphasized. Course offerings for the four-week intercession will be on a relatively modest scale this year but will still offer fine opportunities for the students, he continued.

Approximately 400 courses, workshops, seminars and institutes will be offered during the regular 8-week session. A special two-week workshop on community colleges will be a highlight. It is designed to provide information about organization and administration of community colleges—just approved by the legislature and under construction by several Oregon cities.

Morris Named Clinic President

H. S. (Mike) Morris was elected president of the Southern Oregon Family and Child Guidance clinic at the May meeting.

Edward Collins will serve as vice president for the coming year; Dr. Frank Wilson, treasurer; and Mrs. John L. Welch, secretary of the board.

New board members elected to three-year terms were Dr. Henry L. Boehnke, Circuit Court Judge Edward C. Kelly, Robert E. Phillips, Dr. Frederick Trost, Mrs. Welch and Dr. Wilson.

The clinic was established eight years ago to help the emotionally disturbed child and his parents. Since the first of this year, the agency has added family counseling to its services.

Everyone in southern Oregon may obtain clinic services, according to the officers, but because of increasing demands for such aid, it is necessary to make appointments before visiting the clinic.

Membership dues of $1 per year are still being accepted to aid in financial support of the clinic.

4-H Club News

Renegades
The April meeting of the Reese Creek Renegades 4-H club was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Moore. Joanne Marshall reported on shearing sheep. Jerry Moore gave a demonstration on clipping an animal for a show. We had a test on identification of parts of a sheep.

Desert Pegasus
Reports on April activities of members were made at the May meeting of Desert Pegasus 4-H Horse club at the home of the leader, James Dunn.

Dale West and Lauramay Noble participated in the spring cutting horse judging clinic and "shodeo" at Grants Pass, riding in the open western class. The girls rode their three-year-old mares for the first time in competition.

Lauramay reported on the State of Jefferson quarter-horse first annual spring show at Grants Pass. She said that Don Caballero won five trophies at the show.

At the Sportsfair western pleasure riding event for ages 12 and under, Dale West placed fourth and Leslie Krambeal, fifth. In the 13 to 18 age group, Lauramay placed fourth and in English pleasure, Regina Krambeal, second. Others participating were Barbara and Waten Lee Kurz.

On May 21, the fifth annual horse show will be held at the Veterans Administration Domiciliary at White City. Ribbons and trophies will be given and an entry fee will be charged.

New members introduced at the last meeting were Sue Welsheimer, Betty and Lee Zawadzke, Lauramay Noble and Lucille Burk served refreshments.

'ROCK DINNER'—Mrs. Glen Nash, Eureka, Calif., sits at a table of "rock food." Each piece on the table, with the exception of dinner and silver ware, is a rock of the collection of Mr. and Mrs. Nash. The table of "food" will be exhibited at the Southern Oregon Gem and Mineral show sponsored by the Roxy Ann Gem and Mineral club at the Medford armory Saturday and Sunday, May 13 and 14.

Scout News

Cub Scout Pack 38
Hornbrook—Den 1 of Cub Scout Pack 38 held a treasure hunt at the home of their den mother, Mrs. George Smith recently.

The boys followed a trail, laid by Mrs. Smith, which led back to her kitchen door where a batch of cupcakes awaited them.

Cubs following the cupcake trail were Teddy Fisher, Rusty Smith, Danny Dooley, Benny Bennett, Daniel Jones, Gene Farmer and Dennis Swafford.

Complimentary Passes Feature Restrictions
Memphis, Tenn.—(UP)—Carl Carson, new member of the City Transit System, quickly had a printer do some personal work for him when friends started asking him for free bus passes.

Now Carson hands out complimentary passes that say, "Ride the bus free (subject to conditions on back)."

The conditions: "Not good on day trips; not good on night trips; not good on this bus; not good on that bus."
