

Partnership Best Ball Tilt Starts

Men's partnership best ball play at Rogue Valley Country club is now underway.

Sixty-four two-man teams were paired for the first round which it to be completed by May 14.

All teams started in the championship. First round losers will drop into the first flight.

In the tourney each partner plays his own ball and uses his own full handicap. Extra hole matches will be decided on sudden death basis.

A three-ball sixsome tourney will be held on Sunday, May 14, with drawing for partners at 1:30 p.m. Golfers, to compete, must be present for the draw. There will be prizes for low gross, low net, closest to the pin and long drive in men's and women's divisions.

Ray Lindquist took low gross laurels last week in ball sweepstakes with a 72. Tying for low net were Tom MacLeod, Ford Hagan and Jim Vargo with 69s.

Local Elks will take part on May 26 in their state association's shoot at Bend.

Medford Gun club will be host this Saturday and Sunday for the annual Mail Tribune tourney.

LaVorante Foe Of Zora Foley

Los Angeles - Heavyweight challenger Zora Foley, Chandler, Ariz., tonight meets youthful Alejandro LaVorante of Argentina in a 10-round bout at Olympic Auditorium.

Foley, ranked No. 3 in the heavyweight ranks, was favored 5-2 to defeat LaVorante who has had only 13 professional fights. But LaVorante is considered a strong opponent, having lost only one bout.

Normally a boxer, Foley indicated he may try to out-punch the huge South American in an effort to build his stature as a contender for Floyd Patterson's crown.

Don Carter Triumphs In Masters

Detroit - (UPI) - Don Carter, one of the sports most amazing performers, Wednesday night won his first American Bowling Congress master's tournament—the hard way as usual.

The 34-year-old St. Louis, Mo., star, who almost always starts slow and finishes fast, had to battle from behind to beat another St. Louis bowler, Dick Hoover, for the crown.

Hoover, gunning for his third master's title, and Carter, were the only two unbeaten bowlers from an original field of 64 in the finals when they met Wednesday afternoon in a sixth-round winner's bracket match.

Hoover, only two-time master's champion, having turned the trick in 1956 and 1957, won 815 to 801. This forced Carter into the loser's bracket.

Carter then whipped Billy Welu, another St. Louis star, 844 to 754, to get into the championship round.

With one loss already in the double-elimination tournament, Carter had to beat Hoover twice to win the title.

He did, winning the first four-game match 840 to 768. In the deciding match, in which he once again demonstrated the class that made him "bawler of the year" five times including 1960, he finished with a rousing 254 game to win 888 to 826.

The best Carter had ever done in the Master's before was third in 1958.
