Regional Roundup

by Cleve Twitcheil
Mail Tribune Regional Editor

For some time one of my colleagues in the office here has been after me to do something on Fritz and Helen Schulzke, the German couple who make European sausage and sell it in their store along highway 99 about half way between Phoenix and Talent. Although I will have to confess that I don't care for sausage myself, I must say that the Schulzkes appear to be artists in their field.

In this country only since last June, they have built up a nice business. In addition to their own market, their European sausage is now sold by merchants in Medford, Grants Pass and Central Point. They make 50 different kinds of sausage, including smoked frankfurters, farmer's sausage, three kinds of liver sausage, head cheese, knacker, smoked bacon, bologna, pepperoni and mettwurst. European sausage is a more pure product than its American counterpart. The Schulzkes use no flour or preservatives in producing it.

The Schulzkes are originally from Berlin. They came to the United States via Canada, where they stayed five years.

SAUSAGE MAKERS—Helen and Fritz Schulzke display some of the European sausage they make.

The United States appears to agree with them. "I like it here," said Mrs. Schulzke, who altered her first name from Hildegarde to Helen to fit the change of nations. "It's a nice, big, free country. The people are nice and friendly."

Phoenix News Digest

Relative to my comments of last Wednesday concerning our new Wilderville correspondent, Genevieve Briggs, and the art of being concise in news stories, Bertha Hanscom, Phoenix correspondent, has some comment of her own. Here it is:

"I'm sure the rest of the correspondents are glad Mrs. Briggs is sending in news from Wilderville and Wonder, and I am glad Cleve Twitcheil likes us to be concise—like this?"

"Daniel Foxworthy, council member, has given his resignation. I know why, but can't tell. I'll tell later."

"There was a fire at the Phoenix Motel Tuesday morning. Firemen's auxiliary held their meeting at Eris Furry's Tuesday evening. Firemen will have their annual anniversary dinner April 28. We don't know where yet."

"Ralph Roberts hurt his back digging noxious weeds. 'We like our Boss. Don't be too hard on us.'"

More From Wonder-Wilderville

In case anyone was wondering how our inquiry about the Jacobs story came out, here's the response from Mrs. Briggs. The fact that Miss Jacobs broke her toe WAS a separate item and had no connection with Mrs. Jacobs' being elected PTA president. Here are the items:

"Wonder—Mrs. John Jacobs is the president of the Wilderville PTA for the year of 1962. Mrs. Jacobs succeeded Mrs. Robert Dexter as president. Mrs. Ray Darnelle of Bull Creek Road is vice president."

"Wonder—Miss Darlene Jacobs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Jacobs broke her toe. The story goes someone jumped on it."
