Breakfast in the Suburbs

Is it not enough, my cheerful lord,
That you find your breakfast coffee poured?
That the toast is hot, the eggs are fried
With a dab of jelly at the side?
This I have managed through gloom and fog
Of early morning. Even the dog
Knows better than to glance my way.
Be thankful I start you on your day
And wave to me gaily from the walk,
But darling, don't expect me to talk!

—Betty Isler

A housewife wanted to do some shopping in town and asked the children next door if they would take care of her pet poodle during her absence. They agreed. Some hours later she returned to pick up the animal, and the youngsters gravely handed him over.

"Have you taken good care of Pierre?" she asked.

"Oh, yes, ma'am," the children chorused hastily. "And he can swim now, too!" the youngest added.

Great Expectations

Get ready, repairman,
With wrenches and pliers;
Next month the guarantee
On my lawn mower expires!

Overheard During School Recess

In My Time

"Come on, Shorty, I'll swap you my bicycle handle grips for a set of those reflectors."

"Jimmy Smith has a crush on Margie Jones! Jimmy Smith's got a crush on Margie Jones!"

"Let's let the team know we're behind them all the way. Let's hear some big cheers!"

In My Son's Time

"Look, Shorty, if you put milled heads and racing cams in your engine, I'll bet you could get another 20 miles an hour..."

"Say, Jimmy, let's grab a couple of chicks to-night and go twisting. Haven't dated all week."

"No wonder the team lost Saturday. The defensive unit missed the over-and-out pattern, and our offensive ends weren't cutting."

—Ben Cassell

VITAMINS

A recent public service study of Patent Medicines in one of New York's leading evening newspapers, devoted one entire installment to VITAMINS and disclosed many interesting highlights about the sale of Vitamins and Vitamin-Mineral combinations.

One of the startling revelations in this frank article was the wide variance of Vitamin prices.

The following three paragraphs taken from the series, as it appeared, are of particular concern to every family buying Vitamins.

"Any particular vitamin bottled under one label is, for all practical and therapeutic purposes, the same as if it is bottled under another label. The fact is, most of the Vitamin concentrates consumed in America are produced by only a few companies.

"The list of ingredients in a Vitamin compound is one thing the consumer can almost always depend on to be correct. Any company which fails to label the bottle with the exact formula and amount (or unit strength) of each ingredient risks a seizure by the U. S. Government.

"Bearing that in mind, it is interesting to pick up a few Vitamin catalogs and compare the prices charged by different companies for the same Vitamin compounds."

Following publication of the installment we received hundreds of phone calls requesting copies of the Hudson Vitamin Catalog.

This interest prompted us to tell the entire nation our story.
