News and Notes From Camp White

By WALTER TOWNSEND

"I miss Africa!" V. Buck said in his new Hobby shop writing room. He spent 38 years in the Belgian Congo. The witch doctors and the chiefs became part of his life. The climate, hot, and humid leaves memories of stark survival. He also remembers thirst for water. Travel was mainly by foot and bicycle from village to village, he said. On the pleasant side he remembers sleeping by a brook.

"But Africa!" he said. "It was wonderful."

White City is not a hospital, but doctors, nurses and an infirmary are maintained for members who need limited medical treatment of short duration. However, if specialized treatment is required, they are transferred to a Veterans Administration hospital.

Included in the medical services are a pharmacy, dental service, x-ray and clinical laboratories, a social work service, psychology service, physical medicine and rehabilitation service, dietetic service, VA voluntary service and chaplaincy service. There are 220 civil service employees and 160 member employees on the staff. There are approximately 26 consultants and fee basis physicians who assist the medical staff in the treatment of members.

Sixty-two buildings arranged on 143 acres of ground make up the station proper. In addition, a cemetery of more than seven acres is located four miles from White City above Eagle Point. The dormitory has its own water reservoir area of 44 acres, boiler plant for steam heat, fire department, guard force and post office.

Manual Arts

In the field of productive use of time, the Manual Arts therapy and Arts and Crafts, materials are provided and members are assisted in being taught a skill. They are busy at leather work, watch repair, copper tooling, woodworking, rug weaving, gem cutting, flower making, ceramics, cartooning, photography, crocheting and knitting.

The Hobby shop allows a member space and facilities to carry out his own ideas with material and equipment purchased by himself or received through volunteer donations. Many useful and artistic articles are produced and frequently sold by the members.

A diversified recreation program is conducted for all members that includes participation in adapted sports, club activities, dramatics, motion pictures, music, social activities, station newspaper, radio and television.

The White City theater shows recent cinemascope movies free of charge to members and is the scene of card parties, dances, stage shows and many fine entertainments provided by community volunteers. The VA voluntary service program, national in scope, is sponsored at this station by 22 civic and service organizations in Oregon and northern California, carries on this much appreciated range of activities. It provides birthday parties in addition to leading ward programs and bingo games in the infirmary where members also enjoy programs from the central radio control system, released through a headphone at each bed.
