Contestant From Coos Bay Wins Speak-Off Event

Mrs. J. H. Poage, Medford, was a contestant in an inter-council Toastmistress speak-off, Sunday, April 29, held at Ruth Bradley's Oak Tree Inn in Winchester, Ore.

Three councils were represented from Oregon, each represented by several Toastmistress clubs. Mrs. Poage represented Council 4. She had previously won first place in a contest held April 1 competing against Grants Pass, Crescent City, and Klamath Falls clubs.

Mrs. Bruce Kerkow from the Coos Bay club won first place. She spoke on "The Keys of Life." Other speakers were Mrs. Edward Havey, Corvallis, who spoke on "All Those in Favor Say 'Aye,'" and Mrs. Poage, who spoke on "The Mystic Power Within."

Mrs. Kerkow competed May 5 at Coos Bay with winners from the Northwest region. This winner will compete in the International contest in San Antonio in July.

Seven members from the Medford club attended the regional convention.

Commissioners Talk for Group

C. O. Lovejoy, president of the Jackson county planning commission and Gerald Latham, commission secretary, spoke to members of the Women's council of the Medford Realty board at a recent meeting held in the Jackson House. Their topic was "County Zoning," and they discussed the new Oregon State laws on zoning and also explained Jackson county zoning as it would apply to real estate personnel.

A discussion period was conducted following the talks. Mrs. Margaret Naples, president, presided. At the close of the meeting the women discussed plans for activities during Realtors' week, May 20 to 26.

Chairmen Named For Honor Group

Committee chairman for Alpha Delta Kappa, women teachers honorary, were announced recently at the first meeting of the group at the home of Mrs. Pat Colley.

Mrs. Suzanne Schulz was appointed constitution chairman; Mrs. Pearl Farnsworth and Mrs. Barbara Hanel, social; Mrs. Ella Elle, altruistic; Mrs. Charlotte Sweet, courtesy; and Miss Virginia Ferguson and Mrs. Colley, membership.

The chapter's pinning ceremony will be held May 16 at the home of Mrs. Elle.

MANOR-ISMS

By ETHELYN EVANS

Politics are in the air at Rogue Valley Manor! In the center of the ground floor foyer is a large bulletin board labeled "Political Candidates' Board." Democrats on the left, Republicans on the right. The board is used for pin-ups of pictures and publicity. On a shelf beneath are additional piles of literature. For quite some time the left side remained blank, until some Republican was tackled up a humorous and challenging note. That did it! The Democrats rallied and filled up the space. We are given many opportunities to become well informed; and absentee ballots have been provided for our wanderers, so we should chalk up a 100 per cent voting record on May 18.

We have two popular establishments on this same ground floor not heretofore mentioned. One is a very modern, attractive and busy beauty salon owned and operated by Mrs. Dorothy Totten with the help of one assistant.

Also, we have a "Manor Mart" which is a branch of the Hudson Drug company on East Main street. The Mart is managed by Mrs. Helen Emmons, a charming and accommodating young woman. In it can be found practically all the sudden miscellaneous needs of our members: cards, costume jewelry, perfumes, bridge and photographic supplies, candies, soft drinks, staple drugs.

One might think, from all I have described, that the Manor is all but self-sufficient. Far from it! I have consulted a large number of my fellow members, and they all agree that it is impossible to shop in any store in Medford, transact business in banks or other places of business, wait in any dentist, optician or medical specialist's waiting room, or attend any church without meeting several Rogue Valley Manor members on similar errands. This should not be surprising. We are rather numerous, and we have a wide variety of individual needs, desires and interests.

Mrs. Alice Applegate Peil, a life-long resident of the valley and our eldest member, has recently survived six consecutive parties in celebration of her 90th birthday. She sailed through this social activity, as always, a handsome, well-groomed woman full of zest and interest in everything.

Our monthly birthday luncheon table for members born in April truly was a dream this month. Extending the full length of the main dining room, the table had as a centerpiece (down the center from end to end) a mass of the most beautiful African violets grown by members throughout the Manor and loaned for the occasion. Interspersed were decorative placards with music score and words of the April Shower song. We have two members who are real experts at this scroll and engraving work—Hiram Salisbury, La Jolla, and Maxfield Bear, Glen Ellyn, Ill. The work they turn out is excellent. This is another instance of talent among our members. With me all over the place, there is little chance of talent remaining hidden beneath bushes or elsewhere.

Speaking of talent, Mrs. Florence Patnot, Paradise, Calif., who studied drama in the universities of Michigan, California and Columbia, and who for 19 years arranged drama programs for the Girls Association in Secondary Schools, Richmond, Calif., put on an enjoyable one-woman program of dramatic readings for us last week. Mrs. Patnot used a Lavalliere microphone on a long cord very successfully. This microphone is a recent purchase by our Recreation Committee from a Medford firm.

Yreka Women List Officers

Yreka—Installation services were held at the Shamrock cafe recently for the new officers of the Yreka Business and Professional Women's club.

Seated as president was Mrs. Betty M. Suiter; Mrs. Harold Noyes, first vice president; Mrs. O. Sabin, second vice president; Mrs. Roger Kittle, recording secretary; and Mrs. Muriel Ling treasurer. Mrs. Marjorie Lafavey, past president of the club served as installing officer, assisted by Mrs. Rachael Cordes, also a past president.

A past president's pin was presented to the outgoing president, Mrs. Evelyn Stone, and a gift from the club in appreciation for her work as presiding officer.

Miniature parades denoting the April Showers theme and arrangements of spring flowers were used in table decorations. The next meeting, a business session, will be held at the Pacific Power and Light social room on May 8 at 8 p.m. At the dinner meeting on May 22, the 4-H All Stars will be guests of honor.

Unit Members At Convention

Williams—Mrs. William Katzenbach and Mrs. A. D. Fitzpatrick, delegates of the Williams Home Extension unit and County committee, respectively, and Mrs. Jerry Stone, Murphy, county committee delegate, attended the Oregon Home Economics Extension council convention held on the campus of Oregon State university last week.

Mrs. Katzenbach reported the convention had the largest attendance ever recorded. There were more than 700 women registered for the many meetings and tours of the campus home economics experimental divisions, including food centers, gardening, greenhouses and sewing centers.

Robert Klein Returns From Duty in Europe

Gold Hill—Robert M. Klein, Army specialist fourth class, is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Klein, Gold Hill, after a tour of duty in Germany with the Army Medical corps.

He made the trip to Gold Hill from New York in a Volkswagen which he had purchased in Germany. Making the cross country trip with him was Dale Young, San Francisco, Calif.

In Philadelphia they visited Mr. Klein's grandmother, Mrs. John Korody, and an uncle, George Korody. In St. Paul, Minn., they were guests at the home of Mr. Klein's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Klein Jr., and at Fargo, N.D., they visited his fiancée, Miss Violet Krogstad.

In Ft. Dodge, Iowa, they visited another brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Elvin Klein, the brother being pastor of the Seventh Day Adventist church there.

They attended a reunion with three sisters and a brother of Mrs. Klein in the home of Guido Salcedo in San Francisco, one of the sisters. The others present were Miss Janet Klein, Miss Teresa Klein and David Klein and his wife.

The visitor plans to remain for awhile in the valley and later expects to travel to Dillingham, Alaska. He attended Rogue River academy at Medford prior to his enlistment.

Coffee Planned For Newcomers

Newcomers in Medford are invited to a coffee planned by Welcome Wagon club Tuesday, May 8, from 10 to 11 a.m. at the home of Mrs. Harvey Humphries, 828 Palm drive.

Officers Installed by Neighbors of Woodcraft

Mrs. Annamae Ford was installed guardian neighbor of the Medford Chrysanthemum circle of the Neighbors of Woodcraft lodge during joint ceremonies with circles from Grants Pass, Ashland and Phoenix, held recently in the Eagles hall. The Medford circle was host group with the retiring guardian neighbor, Mrs. Enos Naffziger, presiding.

Mrs. Nan Tucker McEvoy

Nan McEvoy Named Deputy Regional Director in Corps

Washington, D.C.—Mrs. Nan Tucker McEvoy has been named the Peace Corps' deputy regional director for Africa. Her appointment was announced today by Peace Corps Director Sargent Shriver.

In her new post, Mrs. McEvoy will be second in command in Washington of current Peace Corps programs in Ghana, Nigeria, Sierra Leone and Tanganyika, and of programs scheduled for later this year in at least 10 other African nations. She will also be involved in the development of future programs in Africa.

Mrs. McEvoy has traveled widely in Africa where she has acquired first-hand knowledge of Tunisia, Morocco, Sierra Leone, Guinea, Liberia, Ghana, Ivory Coast and Nigeria.

A reporter by profession, she has covered Congress and state legislatures and such international events as the 1945 Inter-American conference in Mexico City, the Organization and tenth anniversary sessions of the United Nations, and the first public postwar appearance of the Emperor of Japan.

During her 15 years in journalism, she has worked for the San Francisco Chronicle, the New York Herald Tribune and the Washington Post. She has also worked on a freelance basis during extended stays in Spain and Japan.

Mrs. McEvoy joined the Peace Corps in April, 1961, one month after the new agency was organized. She has been working with private agencies such as CARE, the 4-H Foundation and the YWCA to develop overseas programs to be jointly administered by those agencies and the Peace Corps. Some of these projects are now in operation, others will be soon in Colombia, Venezuela and Chile.

During a recent visit to seven African nations, Mrs. McEvoy explored requests for volunteers with political leaders and government officials.

She was born in San Mateo, Calif., and attended schools in France, Germany and Italy. She is fluent in French, Spanish and German.

Mrs. McEvoy has lived for the past eight years in Washington, D.C. The new director, a daughter of Mrs. Nlon Tucker, San Francisco, for many years has spent a part of every summer at the Rogue ranch on the upper Rogue river and is well known in this area. While here last summer she addressed a public meeting on the Peace Corps sponsored by Medford Business and Professional Women's club.
