Medford high's Black Tornado packaged the Southern Oregon conference and District 6 A-1 baseball championship neatly Tuesday afternoon.

With Stuart Young turning in two-hit pitching, with Dan Miles and Mike Barnes heading the hitting and with stout field work when it was needed, the Tornado diamonds whitewashed Ashland 9 to 0 on the Grizzly field.

Medford concluded its conference slate with the game, finishing with a 7-1 mark in counting games. Ashland holds down third with a 4-3 record.

The Tornado punched over a run in the first inning when Miles led off with a single and Barnes followed with a three-base blow. It weathered a first frame bid by Ashland and was not in any danger after picking up three more runs in the fourth inning.

Both hits and both bases on balls yielded by Young were in the first inning when Ashland loaded the bags after two were out. A force out and a pickoff play wiped out the first two Ashland runners to reach base. Tom Logue and Larry Pierce got singles and Rick Hester walked but Jerry Dickerson was out on a ground ball to second baseman Bob Schroeder.

After that Young had things his way except for a couple of MHS miscues that allowed the only other Grizzlies to get on base. The Tornado retired batters in order in the second, third, fourth and sixth innings. Young registered four strikeouts.

Miles hit three for five, giving him seven for nine in his last nine trips to the plate and Barnes had two safe blows.

Medford runs in the fourth panel were on hits by Miles and Young, two walks, an error and a sacrifice flyout by Craig Laurence. The five additional Tornado runs were in the fifth frame on singles by Dick Deffley, Dan Miles, Tim White and Laurence, a sacrifice fly by Miller, and a wild pitch, a walk and an error.

Ashland got a man to third base in the seventh inning on an error and a passed ball.

Bob King was the starting hurler for Ashland and took the loss. He permitted seven hits and seven runs, walked seven and fanned four in four-plus innings. Larry Pierce allowed three hits and two runs the rest of the route. He yielded a base on balls and struck out a batter.

Medford batted once around in both the fourth and fifth innings and had the bases loaded in the third.

Medford will enter the state A-1 quarterfinals now against South Eugene at Eugene the week end of May 25. The Tornado takes on Roseburg there this Friday night in a double bill beginning at 6:30 p.m.

Ashland goes to Klamath Falls on Friday for Southern Oregon conference concluding action with a tie for second place the aim of the Bruins. Crater hosts Grants Pass on Saturday to wrap up the loop campaign.

Rain fell through the early and middle part of the Tuesday game.

Medford Coach John Kovenz said last night, "I'm real pleased. I thought the kids came through in fine style." He pointed out that it was the best ball game his club has played, overall, in sometime. He said he hoped the Tornado play against the Grizzlies proved it a "pressure" team.

As far as we are concerned, this ends our work on the Test case."

Test, a two-year regular who had one year of eligibility left, said he plans to attend summer school at the University of Chattanooga and may stay there. He is a native of Chattanooga.

He said, however, he was grateful to the university for giving him the right to re-enter.

Warriors May Still Go to SF

San Francisco — (UPI) — There's still a possibility that the Philadelphia Warriors may be moved to San Francisco.

Franklin Mieuli, a spokesman for a San Francisco syndicate putting up $800,000 to purchase the franchise in the National Basketball Association, said there is a strong possibility that the league owners may reconsider previous decisions.

At a league meeting two weeks ago, owners quarreled over the possible moving of the franchise and said they would not allow it unless owner Eddie Gottlieb could come up with a suitable replacement in Philadelphia. Gottlieb, angered, then withdrew his offer to sell and transfer the franchise.

Jim Reinholz pitched a two-hitter for the Car Dealers. Grants Pass is to play Sam Jennings company at 8:15 o'clock this evening at Cheney field. Keith Schultz garage will face the Mail Tribune at 6:45 p.m. on Thursday.

President Harry Chipman announced today that John Wheeler Logging has dropped from the league. Official reason given by sponsor John Wheeler was that the previous withdrawal of Medford Merchants made an uneven league and that he felt the withdrawal of his team, also, would be best for softball here.

The league now has 10 teams. Chipman is revising the schedule.

The Wheeler team beat Central Point in a non-counter last night. Score was not reported.
