

Indians Bust Homer Mark, Maintain Tie With Yanks; San Francisco Leads by 4 1/2

It's beginning to look like the "year of the castoff" in the major leagues.

In baseball parlance, the "castoff" is a reject, a retrade or simply a guy for whom a club no longer has any use.

This year a whole contingent of players started off with the "castoff" label — guys like Chuck Essegian of the Indians, Bo Belinsky of the Giants and Frank Thomas of the Mets, to name a few.

Given a chance to make good with new teams, 1962's "castoffs" are causing a lot of red faces in many front offices.

Essegian, turned down by five other major league clubs, including two home runs that helped the Indians set an American league record, split a doubleheader with the Detroit Tigers and remain in a first-place tie with the New York Yankees.

Belinsky, dropped by the Orioles because they didn't think he could make the major league grade, gave up a bunt single to Pete Runnels in the first inning and a double to Bob Tiltman in the fourth inning of the nightcap.

Two weeks ago the talkative Belinsky pitched a no-hit, no-run game against Baltimore. Sunday's win was his sixth against one loss. The Angels overcame a pair of home runs by Carroll Hardy to win the opener, with Bob Rodgers driving in the winning run in the fifth on a sacrifice fly.

Pitcher Gains Split
A double and three straight singles in the top of the 13th off reliever Jim Coates broke up the Minnesota-New York tiegame and enabled Ray Moore to gain a split for the day.

Moore pitched to four batters in the ninth inning of the first game and didn't get anyone out. Tom Tresh's single with the bases full decided the issue. Roger Maris hit his seventh homer in the first game and Harmon Killebrew his eighth. The split left the Red Sox 5-3 and 1-0; the Chicago White Sox beat the Baltimore Orioles twice, by 8-3 scores, and the Kansas City Athletics nipped the Washington Senators, 1-0, and then lost, 7-5.

Mets Win Two
In the National League, the New York Mets beat the Milwaukee Braves, 7-6 and 9-6; the San Francisco Giants widened their lead to 4 1/2 games by bouncing back to beat the Houston Colts, 7-4, after dropping a 6-5 decision; the Philadelphia Phillies, 6-4 and 11-2; the Pittsburgh Pirates downed the Cincinnati Reds, 8-2, and the St. Louis Cardinals edged Los Angeles, 4-3, to take over second place by 13 percentage points.

Raiders Eye NAA Area Track Meet

Ashland — Southern Oregon's Red Raiders, 1962 track and field champions in the Oregon Collegiate conference, enter the District 2 NAA championships next Saturday at Monmouth.

Coach Dan Bulkley's Red and Black machine brought Portland State's winning domination of the OCC meet to an abrupt end after three straight team championships Saturday when they claimed their first conference title in recent years at Monmouth.

The other new barrier battered by the Southern Oregon spikers went to the mile relay foursome of Doyle Branson, Charles Swingle, Bill White and Dave Graham, who toured the four-lap course in 3:27.5. They clipped one-tenth of a second off the old mark set by SOC in 1961.

Eight Firsts
All told, the Ashlanders took eight first places, including three by Branson who won the 100 and 220 in rather slow times on the rain-soaked cinders, and the broad jump.

Junior hurdler Howard Hartman won both the high and low sticks for the other two Raider firsts.

Branson scored 16 1/2 points for the Redmen but had to surrender the high-point trophy to Portland State's outstanding Stan Miller who had only two firsts but 19 1/2 points.

Bulkley's crew wound up with 67 points while PSC's Vikings had 64 1/2 in the two-team scramble. The other three OCC schools were far out of contention with Eastern Oregon taking third with 15, Oregon Tech fourth with 10, and Oregon College the host school, scoring only 8 1/2 for last place.

Margin was 67 to 64 1/2.

The Raiders set two new OCC records Saturday out of a total of six standards that were toppled during the murky, rain-soaked afternoon.

Miller Jerry Arndt, defying a pulled muscle in his leg and a stubborn foe in OCE's Ralph Kilham, won a photo finish to 4:25 to crack his own school and Len Lukens' Conference marks.
