Girl Scout Policy Changes Announced

First steps to inform Girl Scout members, volunteers and officials of a coming important change in national policy for the organization are now underway according to Mrs. B. E. Culy, president of Rogue Valley Girl Scout Council.

The change will be made in the spring of 1964 and at that time small councils throughout the United States will be incorporated into larger councils. Rogue Valley council will be put into a large unit including the Eugene-Roseburg, Redmond, Klamath Falls and Lakeview councils, it is understood. Rogue Valley council now includes Grants Pass, Medford, Ashland, Yreka, Calif., and the Illinois Valley area.

A statement concerning the proposed change states:

Change Explained

"Ten years ago the national organization of the Girl Scouts of America started research and study on how to most effectively make Girl Scouting available to every girl in the United States. Plans were presented to the national convention several years ago, approval was received and the operation started.

"Since the basic requirement is a jurisdiction that is adequate to support a good program, councils and lone troops are being combined into areas of approximately three hundred thousand or more population. This results in fewer councils and gives more trained and professional help to them, making it thus more challenging for girls.

Two study groups have already met in southern Oregon at Klamath Falls to learn the basic operation of the new program. The first group, on camping, met Tuesday, May 15, with nine present from Lakeview, Coos Bay, Eugene, Klamath Falls and the Rogue Valley. There was discussion on the various camping facilities of the council represented, and a consideration of possibly more specialization being carried on at different sites, such as teaching the girls survival camping at the Lakeview camp, counselor-in-training at Low Echo, or camping close to the ocean at the Coos Bay site. Girls from anywhere in the larger area would be eligible to attend any of the camps she chose. In July all the council camps will be visited by members of the Regional and local camping committees and other interested persons.

Those attending the May 15 meeting from the Rogue Valley were Mrs. Thomas McFadden, treasurer of the Rogue Valley council, Mrs. Ralph Barclay, camping chairman, and Mrs. R. W. Gray, established camp chairman.

The second study group met in Klamath Falls on May 17, with 13 present. The topic was public relations, with discussion on how to work together for better relations and how to inform the public of the greater opportunities for girls under the new program.

Attending from the Rogue Valley council were Mrs. H. E. Nulton, public relations chairman, Mrs. Gray, past president of the council and established camp chairman, Mrs. Vera Pollock, of Grants Pass, member-at-large and senior planning board, and Mrs. Cecil Nickelson of Ashland.

Two meetings will be held in Medford Tuesday, May 22 and on Thursday, May 24. Miss Laura Hammer, a regional council advisor has been in charge of the past study groups and will be in charge of those at Medford. Also attending will be Mrs. Margaret Mulheim, a regional committee woman.

Installation Held for Eagle Point Teachers

Eagle Point — Installation of officers for the 1962-63 school year highlighted the Eagle Point Classroom Teachers association banquet at Kim's restaurant in Medford Friday evening. Mrs. Bert (Katherine) Stancifler, past president of the Jackson County Classroom Teachers association, installed the following members to their offices: Rick Wolgamott of Eagle Point as president; Jack Carlton of Shady Cove as vice president; Mrs. Steven Wisely of Eagle Point as secretary; and Mrs. Lila Bubb of Shady Cove as treasurer.

Immediate past president, Ralph Humphrey, told the teachers attending that as teachers they held a great deal of influence in the future of the nation in the education of its youth. He asked the teachers to not only uphold their responsibilities to their incoming officers but to work together for the betterment of the organization. After thanking them for the cooperation they gave him during the past year, Humphrey presented the incoming president, Rick Wolgamott with the gavel.

Mrs. Ann Briggs presented outgoing president Ralph Humphrey with a pair of gold cuff links as a memento of the organization.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd McKee and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Davies were introduced as honored guests. Both Mrs. McKee and Mr. Davies are retiring from the district this year. Both teachers commented that they had so many fine youngsters that they were sure they would remember the good things and forget the bad things and experiences they had while teaching. Mr. Davies took a minute to remember his first teaching job where he had to carry wood to light the fire and then walk a half mile to fetch a pail of drinking water — all this and only $50 pay.

Special guests introduced by Nat Etzel, master of ceremonies, included Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Stanley and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Caldwell, both school board members; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Humphrey, retiring president; Mrs. Nat Etzel; Mr. and Mrs. Rick Traylor, Eagle Point High school principal; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Work, Eagle Point Grade school principal; Mr. and Mrs. Rick Wolgamott, incoming president; Mr. and Mrs. Delvin Ford and their mother, Mrs. Ford.

Merle and Delvin entertained with guitar and vocal selections. Darrell Stanley gave the invocation.

Announcement was made of the new Jackson county chapter being organized of the International Reading association.

Central Point HEC Will Meet

Central Point — Central Point Grange Home Economics club members will meet Wednesday, May 23 at 1:30 p.m. when a dessert luncheon will be served. Mrs. Dee Hendrickson will be hostess in her home.

Dutch Garden Theme for Tea, Fashion Show

Gold Hill — An "Old Dutch Garden" was the setting for the 1962 fashion show and tea staged recently by girls of the seventh and eighth grade homemaking classes of Hanby Elementary school. Mrs. Beth Ness, home economics teacher, arranged the event honoring mothers of the students and to give the girls an opportunity to model garments completed during the 1961-62 school year.

The girls selected their own patterns and fabrics, suitable to their individual finances and needs after learning about different types of fabrics.

A white and pink windmill which was in motion throughout the affair was a featured attraction. Albert Beman made the windmill especially for the occasion. A white picket fence, tulips and dogwood, with wooden shoes at the gate's entrance completed the Dutch atmosphere for the stage setting.

Spring flowers were used to decorate the multi-purpose room at Patrick Elementary school for the occasion. Mrs. Walter Doherty provided background music at the organ. Miss Julie Holfield greeted the guests as they arrived.

Mrs. Ness welcomed the audience and introduced the guest speaker, Charles A. Meyer, superintendent of School District 6.

Narrators for the various sections of the fashion show were, Gayle Griggs, Suzanne Kinney, and Marlene Wright.

A May pole dance was presented by Gayle Griggs, Leona Blake, Irita Taylor, Jo Anne Hilleke, Marlene Wright, Ronda Rosecrans, Linda Callahan, and Susan Rosecrans. Mrs. Ness was pianist.

Other numbers on the program were readings by Joe Thomas and Patricia Washburn; poems by Christine Olson and Leona Blake and a piano solo by Christine Olson.

Girls participating in the fashion show were, eighth graders, Leona Blake, Marlene Buchanan, Linda Callahan, Marlene Wright, Jackie Dye, Gayle Griggs, JoAnne Hilleke, Linda Hilleke, Shirley Kell, Suzanne Kinney, Carolyn Lamb, Carol McCall, Linda Parker, Sue Post, Ronda Rosecrans, Jackie Straus, Sue Stroh, Irita Taylor, Barbara White, Marlene Wright; seventh graders: Paula Anderson, Rebecca Barry, Teresa Brown, Glenda Callahan, Trudy Deal, Judy Fisher, Sandra Ganong, Ruth Griggs, Eileen Kell, Ralene O'Brien, Cynthia Mitchell, Linda Mitchell, Theresa Nelson, Darlene Shoemaker, Janice Straus, Laura Thomas, Leslie Wakeman, Hollie Williams, Judy Wilson, Carol Washburn and Beverly Wright.

The tea was held immediately following the fashion show. Pouring were Mrs. Paul Molloy and Mrs. Walter Doherty. Mrs. Frances Throne and Mrs. Paul Thompson assisted the eighth grade girls refreshment committee with preparations and serving.

RUSTIC ROOM—The rustic scenes in the colorful drapery fabric are repeated in the upholstered chair in this converted barn designed by Barbara Barondess MacLean, A.I.D., who also designed the fabric for F. Schumacher.

PTA National Congress Convention Opens Today

Portland — Formal business sessions of the 65th convention of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers opened today.

Some 2,500 delegates were expected for the convention, which runs through Wednesday. The delegates represent some 12 million members in 47,000 PTA groups.

Mrs. Clifford N. Jenkins, Roslyn Heights, Long Island, N. Y., national president, was the keynote speaker.

Delegates were told Sunday night that the "space age won't have room for sloppy work." Gerald R. Wallace, superintendent of schools at Corvallis, said the home and school must build up "respect for the dignity of doing a job well."

Mrs. Jenkins made public a list of 40 branch congresses whose presidents have reported their organizations' backing of national PTA policy for federal support for education.

Included in the 40 are the European Congress, largely military personnel, and the District of Columbia.

Also included are Oklahoma and Virginia which approved the program with minor reservations.

Others include: Alaska, Arkansas, Colorado, Connecticut, Florida, Georgia, Hawaii, Illinois, Indiana, Kansas, Kentucky, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, Nebraska, Nevada, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New Mexico, New York, North Carolina, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Dakota, Tennessee, Utah, Vermont, Washington, West Virginia, Wisconsin and Wyoming.

Colorado, Kansas, Oklahoma, and Washington were reported to have argued the issue at recent conventions. Arizona, Montana and North Dakota have voted opposition to PTA policy on federal support while nine others, including Oregon, are not on record for or against the program.

The National Congress position on federal school support specifies that such funds should go only to public tax-supported schools, that states should distribute the aid, that an equalization factor be included to encourage local participation in school support, and that local control be maintained.

Girls Hold Council Fire

The spring Grand Council fire for the Phoenix-Talent area Camp Fire Girls was held at the Talent Grade school gymnasium May 14.

Following the Wobelo call, Diane Skundrick played a drum rhythm and the Bluebirds and Camp Fire Girls marched into the council fire circle, led by April Burnette carrying her torchbearer taper.

The flag salute was led by Betty Grochoczi, a newly flown-up Camp Fire Girl. Fara Miller, Marilyn Marsh and Judy Blake gave the Wobelo candle lighting ceremony after which the Camp Fire Girls sat down around a miniature fire, one for each group.

Debbie Brown, Pam Langley, Robin Schmelzer, Valerie Young, Vicki Jefferson, Virginia Briggs and Carlin Banks lighted the Bluebird candles as Mrs. Dale Jefferson, a third grade leader, gave the Bluebird wish. All the Bluebirds sang "Pretty Little Bluebird" and then sat down around their fires.

Girls who had flown up into Camp Fire recently were presented their fly-up patches and certificates. After the group singing of "The Camp Fire Law," Mrs. Tom Gerety, executive director of the Rogue council, presented the national awards. Five swimming awards were made and three year membership awards were given to seven girls. Five year memberships went to 15 girls and a ten year award was made to April Burnette. Candy sales patches were given to those girls that had not received them at a group ceremonial.

Following the song "Call of the Fire" and the giving of the Camp Fire credo by Eileen Young, Mrs. Gerety awarded the national ranks that had been earned throughout the year. Seven trailseeker ranks were presented and 20 girls received the woodgatherer rank.

The Bluebird candles were extinguished by Mrs. Galen Hackett, area leaders association chairman and mistress of ceremonies for the evening. The Wobelo extinguishing ceremony was given by Mary Seavey, Deanna Rapp and Christy Leer. The singing of "The Closing Song" and recessional to drumbeat concluded the program.

Those groups participating in the Grand Council fire were Merry, Melody and Merry Gay Bluebirds, To-Wan-Ka-Lu, Tandra, Ki-Wi-Pa-Su, Tami-Towan-Ka and Crater Lake Camp Fire Girls.

The Camp Fire Girl council is a member of the United Crusade of Medford and the Ashland-Talent United fund.

White Cross Circles of Baptist Church Announce Meetings

White Cross circles of the Women's Fellowship of the First Baptist church will meet Tuesday, May 22, at the homes of members. Those attending day circles are to take sack lunches, and all attending are to take scissors. Day circles will meet at 10:30 a.m. and the evening circle will meet at 7:30 p.m.

Lois, the evening circle will meet at the Eric de Place home, 1802 Poplar drive. Ruth day circle will meet with Mrs. George Allen, 1101 Huener la n.e., Jacksonville, circle chairman.

Rebecca circle will meet with Mrs. N. M. Anderson, 424 Fairmount street; Mrs. John Casad, 2670 Elliott avenue, will be hostess to Martha circle, of which she is chairman. Elizabeth circle will meet with circle chairman, Mrs. Don Lindstrom, 2793 Springbrook road; and Mrs. Gilbert Hill will entertain her circle, Esther, at her home on Foss road, Talent.

Girl Scouts Brownie Troop 89

Brownie Troop 89 will hold a fly-up ceremony Friday, May 25, at 6:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Gerald Dyzne, 1029 Alta street, Medford. The troop members will receive their fly-up wings and membership stars at that time.

In reviewing this year's activities, the troop will recall dressing a doll for a needy child in Medford, and will know that they made good on their Girl Scout promise. The troop's year-long project was the making and presentation of a puppet show entitled "Brownies Look Back Over the Golden Years." The puppet show was the only live show, by any Medford troop, to be presented at the Sports Fair. They also held parties at Christmas and Valentine's day, when they exchanged gifts.

As a troop the girls attended the Elks Circus in March, as a reward for their work throughout the year; at Easter they dyed eggs and had an Easter egg hunt for Brownie Troop 124, second graders at Jefferson school. It was held at the home of the leader, Mrs. Gordon Shelton. They also attended the egg hunt at Hawthorne park.

The girls entered a float in the Pear Blossom parade, with the theme of the "Old Woman Who Lived in a Shoe." The shoe float was made on a wagon, with one girl dressed as the "Old Woman," and the remainder dressed as the children; she chased her misbehaved 18 girls around the float the length of the parade.

Most of the troop members are planning on attending a seven day session of camping at Low Echo, Girl Scout established camp, during the summer, and will return to regular troop meetings in the fall as Girl Scouts.

Mrs. J. A. Mills is the leader and Mrs. Sally Lausmann is song leader. Mrs. Jack Miller is in charge of Brownie skates. Members of the troop

Stroganoff Adds Variation To Everyday Meals

Foreign cookery adds spice and variety to the daily family menu, and often calls for inexpensive cuts of meat as well. Beef Stroganoff is one distinctive way in which to prepare stew beef.

The recipe calls for two pounds beef for stew, cut in pieces one-half inch wide; six tablespoons flour; one and one-half teaspoons salt; one-quarter teaspoon pepper; three tablespoons lard or drippings; one cup chopped onion; one cup tomato juice; one can (four ounces) mushrooms; one and one-quarter cups liquid (water and liquid from mushrooms); two tablespoons flour; one-half cup water; one cup dairy sour cream; and cooked noodles, if desired.

Combine six tablespoons flour, salt and pepper. Dredge meat in seasoned flour. Brown in lard or drippings. Add onion and brown. Pour off drippings. Add tomato juice. Drain mushrooms, reserving liquid; add sufficient water to mushroom liquid to make one and one-half cups. Add liquid. Cover tightly and cook slowly for one and one-half hours. Add mushrooms. Mix together two tablespoons flour and one-half cup water. Add and cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Fold in sour cream and cook just until heated through. Serve over cooked noodles, if desired.

The recipe will make from six to eight servings.

Student Musician Awards Presented During Dinner

About 300 students, faculty members, parents and guests attended the annual awards dinner given by the instrumental music department of Medford High school Friday evening in the school cafeteria. I. A. Mirick, head of the department, was master of ceremonies.

John Drysdale of the department presented letters of appreciation to orchestra members and Mr. Mirick presented the band awards. These are based on a point system.

Seven students had won their master musician's keys. The keys were presented to Don Biegler, Lynn Peterson, Robert Heide, Richard Knights and Barbara Meyers of the band, and to Ronald Stockman and Miss Latham, orchestra.

Dr. Billy Blackstone of the Medford Kiwanis club announced the annual Kiwanis awards for outstanding students in music. They went to Joel Gregory, choir member; Miss Julie Latham, who has been concertmistress of the orchestra, and Richard Knights, band member.

Entertainment was provided by The Cochemen, made up of Wally Huffman, Mark Cochran and Jari Dyrud. One of the numbers the trio sang and played had been written by young Huffman. Mike Hoover was also on the program, giving a humorous talk. Dr. Leonard Mayfield, superintendent of the Medford public school system, spoke briefly.
